CAPTURE OF CITY OF PETROGRAD REPORTED

CONSUMERS URGED TO TESTIFY AT BOARD OF COMMERCE SESSIONS

Chairman Robson Will Sit in Winnipeg Tuesday; American Attorney-General and Assistants Enlist Aid of Women of United States

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—No representative of the consumers has as yet asked to be heard at the sessions of the Board of Commerce inquiry into the high cost of living here. "This is a pity," one of the officials of the Board observed. "There are consumers' leagues and associations organized all over the country and yet there has not been a move by any of them. They ought surely to let themselves be heard from, and that with a vengeance, as it is the consumer who in the end foots the bills."

The inquiry here will be resumed next Tuesday morning, when Commissioner H. A. Robson, chairman of the Board of Commerce, will receive several deputations, one of which will be from the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, W. R. Wood, of the Association, having asked for a hearing by the Commission.

Another deputation is expected to take up the question of sugar margins.

No representative of the consumers has as yet asked to be heard.

In States.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Attorney-General Palmer and his official associates in the attack on the high cost of living have decided to enlist the aid of the women of the United States.

By appealing to the comptrollers of household finances throughout the country, it is hoped to inaugurate an epoch of real economy which will offset the "buy now" propaganda of trades people.

Speakers.

Co-operation of the housewives has been the subject of extended conferences between H. E. Figg, of the Department of Justice, and Mrs. Edward P. Costigan, who offered the Government the full resources of the Consumers' League and the League of Women Voters in the campaign to take the inflation out of prices. As a result, speakers will soon be put in every state to carry the message that one way to beat the profiteers is to ignore propaganda saying that prices are certain to go higher and wait for the decline which officials say is inevitable.

Changes in Style.

An attempt will be made to discourage the frequent changes in styles directed by the makers of women's apparel, and thereby effect a saving in clothes.

Another important decision taken at yesterday's meeting was to release more surplus supplies held by the Government, if it can be done without embarrassment to the Departments involved. Secretaries Baker and Daniels and John Barton Payne, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, had been invited to the conference for the first time for that purpose. As Mr. Baker was unable to attend, the Attorney-General and Mr. Daniels will confer with him next week. Mr. Daniels reported that he had sugar enough to run the navy six months, but before he released any of it he wanted to be assured of ample replacements.

Building Materials.

Indicative of the broad scope which Mr. Palmer's efforts are taking was the request made of Chairman Payne to release any surplus building materials which he had on hand, especially lumber needed for home-building. The Shipping Board, it was learned, probably will need, however, all of the supplies which it has purchased.

Board of Commerce May Get its Eye on Cigarette Prices

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Cigarette smokers may yet take heart, for Major Duncan, local official of the Board of Commerce, will take up the attempt to boost the price of the cheaper grades of cigarettes from 15 to 18 cents and later to 20 cents. The local officer of the Board has written to the Retail Merchants' Association asking for its price and for an explanation of the order sent to the retailers by the Imperial Tobacco Company.

"Cigarettes," said Major Duncan, "are not a necessary of life and may not be dealt with by the Board of Commerce, but if there are instances of huge profits the Board might carefully consider this end of the matter."

Socialists Planned Outbreaks in Several Countries on Nov. 7

Berne, Oct. 18.—A Bolshevik courier has been arrested at the German frontier by the Swiss police. His luggage contained letters and documents from which it has been ascertained that the international Socialist organization is planning for November 7, the anniversary of the revolution in Russia, armed insurrections and manifestations in Germany, France, Italy, Austria and Switzerland for the establishment of proletariat dictatorships.

BATTLE AT POLLS IN ONTARIO MONDAY

Hearst Government Asking Re-election; Liberals and Farmers Opposing It

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Monday is expected to be one of the busiest general election days in the history of Ontario. With the liquor referendum, the women's vote and the activities of the returned soldiers and the farmers, it is anticipated that this general election day of 1919 will be made a memorable one in the history of the Province.

The campaign managers of the Conservatives, the Liberals and the United Farmers of Ontario all express satisfaction with the prospects for election day, though neither prominent Liberals nor United Farmers expect to obtain the election of sufficient members to oust the Conservative Government directly. They do hope for a combination Opposition and independent vote that will make the Government's tenure of office very short after election day.

A Forecast.

NEW YORK FACES FOOD SHORTAGE

Supplies Lie on Wharves While Longshoremen's Strike Continues

Coastwise and South American Ships Forced to Remain Idle

New York, Oct. 18.—The most serious food shortage in its history threatens this city to-day as a result of the unauthorized longshoremen's strike. Foodstuffs are piled high on the piers and Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator, said to-day that large quantities of fruit, vegetables and other perishable foods had decayed.

Coastwise steamships and vessels plying between New York and Central and South American ports are still tied up. Thousands of tons of sugar are waiting to be removed to refineries.

Notwithstanding persistent efforts of international officers to induce the men to return to work, only 5,000 of the 40,000 men involved are working, union leaders admitted. The largest union in the district last night voted to remain on strike.

DRAYTON AND KING BY ACCLAMATION

Minister Unopposed in Kingston; Liberal Leader May Have No Contest

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 18.—R. F. Elliott, ex-Mayor of Kingston, and chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, who was tendered the Liberal nomination in this city for the Dominion House, has withdrawn his name and will not run. This assures acclamation for Sir Henry L. Drayton on Monday, as Mr. Elliott was the last available man in the field.

Mackenzie King.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 18.—The Summerside Journal, Government organ for Prince County, says to-day that there probably will be no opposition to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal Leader for the House of Commons, on nomination day, next Monday.

Several Republics Ask For Recognition by Allied Powers

London, Oct. 18.—The Lettish Legation here announces that the representatives in Paris of Esthonia, Georgia, Kuban, Letvia, Lithuania, the Ukraine, Azerbaidjan and the North Caucasus have petitioned the Supreme Inter-Allied Council as follows: First, to recognize each of the above-mentioned republics as an independent state; and second, to begin immediately an examination of the territorial, financial, economic and other questions resulting from the fact of such recognition."

GERMANY MUST PROVE FAITH BEFORE AMBASSADORS SENT

Paris, Oct. 18.—The Allied nations have agreed to make their nominations of Ambassadors to Berlin dependent upon the manner in which the clauses of the treaty of peace are carried out by Germany, according to The Echo de Paris, which quotes a "prominent diplomat" as its source of information. Consuls will be named soon for German cities, the newspaper says, and those officials will look after the interests of their nationals until Ambassadors are chosen.

Madrid, Oct. 18.—King Alfonso has signed decrees suppressing the Spanish Embassies at Vienna and Petrograd and creating Legations at Warsaw, Vienna, Belgrade and Prague.

The Legations at Athens and Bucharest have been raised to the rank of Embassies.

Diplomatic representatives will be appointed for Hungary and Russia as soon as the situation in those countries becomes settled, and new consulates will be created in Germany.

Fisheries Pact Ottawa Commons For Vote of Approval

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The Secretary of State for External Affairs has given notice that he will introduce in the Commons on Monday a resolution of approval of the convention between Britain and the United States for the protection and propagation of the salmon fisheries of the Fraser River.

1,350 Prosecutions of Profiteers in the United Kingdom

London, Oct. 18.—Mr. McCurdy, M.P., of the Food Ministry, states that 1,600 profiteering tribunals already are working in the United Kingdom. Since the Anti-Profiteering Act was passed the Food Ministry has instituted 1,350 prosecutions and secured fines to the amount of $35,000.

ITALY AND JUGO-SLAVIA TO SETTLE THE FIUME PROBLEM

Paris, Oct. 18.—Decision to leave the settlement of the Fiume question to direct negotiations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia has been reached by the Peace Conference, according to The Excelsior.

Fiume, Oct. 18.—Disturbances are reported throughout Fiume and a large part of the business interests are understood to be going over to the support of Professor Zanella, leader of the Italian population of the city, because of a heavy levy having been laid upon the town by the forces of occupation.

Captain d'Annunzio has prohibited the sale in Fiume of The Corriere Della Serra, of Milan, because of the hostile attitude of the paper toward Fiume. The Milan newspaper has maintained a cold reserve toward d'Annunzio.

Lieut. Orlando, son of the former Premier, who is on the Fiume front as a volunteer, has challenged Signor Centurions, a supporter of Captain d'Annunzio, to fight a duel because the latter in addressing an audience in a theatre here, made a personal attack upon the older Orlando.

AIR MAIL SERVICE.

Madrid, Oct. 18.—A decree signed by King Alfonso establishes an aerial mail service.

AIRMAN MAYNARD WINS GREAT RACE

Aeroplane Pilot Lands at Mineola After Crossing States Twice

Mineola, N.Y., Oct. 18.—Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson," victor in the army's air race across the United States and return, the greatest aviation endurance test of history, landed here at 1.50 p.m.

Great Speed.

Lieut. Maynard flew the 142 miles of the last stage in his great flight at a speed of nearly two miles a minute.

Lieutenant Maynard's words after landing gave proof that neither his courage nor his nerve had been affected by the gruelling test to which he had been subjected. He declared with a smile that he would be off again within a few days in an attempt to make a one-stop trans-continental flight. The single stop would be made at Dallas, Texas, and the lieutenant said that he expected to make the attempt within the coming week.

A Dog.

The most joyous member of the party, at least as far as demonstration went, was Trixie, the Berlin police dog, who accompanied the flying parson and his sergeant as their mascot. Trixie's delight at finding the solid earth under her once more knew no bounds and she dashed around and around the plane joyously barking.

A FORMER ARMY OFFICER MURDERED

W. J. Deforge, Who Was Intelligence Officer at Winnipeg, Killed

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—W. J. Deforge, who was attached to the military intelligence department during the war, was found at 1.30 this morning outside 689 Maryland Street, shot through the heart, and it is believed he was murdered. He was twenty-five years of age and since severing his connection with the military had conducted a small confectionery store, near which his body was found.

Heard Shot.

Deforge left his store at 1 a. m. and walked toward home, accompanied by H. Scott, who stopped at his apartments, Deforge continuing on his way home. Mr. Scott states that he heard a shot just as he reached his room and hurried to the street, where he found Deforge lying on his face with a bullet wound through the heart.

The neighborhood was alarmed by the shot and hastened to the scene, but no one seems to have seen the murderer, who had every chance to escape, numerous lanes and alleys between the apartment blocks affording ample means of concealment.

Deforge leaves a widow and one son.

NOTICE POSTED AT PARIS STOCK EXCHANGE SAYS PETROGRAD IS IN HANDS OF GEN. YUDENITCH'S MEN

Helsingfors Dispatch Says Finnish General Staff Has Reported White Flag Was Hoisted Over Fortress of Kronstadt Last Night

Paris, Oct. 18.—The following notice was posted at the Stock Exchange here this afternoon:

"Official—Petrograd has been taken.

London, Oct. 18.—The white flag was hoisted over the Bolshevik fortress of Kronstadt on Friday night, according to a Helsingfors dispatch quoting a Finnish General Staff report.

Paris, Oct. 18.—The Peace Conference has received messages to the effect that the Northwestern Russian army of General Yudenitch was expected to take Petrograd within two days. It has no advices, however, regarding the reports that his army has actually entered Petrograd.

London, Oct. 18.—The War Office here to-day received confirmation of the news of the capture of Gatchina, twenty-five miles south of Petrograd, by the Northwestern Russian Army of General Yudenitch. The Bolsheviki were driven from the town yesterday.

In the centre of the advancing line official information is that the anti-Bolshevik forces on Thursday ushed forward to a point three or four miles below Luga, eighty miles south of Petrograd.

Stockholm Report.

London, Oct. 18.—Further reports from Scandinavian sources that Petrograd had been entered by forces of the Russian Northwestern Army were received here this afternoon. The Skanska Dagbladet, of Stockholm, according to a message from the Swedish capital, reported that the cavalry of that army had reached Petrograd.

Krasno Selo Taken.

London, Oct. 18.—General Yudenitch has captured Krasno Selo and Gatchina, south of Petrograd, where he met workingmen from the city who asked that the Northwestern Russian Army refrain from shelling Petrograd and pledging it this promise was given to join the anti-Bolsheviki, according to a Helsingfors dispatch received here.

MANGIN WILL GO TO BALTIC REGION

Allied Officers Will See That Goltz's Troops Are Withdrawn

Paris, Oct. 18.—General Mangin, French member of the Inter-Allied Commission to superintend evacuation of the Baltic states by the troops of the German General von der Goltz, will leave Paris immediately for the Baltic provinces, it was decided to-day by the Supreme Council. Representatives of the other great powers will follow in a few days.

Goltz's Plans.

Investigators who have recently been in the Baltic provinces have reported to the Peace Conference that General von der Goltz undoubtedly has plans prepared for an eastward movement if opportunity should offer and probably is ready to give Central Russia a new Government of German making. For this reason members of the Peace Conference are anxious that the demobilization of the forces of General von der Goltz shall be effected immediately lest his troops should move into Soviet Russia and greatly complicate affairs should the Lenine Government be overturned.

Uneasiness.

Paris, Oct. 18.—The Inter-Allied Military Mission to superintend the evacuation of the German forces of General von der Goltz will leave for the Baltic States within a few days, as there is great uneasiness in Paris over the Baltic situation, the continued menace from the presence of these troops in the Baltic region and the increasing possibility that Petrograd may soon change hands and thus put all northern Russia in the same unsettled state which prevails in the Baltic provinces.

An Opportunity.

This, it is feared, would afford a wonderful opportunity for a commander of the type of General von der Goltz, who has demonstrated unusual strength as a leader of guerilla warfare such as that now common in Northern Russia, and who had surrounded himself with a large number of fearless adventurers of a similar character. These might possibly show greater powers of organization in Soviet Russia than the Russian leaders who are now pressing on toward Petrograd and Moscow might turn the overthrow of Bolshevism into a decided German victory.

Government of New Zealand Will Use Compulsion For Loan

London, Oct. 18.—The New Zealand £10,000,000 Victory Loan is under-subscribed and compulsion will be resorted to to secure the balance.

TOWN AT MOUTH OF DUNA RETAKEN BY LETTISH TROOPS

Copenhagen, Oct. 18.—Premier Ulman of Letvia telegraphed to-day from Riga announcing that the Letts on Thursday afternoon recaptured Dunamunde, the port at the mouth of the Duna northwest of Riga, from the Germano-Russian forces. The capture was effected after fighting of the fiercest character.

The Letts also regained Bolderaa, south of Dunamunde, and reached Ilgezeen, on the other bank of the river. They took 500 prisoners.

Allied warships, the telegram reported, supported the Lettish attack. Prisoners taken by the Letts, it was added, declare that German troops are continually arriving in the Baltic region from Germany.

London, Oct. 18. — Forces of the Russian Soviet Government, according to latest advices, are still desperately defending the city of Petrograd, toward which anti-Bolshevik troops have been advancing since October 11. Confirmation of dispatches telling of the fall of the former Russian capital has not been received in official quarters here.

Over the whole situation around Petrograd there is considerable obscurity. There seems to be little doubt that the army commanded by General Yudenitch is within a comparatively short distance of the city, but the rapidity of its advance during the first days of the offensive does not seem to have been maintained. General Yudenitch, in his advance, has drawn his troops into a rough semi-circle from Krasnia Gorka, on the northwest, to Tsarskoe-Selo, which is almost due south of Petrograd.

Luga Region

Farther south the Yudenitch army is said to have reached a point near the city of Luga, eighty miles distant from Petrograd.

Reports have been received, however, that further advance has been held up along the railway line connecting Gatchina and Pskov, on which Luga is situated. Along this front severe fighting is said to be in progress.

Denikine's Troops

General Denikine appears to be advancing his left flank along the Dnieper Valley, taking Chernigoff and moving northward toward Gomel, where his Cossacks may join Polish forces and present a compact front to the Soviet armies. If this junction is made, the anti-Bolshevik lines from Petrograd to Orel, south of Moscow, would resemble a great horseshoe enclosing the Bolsheviki.

Personnel of Navy of Britain to Be Cut Down Greatly

Portsmouth, Eng., Oct. 18. — The personnel of the British navy will be greatly reduced when the United States ratifies the peace treaty, it is stated by The Evening News to-day on what is declares to be authoritative information. The number of marines, it declares, will be cut from 50,000 to 10,000.

It is reported, adds the newspaper, that it is the intention of the Government to close all overseas naval stations and bring home the ships abroad.

TREATY COMMISSIONS TO START WORK WITHOUT DELAY

Paris, Oct. 18.—The Supreme Council to-day adopted a resolution that delegates of the great powers may sit on the various Commissions created under the German peace treaty and may vote on questions before these Commissions whether or not their Governments have ratified the treaty. If the United States Senate does not object, it is said to be probable that American delegates will take the places assigned to the United States on such Commissions.

Germany is anxious to have the Commissions begin their work fully organized, it is declared, and is particularly desirous of American representation on them.

Signor Tittoni, the Italian Foreign Minister, sat with the Council to-day for the first time since his recent return from Rome. He had been ill for the last two days.

Republicans Balk

Washington, Oct. 18.—Republican leaders declared emphatically to-day that the Senate would not consent to participation by American representatives in the League of Nations or other international commissions until the peace treaty had been ratified by the Senate and specific laws enacted later by Congress authorizing representatives and providing for their expenses.

TOWN PLANNERS MEET IN OTTAWA

Conference of Canadian and American Associations Addressed by Rowell

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Describing the housing conditions and environments which thousands are compelled to live under in the larger cities as the great crime of the past, Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, in welcoming the members of the American City Planning Institute and the Town Planning Institute of Canada to Ottawa for their conference yesterday afternoon, urged upon them the necessity of striving during the present reconstruction period to bring about a new and better social order.

After a welcome to the delegates on behalf of the city by Mayor Fisher, the chair was taken by N. P. Lewis, of New York, president of the American Town Planning Institute.

Thomas Adams, chairman of the Canadian Town Planning Institute, referred to the debt which the Association in Canada owed to those in the United States who had started the work in which the Associations were now engaged.

A report on rules for the establishment of street widths and their subdivisions was read by B. A. Haldman, of Harrisburg, Pa., and was adopted.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—A delegation from Montreal Board of Trade is to interview the Government on Monday in opposition to the Grand Trunk acquisition scheme. Several communications protesting against the acquisition have also been received from Montreal business men.

AEROPLANE AIDED ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Worked For Votes For Liberals at Bowmanville, Ontario

Oshawa, Ont., Oct. 18.—An aeroplane announced the arrival at Bowmanville yesterday afternoon of H. H. Dewart, Liberal Leader in Ontario. Twenty minutes before he reached the town by train the plane circled over Bowmanville and let a flood of election cards loose. The plane itself had upon it in large letters: "Vote for Dewart."

Mr. Dewart was given a hearty reception. He repeated arguments used on several occasions during the present provincial general election campaign.

Mrs. Horace McPhedran, of Toronto, gave a brief address.

"Is it difficult for you in Durham County to understand why Mr. Atkinson, of The Toronto Daily Star, does not support Mr. Dewart?" she asked. "Did Mr. Rowell," she wondered, "enter the Union Government thinking, away back in his mind, that he might eventually be its leader, and is he now disgruntled because he is not, and then tries to knife Mr. Dewart?"

Prohibition.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—"We are going to have an overwhelming majority," said Dr. Grace, vice-president of the Prohobition Referendum Committee. "That is a certainty. It is not the case of the wish being father to the thought. I have the fullest reasons to know that we will gain a definite victory."

Ontario will vote on the liquor question on Monday next, when the provincial general election will take place.

In Churches.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Sunday promises to be a day of vigorous campaigning throughout the province of Ontario as a result of the active part many church organizations are taking in the Ontario Temperance Act referendum, which will be a direct issue for the people to decide at the polling booths on Monday, when they vote at the same time in the general election for the Ontario Legislature. The churches having adopted the referendum questions as a moral issue, a large number of the church services will be along that line. In addition there will be many public meetings also advocating the "four noes" on the referendum ballot, in the effort to "keep Ontario dry." The anti-prohibition leaders, particularly the branches of the Citizens' Liberty League, at various points also will carry on their campaign with several meetings tomorrow. Both sides to-day expressed the greatest confidence in their prospects of success.

In regard to the general election, the campaign will be practically closed to-night.

TUBERS AND ONIONS PUT IN INCINERATOR

No Continued Destruction Disclosed by Vancouver Witness, However

Vancouver, Oct. 18.—That potatoes and onions in large quantities had been destroyed in the Vancouver incinerator to his knowledge, and that quite an appreciable percentage of this food could and should have been saved before the commodities were dumped into the city blaze, was the evidence of Robert Oliver, a clerk in the incinerator office, who testified at the cost-of-living inquiry here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Oliver was called by the commissioner to set at rest the conflicting reports that have appeared from time to time since the Commission began its investigation regarding the destruction of edible supplies in the incinerator by local dealers. While there was no evidence offered by Mr. Oliver of continued destruction of foodstuffs, he admitted to Mr. Pattullo, who is conducting the Dominion Government's side of the investigation, that during the past three years he had known such things to happen.

Keeps Account.

Mr. Oliver stated to Mr. Pattullo that he kept books showing what produce had been put into the incinerator, and from his books had compiled some lists of loads which had been dumped. This, he explained, did not come within the scope of his duties, but was an idea formulated by himself and carried out as a useful adjunct to his work. He produced the lists for the inspection of the Commissioner and counsel.

He stated that the city uses one incinerator to burn up refuse, which consists chiefly of the city garbage. He described the method of bringing in refuse from the wholesale district, and stated that he himself looked over the contents of the wagons or trucks before they were destroyed. One item on the list was set forth as 5,200 pounds of onions, of which the witness was positive at least twenty per cent. could have been used.

"Does an instance of that kind happen very often?" asked Mr. Pattullo.

"No," replied the witness.

"Looking over these lists, can you find any other item?" asked counsel.

"I can't remember any other just at the time," answered the witness.

Would Report.

"If there appeared to be any wholesale destruction of food, what would you do?" asked Mr. Pattullo.

"I would report it at once to the civic authorities," said the witness, who proceeded to state that in the case of the 5,200 pounds of onions they had apparently never been sorted.

"What have you to say in regard to the charge that wholesalers destroy large quantities of food at the incinerator?" asked Mr. Pattullo.

"In most cases I thought the commodities might have been saved by proper precautions a few days before being brought down to the incinerator," replied the witness. "One instance was in July, when a carload, twenty-four tons, of unsorted potatoes came from the King Warehousing Company for burning. In my opinion they were the right size for seeding potatoes, and were even at that time fit for animal food."

GREAT DIRIGIBLE INVENTED IN ITALY

Rome, Oct. 18.—Celestine Usuelli, one of the pioneers of aviation in Italy, claims to have invented a new dirigible 380 yards long and 80 yards wide and provided with six motors of 500 horsepower each, with which he intends to fly from Rome to South America, stopping at Dakar, West Africa.

The dirigible, Signor Usuelli claims, is capable of transporting a weight of twenty tons, and can attain a speed of fifteen miles an hour with one motor, fifty-two miles an hour with two motors, and seventy-two miles an hour with all six motors working. Using one motor alone, it is said the dirigible can navigate six days and cover more than 5,000 miles.

Signor Usuelli asserts the dirigible is so constructed that it can float on water. He expects it will take six days to fly from Rome to South America.

IMMIGRATION FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM

The agents, who came from all parts of Britain, reported an active demand for information from women war workers. Mr. Smith hopes to dispatch the first party about the middle of November.

It also is stated that the Canadian Land Settlement Board, on arrival here next January, will have no difficulty in finding suitable farm workers.

THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD

159 Avenue Pius IX., Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions; but I did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured.

At this time, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so. After taking two boxes of "Fruit-a-tives," I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well.

My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to "Fruit-a-tives."

NO CONFESSIONS BY THREE MEN HANGED AT PRINCE ALBERT

Regina, Oct. 18.—Although the press was barred from the execution of Gervais, Carmel and St. Germain at Prince Albert yesterday morning, information reached this city from a thoroughly reliable source that the three men made no confessions of guilt. Gervais refused the consolation of the church, waving away the priest. As he walked to the scaffold he shouted: "I die for my country; the King of England stole Quebec."

GOLD DISCOVERY IN THE CARIBOO

Vancouver, Oct. 18.—Discoveries of gold on Grouse Creek, near Barkerville, have revived interest in that district of the Cariboo, according to J. L. Parker, mining engineer, who has just returned from a trip to that section of the province.

A gold lode, he says, extends in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction near Grouse Creek, and while the high lands and creeks of the district have been thoroughly prospected, the gulches near the lode have been overlooked. The explanation offered by experienced miners is that centuries ago the hills containing the lode, crumbled away and the residue was deposited in the adjoining gulches.

For ten years a prospector, E. E. Armstrong, worked on this theory, and his search was rewarded by the discovery of gold on Grouse Creek. There are two veins twenty feet in width, and the assays have averaged $12.00 a ton.

It is the big discovery of the year in the Cariboo country, and the citizens of Barkerville are so enthusiastic that they intend to petition the Government to divert the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel and Silver Creek to their own town.

BRANDON DOCTORS PUZZLED BY CASE

Brandon, Man., Oct. 18.—A puzzling case is interesting the doctors here. William Baker, the eleven-year-old son of a farmer at Brandon Hills, was shooting at a pigeon with a .22 rifle when the bullet struck a rock and entered the boy's body over the heart and left at the back. The doctors have the lad in the hospital, and can not tell if the bullet penetrated the lungs or went around under the skin, until an X-Ray photograph is developed. His condition is serious.

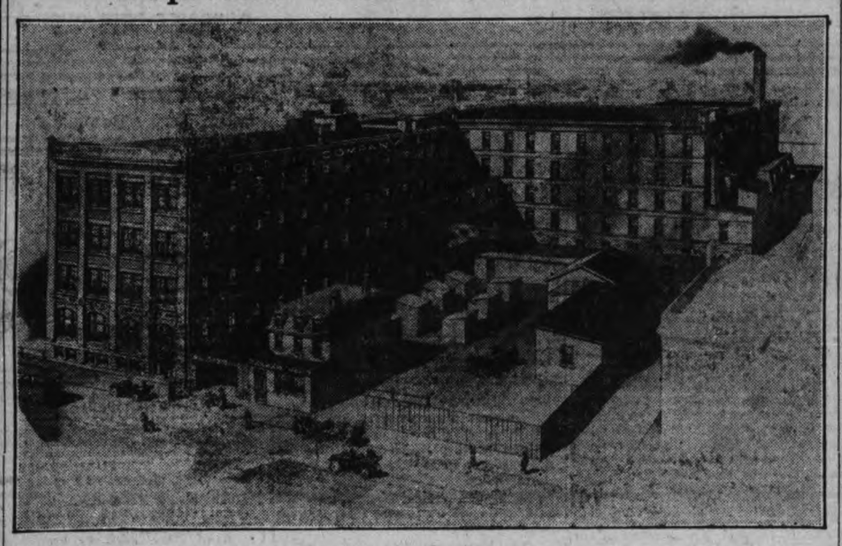
An Up-to-Date Factory and

BOECKH'S BRUSHES

Represent Constructive Perfection



THE art of brush-making has made rapid progress in recent years, principally due to the invention and development of automatic machinery. The story of this development is the history of The Boeckh Company, Ltd.

The business of The Boeckh Company, Ltd., was established in 1856, over 63 years ago—or five years before His Majesty the late King Edward visited Toronto as the Prince of Wales.

From the inception of the business the growth of The Boeckh Company, Ltd., has been steady and rapid. The small factory where most of the work was done by hand has given way to a huge modern electrically-driven plant where automatic machinery turns out the famous Boeckh Brushes and Brooms in enormous quantities.

The present modern plant has a floor space of over 40,000 square feet and a glance at the illustration above will prove to you that modernism stamps it in every detail.

Throughout The Boeckh factory are machines specially designed to make the different parts of Boeckh Brushes and Brooms in a manner which cannot be equalled by hand.

The ferrules for Paint and Varnish Brushes, which were formerly soldered with lead, are now made by machinery, which turns out these ferrules with a locked seam. The processes and equipment for turning out our celebrated "Steel Grip" Rubber Set Brushes are marvels of efficiency, and once the bristles are put in they are held in such a manner that "they cannot come out" under any circumstances. These brushes are fully and absolutely guaranteed by The Boeckh Company in every particular.

During the period of war this Company had contracts with the Department of Militia and Defence, the Department of Naval Service and the British War Office, and delivered to them approximately 2,000,000 brushes of different kinds. Boeckh's Brushes have won well deserved honors, diplomas and medals at Canadian and Foreign Exhibitions for superior quality and finish. From the Atlantic to the Pacific Boeckh's Brushes and Brooms are favorably known, used and appreciated.

When you buy a Boeckh Brush of any kind you obtain a superior article which lasts, and gives both service and satisfaction.

COAL CONFERENCE IN STATES FAILS

Washington, Oct. 18.—Failing after an all-day conference to avert a strike of nearly 500,000 bituminous coal miners in the United States, called for the very eve of winter, Secretary of Labor Wilson last night invited the miners and operators to send their full scale committees to Washington next Tuesday, when another effort to bring about peace in the industry will be made. Both sides accepted the invitation. They did not offer any great hope, however, for the representatives of the operators stood firm in their determination not to negotiate any demand for a six-hour day and not to deal with the union unless the strike set for November 1 is called off.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Worker of America, showed that he was laboring under a terrible strain when he left the meeting. Speaking to a group of reporters, he said he had told Secretary Wilson that the thirty-two members of his wage scale committee would be here Tuesday to meet an equal number from the other side, but that it would be useless to reconvene the joint interstate wage conference "unless the operators changed their stone-wall attitude" and indicated a willingness to frame another agreement.

CHURCH FORWARD MOVEMENT AT DUNCAN

Duncan, Oct. 18.—In an address in St. John's Hall here, the Ven. Archdeacon Heathcote, organizer of the Forward Movement of the Anglican Church in British Columbia and Alberta, presented before an enthusiastic audience a vision of a regenerated church 100 per cent. efficient with her membership filled with the loftiest ideals of citizenship patterned on the principles laid down by Jesus Christ.' Service and sacrifice would take the place of the selfishness which must be fought and conquered at home as well as abroad. The next fifteen or twenty years would see Canada settling order out of the chaotic conditions of to-day, and it would be the children being educated to-day who would decide what sort of a foundation would be laid in the reconstructed nation.

The plans made at the General Synod meeting in Toronto were explained and a committee consisting of Messrs. S. R. Kirkham, W. Greig and F. G. Smithson was chosen to act as a nucleus of a larger committee to organize the parish.

DEBT IS GROWING $1,500 A MINUTE

Canada's Obligations Growing, Says J. H. Sinclair, Debating Grand Trunk

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The House of Commons was not in a hurry to get along with the debate on the second reading of the Grand Trunk Bill yesterday afternoon. After listening to three speeches, the members decided to adjourn until Monday, when it is expected they will be more interested in the Ontario general election than in the procedure in the House.

One thing is certain, and that is that the taking of a division on the second reading will be deferred until the members who have been participating in the Ontario Provincial contest are back in the capital.

Debt.

J. H. Sinclair commenced the debate on the second reading yesterday afternoon. He was inclined to favor private ownership under public control. He thought the country was plunging into debt at a rate too fast to be healthy. The national debt, he said, was increasing at the rate of $1,500 a minutes.

H. H. Stevens, Vancouver devoted attention to the criticisms of Hon. W. S. Fielding who he accused of being the cause of failure of Government ownership in Canada. He asserted that the legislation before the House had been foreshadowed for some time past and there was no good reason why it should not be dealt with at the present session.

O. Turgeon Gloucester who spoke briefly and adjourned the debate, argued that if the government was going to take over the railways, the C.P.R. should be included in the list.

Prairie Provinces.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The following series of questions has been placed on the order paper of the Commons by John Campbell, of Nelson constituency, Manitoba:

1. Was any definite promise ever made by the Government or any member thereof to tranfer the natural resources of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to those provinces.

2. If so, was any condition attached to such promise which would affect other provinces by way of readjustment of subsidies or otherwise?

3. If such promise was made, is it the intention of the Government to carry out the terms thereof, and, if so, when?

4. If not, does the Government not think that it would be in the publice interest to make a definite statement to this effect and thus put an end to the uncertainty which at present exists?

5. Is the Government aware that proper development of the natural resources of these provinces is being seriously handicapped and retarded by delay in this connection.

Cocaine and Opium.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Following the adoption of a resolution, Mr. Rowell introduced in the House yesterday afternoon a bill to license import and exports of cocaine, opium and their preparations.

The bill is to continue in effect Orders-in-Council passed in May last under the War Measures Act. In recent years, Mr. Rowell said, the quantities of opium and cocaine imported into Canada had shown a marked increase. In view of that situation and in order to exercise greater control, the Orders-in-Council had been passed. The increase in importation, however, did not necessarily mean an increase in consumption in Canada. The object of importation into Canada had been largely to get the drugs smuggled across the international border into the United States.

Coal.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—With a view to creating a coal reservation in Northern Alberta, coal mining rights have been withdrawn in regard to a district near the junction of the Muskeg and Smoky Rivers. The Order-in-Council withdrawing mining rights states that a very large and valuable deposit of high grade coal on Dominion lands has been reported in the district, seventy miles from railway communication.

Mrs. Adlen says it came out so well she sent a piece to her tea hostess, who telephoned to know what she had done to make the cake so fine in texture.

AMERICAN SENATE AND PEACE TREATY

Washington, Oct. 18.—After a brief debate, and without the formality of a record vote, the Senate yesterday threw out two more amendments written into the peace treaty by the Foreign Relations Committee.

The two amendments had been introduced by Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, and had as their common purpose curtailment of the power of the American representative on the Reparations Commission, the international body set up by the treaty to fix and collect Germany's reparation bill. The vote came sooner than expected, the leaders agreeing to it as part of a plan to complete the consideration of amendments as soon as possible, so that the Senate might get down to the real work of drafting a ratification resolution. Only two of the Committee's forty-six amendments now remain to be considered, and it is hoped to bring them to a vote early next week. They relate to equalization of voting strength in the League of Nations.

U BOATS CAUGHT BY MINE BARRIER

New York, Oct. 18.—At least ten German submarines were destroyed by the barrier of 57,000 mines laid in the North Sea by the American Navy, Rear-Admiral Joseph Strauss said on his arrival here yesterday on the steamship Adriatic.

Admiral Strauss, who had charge of the work of sweeping these mines, said that 25,000 of them had been picked up intact.

MRS. MACDONALD FAHEY.

With the departure of Mrs. Macdonald Fahey for New York on Monday Victoria will suffer a distinct loss in the fullest sense of the term. Nor will the loss be confined to this city, for Mrs. Fahey has created an enviable reputation for herself throughout the whole of the West. Bountifully endowed by nature with a wonderful voice, a vivid personal charm, a striking stage presence, she has the attributes potential to fame in that wider world of music into which she is about to enter. A native daughter of British Columbia's capital city, Mrs. Fahey ever has been generous in the bestowal of her talents, lending them unstintingly to patriotic and philanthropic causes here and on the other side of the boundary.

Of her it can be said truly that she has been an asset to the community. Her place will be difficult to fill. The reception accorded to Mrs. Fahey at her farewell recital on Thursday evening proved conclusively that she is the happy possessor of a host of sincere friends. If their good wishes and those of her many other admirers in the western world could but be the "Open Sesame" to that treasure house known as Fame, then Mrs. Fahey already would be firmly established among the stars who grace the musical firmament.

REGISTER FOR CITY VOTE.

Whether it be by the exercise of municipal, provincial or national franchise there is no reform which cannot be brought about by an intelligent use of the ballot box. To censure a City Council and ignore the agency which determines its personnel is sheer folly and achieves no good purpose. If an improvement in the conduct of a city's affairs is necessary and really desired, the only way in which it can be brought about is by a demonstration on the part of the electorate itself at the annual civic elections. For instance, satisfaction with Victoria's aldermanic body may be best expressed by a vote next January sufficient to return it to office. Thus may the present policies be perpetuated. On the other hand, if the qualified voter is dissatisfied this remedy likewise lies in the ballot. Unless he or she is prepared, however, to exercise the duties of citizenship and to cast a vote for endorsation or condemnation he or she does not possesses the right of censure.

Municipal government, to be a success, must be conducted as an ordinary business for the simple reason that civic administration is merely a multiplicity of commercial enterprise. The idea that the individual vote does not count one way or the other is a convenient way to shelve the responsibility attaching to the franchise. Public apathy never solved a problem and until the spirit of the municipal electorate in Victoria is quickened into practical enthusiasm, typical of that invariably demonstrated by the non-voter, the shaping of public policies will rest upon the choice of the minority. For this reason we emphasize the necessity for every eligible person in the city of Victoria to get on the municipal voters' list. Less than two weeks remain in which to do it. Merely getting on the list, however, is not sufficient. Only by the use of the ballot box next January will it be possible to discharge this phase of the obligations of citizenship.

WHAT OF THE TECHNICAL SCHOOL?

Several days have elapsed since the City of Vancouver voted against the by-law to provide the money for British Columbia's first technical school under the provisions of the Federal Act. In the interval the City of New Westminster has endeavored to stir up sufficient interest among its citizens to take advantage of her sister city's verdict. Whether or not the Royal borough will be able to invoke its civic pride to support a by-law to the tune of about $200,000 remains to be seen. It should be in order to ask, however, whether the Capital City of the Province intends to rest on its oars while the advantages such an institution within its limits would bring are snatched by another locality. It occurs to us that unless either Victoria or New Westminster is disposed to get the school, as far as British Columbia is concerned, the long-deferred Technical Education Act, and the report of the Commission upon whose recommendations the legislation is based, will mean nothing.

WOODEN HOUSES THE SOLUTION.

Sir Charles Ruthen, a member of the council of the British Society of Architects, stated the other day that if the output of bricks were to be increased 250 per cent. it would be fifteen or twenty years before Britain's present shortage would be overtaken. At the present time, he declared, seven million people were improperly housed a fact, in face of the impossibility of producing bricks in anything like the requisite quantity, emphasizing the crying need for the immediate use of wood. To meet the situation Sir Charles declared that well over 200,000 houses would have to be erected each year for five years, demanding an annual output of bricks of five thousand millions. To secure this amount two and a half times the number of workmen engaged in this industry before the war would have to be found at once.

No better or more authoritative argument could be advanced in favor of a trial for British Columbia wooden houses. Agent-General Wade already unsuccessfully has approached the responsible authorities, pointing to the west for a solution to one of Britain's most pressing problems, a problem in which the health of the community is seriously involved. As we have argued before there is very little difference in climate between the Old Country and many parts of this Province where the life of the wooden house is not considered long at twenty years. Therefore, if the British authorities, charged with the administration of the elaborate housing schemes now under way, were to dispatch an expert to British Columbia there would soon be a change of front on the part of the officials who somewhat lightly disposed of British Columbia's proposal.

HENRY BRODRIBB IRVING.

In the passing of Henry Brodribb Irving the British stage has lost the last member of a notable family of actor-managers. Although educated for another walk of life it was small wonder that the career of a lawyer failed to hold a son of so distinguished an interpreter of dramatic art as all the world pronounced his father, the late Sir Henry Irving.

In the comparatively short period which brought Henry Irving, junior, to the summit of his art, it was at times difficult to forget that he was not the father himself. He possessed Sir Henry's mannerisms, his versatility; even his voice had that full rich tone which gave to his father a peculiar charm of its own.

The Irving family, perhaps, has no parallel. Seldom, if ever, may the dramatic fame of a father be handed down so completely to two sons. For it must be said that Laurence Irving—who lost his life when the ill-fated Empress of Ireland sank in the St. Lawrence—was of the school of his elder brother.

HOSPITAL FINANCES.

At the last session of the Provincial Legislature a very considerable amount of attention was given to a fairly lengthy debate on state health insurance. An agreement to institute an inquiry resulted from the pooling of many views on the subject and sooner or later some such policy will be determined by the march of events. As British Columbia becomes more settled certain difficulties which may be deemed sufficient to obstruct a scheme of state health insurance in all its detail at the present time will have become smoothed out automatically.

Periodically, however, the subject of hospital finance obtrudes itself and adds weight to the fact that the prevention and cure of disease is a national duty which must be discharged efficiently by one means or another. And in this connection it is doubtful whether the private and public subscription method ought ever to have been allowed to become the principal means of financing public institutions such as hospitals. Yet it is worth remarking that certain bodies gain pecuniarily, and on a large scale, by the services rendered to the community by the hospitals. We refer particularly to the accident insurance companies and we are under the impression that the curative establishments in British Columbia get but few, if any, direct contributions from these sources.

Obviously, the Government of this Province has a full docket of obligations to discharge with the meagre finances at its disposal. Therefore, as long as the public and private subscription method is in vogue hospitals should benefit occasionally by a leg up from the accident insurance companies.

NO GERMAN BRIDES.

Not a little apprehension has been felt over the prospect of a number of British soldiers taking unto themselves German wives during their sojourn in the occupied areas of the Rhineland. Considerable attention was attracted to a statement which was given prominence in a number of the London and Provincial dailies recently suggesting that international marriages were taking place by the score. It was alleged by a member of the army of occupation that he had seen twenty-three British soldiers lead German brides to the altar in Cologne Cathedral in one day. Following closely as it did upon a number of fanciful reports of a similar, if less ambitious, nature, General Sir William Robertson, Commander-in-Chief of the British Armies of Occupation, instituted an inquiry which effectively exploded this and other similar libels on the British soldier in Germany. Nor is it difficult to believe that the British Tommy would think twice before seeking an alliance calculated to estrange himself from his own kith and kin as well as to impose upon a bride a decade of social ostracism.

DEPARTMENT OF TOURISTS.

It is understood that the Publicity Trustees of the Vancouver Exhibition Board have prepared a petition directed to the Lieutenant-Governor, requesting the formation of a Department of Tourists, under the direction of a Minister. Supporting the petition are copious details setting out the advantages of tourist traffic in British Columbia with the statement also that this Province derived $2,500,000 from this source alone in the year 1918.

There is undoubtedly a larger field of effort to obtain the tourist for British Columbia than that afforded to the various agencies now doing yeoman service in this direction. Whether or not the time is ready to create a special department of the public service is a different matter. It occurs to us, however, that such preparations for the tourist as the completion of a trans-provincial highway, and the provision of a great many more recreative opportunities than those existing in the larger cities of the Province to-day, would be necessary before British Columbia goes into the business on a wholesale scale.

TELLS OF FORCES BEHIND BARNARD

C. T. Cross Deals With Opposition Faction; Those Sneers From Gallant Officer

The forces and personalities behind the candidature of Thomas A. Barnard and the platform of the Federated Labor Party, were exposed to the electors of Wards IV. and V. last night by C. T. Cross, who spoke at the Hon. S. F. Tolmie's meeting in the Moss Street School.

"The Federated Labor Party was formed not long ago," said Mr. Cross. "The first thing that it did was to pass the celebrated Calgary resolution. That resolution was absolutely Bolshevik. Returned soldiers protested and said that they could have nothing to do with the Federated Labor Party until it repudiated those resolutions:

"It is not a Labor Party. It is controlled by a holy trinity. One of these members was the editor of a weekly paper in this city which had to be suppressed during the war as being seditious. Another is a merchant who handles fruit and no merchant in town is a bigger profiteer than this man, who himself is so busy denouncing profiteering. The third of the trinity is a reverend gentleman. You have heard of what Frank Andrews had to say about him. You can imagine the pain Mr. Andrews must have had to suffer when he had to denounce his own minister.

Dangerous Association.

"Dr. Curry, the Vancouver dentist and Bolshevik, said things when he was here last week that showed the danger of having any truck with any party to which he belongs.

"On one side in this election campaign you have Dr. Tolmie, than whom no better appointment could have been made as Minister of Agriculture in the whole of Canada. On the other side you have a mixed party supposed to represent labor and returned men. One thing that Mr. Barnard represents is only the Federated labor Party and this holy trinity.

Major Burde's Sneers.

"Major Burde is a gallant gentleman who wears a Military Cross which he earned on the field of battle. One thing I want to say about him and that is the effect of environment on a man. Mr. Burde stood on the platform the other night and forgot that he was a gallant officer and made cheap sneering remarks about that gallant band of women who went down to cheer and greet every returned man as they came home and to welcome them whether they came in early in the morning or late at night. And when he made these sneering remarks, his audience burst out with a loud roar of laughter at these good women. It was a very cheap form of amusement and not at all an edifying spectacle to the people of this city."

Mr. Cross said that it would be unfortunate for Victoria to elect as its representative a member from the Mainland, such as Mr. Barnard, as whenever any issues arise between the Mainland and the Island, the Mainland man is bound to side in with the Mainland. He said he believed that no one would have had the audacity to have challenged the re-election of Hon. Dr. Tolmie. He pointed out that the Liberals had decided in the interests of Victoria not to put a candidate in the field.

NO FIXED WHEAT PRICE IN FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 18.—Representatives of farming interests conferred with the Minister of Agriculture to-day and asked that a minimum price be fixed for the wheat crop of 1920. It is understood that indications were given that there will be no price fixed for next year, it being said that the re-establishment of commercial liberty in cereals, particularly wheat, is most advantageous for agriculture.

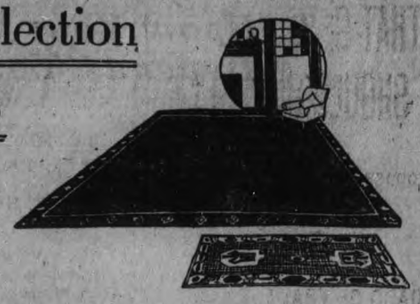
A Wonderful Selection of Carpets



Aside from the saving you can effect by purchasing carpets or rugs at this store, the very fact that you can make a selection from such an immense variety of patterns should influence you to come here for such furnishings. Indeed, it is no exaggeration to say that there are a very few stores in Canada to-day showing a more extensive variety of carpets and other floor coverings than do Weiler Bros., Ltd., of Victoria.

Wilton, Axminster and Brussels squares, in the best qualities and dyes, are the subject of a specially attractive display. Almost every size that one would care to purchase is obtainable—in dozens of exquisite patterns and shades. The less expensive squares and rugs are shown at prices that are as low as present conditions permit.

Curtain and Cover Materials

In conjunction with the Carpet Department of this store there is maintained a section devoted to the display of household draperies, etc. At present new importations of chintz, cretonne, fadeless casement fabrics and art tapestries are displayed.

GOVERNMENT STREET. OPPOSITE POST OFFICE

a lively campaign has been waged, will take place on Monday. There are 111 seats in the Legislature.

The Toronto Star, which is supporting the Hearst Government, says: "The Farmers are reasonably sure of getting twenty-five seats, and may do better, but the Dewart (Liberal) party, which had thirty members in the last Legislature, will do well to have twenty in the next House."

Dealing with the prospects in fifty-six well-seated ridings out of the 111, The Star says the Liberal Opposition probably will get only three out of this number, while the Hearst Government will get 32. The Star gives 11 of these seats to the United Farmers of Ontario and Independent Laborites, while it regards 10 seats as "very doubtful."

Sir William Hearst, the Premier, and H. H. Dewart, K.C., Leader of the official Opposition, will speak in their own ridings, Sault Ste. Marie and Southwest Toronto, respectively, and there will be many other eleventh-hour meetings of the candidates of all the various parties to give their final arguments.

TOWN AT MOUTH OF DUNA RETAKEN BY LETTISH TROOPS

Don Region

East of Orel and in the Don region the Bolsheviki are reported to be retreating all along the front. Denikine troops have crossed the Don over a front 200 miles in length, it is claimed.

Germano-Russian forces are said to be holding the left bank of the lower Aa River at Riga. Farther up the stream indecisive fighting is reported.

Bolshevik Ships.

Paris, Oct. 18.—One explanation of the reported capture of Kronstadt is that the British do not want the Bolsheviki to have assistance from the remnants of the Russian Baltic fleet, as such support might make General Yudenitch's further advance toward the east difficult and give General von der Goltz an excuse to support General Yudenitch and thus participate in the taking of Petrograd and the establishment of a new Government there.

The eagerness of the Entente to prevent Germany from having water communication with Bolshevi ports on the Baltic is explained by the fear that von der Goltz might be supplied in that manner with munitions, enabling him to carry out plans he is known to have for getting a foothold on Russian territory.

Blockade.

The blockade against Bolshevik Russia has really existed since July in definite form recognized by all the great powers except the United States. The only new feature of the recent notes to neutrals is that Germany also was asked to established a blockade of Bolshevik Russia.

The unwillingness of Germany to comply with this request is explained in some quarters as meaning that she wanted to help General von der Goltz and other German leaders who are keeping the Baltic states in turmoil.

Message From Goltz.

Berlin, Oct. 17.—Via London, Oct. 18.—The Vossische Zeitung's Koenigsburg, East Prussia correspondent, says the German General von der Goltz sent a message to the commander of German reserve corps which is now incorporated in the army of Colonel Avaloff-Bermondt, thanking it for its "heroic deeds before Riga and promising to do his utmost to care for the men."

VERY ESSENTIAL THAT G. W. V. A. SHOULD OWN HOME

Proposed That Patricia Hall Be Purchased For $40,000

BOARD OF TRADE IS IN HEARTY SYMPATHY

A deep impression was made on the Board of Trade at its quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon when Messrs. Hart and Purser, representing the G .W. V. A., laid the plans of that organization before the Board and asked for support in raising the sum of $40,000 with which to puchase the Patricia Hall to be used as the headquarters of the Great War Veterans' Association.

It was explained by the delegates that between $5,000 and $6,000 had already been raised, A. C. Flumerfelt had assisted in supplying temporarily by way of mortgage another $15,000, and with about $5,000 promised, there still remained $15,000 to be raised within the next thirty days to save the option which the Veterans had taken on the building. It was proposed to lump the whole sum required to put through the purchase and issue six per cent. bonds.

The Board heartily agreed with the sentiments expressed by Messrs. Hart and Purser and promptly appointed a committee to assist in every possible way in carrying the scheme through and in placing the bonds so that the Association may at once have a home of its own.

H. W. Hart first addressed the Board and said that there were 300,000 members of the G. W. V. A., whose principles were based on the foundation of patriotism and loyalty and the general interests of the Empire at large.

The housing scheme for the organization in the various cities of Canada was inaugurated with the idea of maintaining the feeling of comradeship and common interests which had impelled the men to go overseas. The speaker agreed with a remark made by President Axon, of the G. W. V. A., that there were many influences at work trying to undermine the returned soldiers, and it was exceedingly desirable and important that the orgaization should be kept together.

This could not be done, however, under existing circumstances. The organization had a small hall on Fort Street with accommodation for only about one hundred men. The membership was rapidly increasing and something would have to be done immediately if this organization which was working in the best interests of the country was to be kept together. At present a large number of the members did not come to the meetings because of the crowded conditions at the hall and the result was that they went about dissatisfied and got out of touch with the work the organization was trying to carry on.

Though Victoria was the cradle of the G. W. V. A. movement, it possesses the poorest organization headquarters in the Dominion and in ninety per cent. of the settled areas of Canada the G. W. V. A. was the only returned soldier organization.

Mr. Hart regretted that there were so many organizations in Victoria, the only city he knew of where there were so many, as he would like to see the greatest co-operation among all returned men, who were no longer soldiers but were citizens of the country and wished to give their best services as such.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LIZARD.

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Uncle Wiggily, do you think we'll have any fun, as we did yesterday, when the mole dug a tunnel for the boys and found my ring with his nose?" asked Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl, one morning.

"Well, you never can tell," spoke the bunny rabbit gentleman, as he hopped down the steps of his hollow stump bungalow. "We'll take a walk and see what happens."

Susie had come over to borrow a yeast cake of Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. But the muskrat lady housekeeper had none, so Susie said she'd go ask Mrs. Stubtail, the lady bear mother of Neddie and Beckie.

"I'll go with you," Uncle Wiggily had said. And so it was that Susie and the rabbit gentleman were in the woods together, going to borrow a yeast cake. That is, Susie wanted the yeast cake and Mr. Longears thought perhaps he might have an adventure.

On and on through the woods they hopped, and they were almost at Mrs. Stubtail's hollow tree house when Uncle Wiggily said:

"Stop a minute, Susie. I see some one in trouble."

"Is it another blind mole?" asked the little rabbit girl.

"No, it's a lizard," answered the bunny gentleman. "The poor chap is caught by one paw in this crack of the sassafras tree, and he's almost dead. He must have been hanging here some time. I'll take him down."

So Uncle Wiggily helped the lizard down from where he was hanging by one paw that was caught in the crack of a tree.

"Oh, thank you, Uncle Wiggily! Thank you!" said the lizard in a faint voice, for he was very weak from having been hanging there a long time. "You have done me a great favor, and I am going to watch my chance to do one for you."

"Pray do not mention it," spoke the rabbit gentleman with a low and polite bow of his tall, silk hat.

"I shall not forget!" promised the lizard, as he crawled slowly away.

"How can a lizard ever do you a favor?" asked Susie as she watched the little chap slink away. "He is even smaller than a mole."

"You never can tell," spoke the bunny. "This is a queer world." Then he and Susie went on to Mrs. Stubtail's house in the hollow tree. She had a yesterday's yeast cake, which Susie said would do very well, as her mother only wanted to make stale bread for stuffing a roast pumpkin. And then the rabbit girl and Uncle Wiggily started back through the woods again.

"I wonder if we'll meet the lizard?" spoke Susie. "Did'nt he have funny little claws? And didn't they tickle you when he shook paws with you, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Yes," answered the bunny. "They did tickle. But I did not mind. I'm glad I could help the poor lizard."

"I wonder if we'll meet him," went on Susie, and just then a gruff and most unpleasant voice answered:

"I don't know who you are talking about, but you are going to meet ME, and right away, too!"

And with that out from behind a mulberry bush popped the bad of blue-nosed babboon.

"Just in time, I am!" he gurgled. "I have two rabbits instead of one."

"Dear, me!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "You aren't going to take Susie, are you?"

"I am!" answered the blue-nosed babboon.

"Oh, don't!" begged the bunny. just take me. I know you want my souse, but let Susie's alone!"

"No! No!" shouted the bad chap. "Souse I want, souse I must have. And I'm going to have two dishes this time! Yum! Yum!" and he smacked his red lips and tried to twinkle his blue nose as Uncle Wiggily did his pink one, but it didn't do the same.

"Oh, dear!" sighed the little rabbit girl. "Is there no hope for us, Uncle Wiggily?"

"None, I fear," answered the bunny, "If only the lizzard were here now he might help."

"I don't believe he could," sadly said Susie.

The blue-nosed baboon grabbed her in one paw, and Uncle Wiggily in the other. He was just going to lead them off to his den when something happened.

All at once the bad chap let go of Susie and with the paw that had been holding the rabbit girl the blue-nosed babboon began scratching his ear.

"Ouch! Something tickles me!" he cried, as he scratched and scratched.

"Run Susie; run!" cried Uncle Wiggily, seeing that the baboon had let go of her.

And my! how Susie did run!

"Come back here," cried the Bab, as I call him for short. But did Susie come? She did not. And just then the unpleasant creature let go of Uncle Wiggily with his other paw and began scratching his second ear, for he had two.

"What tickles me? What tickles me?" cried the bad nose-baboon, but he could see nothing.

"Run, Uncle Wiggily; run!" suddenly cried a little voice. "Run away! I crawled up and ticked the baboon's ears to make him let you go. It was all I could do!" And then the dear little lizard, who had crawled up the baboon's back and tickled him, jumped off, caught hold of a tree branch and ran away before the bad chap could do anything.

Uncle Wiggily ran, of course, and he and Susie were soon safely home again. But this only goes to show, perhaps, some day even a trolley car may help you. And if the automobile doesn't run off the track and make the lollypop laugh so hard that it breaks its stick, will tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's birthday.

The pleasing little incident paid tribute to the popular pastor and his wife and revealed the high esteem in which they are held by a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. J. MacDonald Fahey, the popular soprano who is to leave on Monday for New York, was "at home" to her many friends yesterday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lugrin, 870 Esquimalt Road. Nearly two hundred friends and admirers of the well-known singer, including Lady Currie, Lady Barnard, Baroness d'Anethan and other prominent Victorians, attended to bid "au revoir" to Mrs. Fahey and personally extend their wishes for her future success. Mrs. Lugrin assisted her daughter in receiving. The hall was charmingly arranged with many floral gifts showered on the singer at her farewell recital on Thursday evening, while huge yellow chrysanthemums and dark crimson roses were used in the decoration of the drawing rooms. Tea was served in dining room the tables being attractively arranged with lighted candles in crystal stands, and centered with a lovely basket of pale pink roses and carnations—a beautiful floral tribute presented to Mrs. Fahey by her pupils at the B. Although the "at home" was scheduled for the hours of 4 till 6, many privileged friends called during the evening to add their quota of good wishes.

TOO LATE.

Mr. Johnson was wending his way home, after a tiring day house-hunting with no result. Passing along by a river he heard a splash. Horrors! There was a man struggling in the water. Could it be? Yes—it was his friend Mr. Robson. Disregarding his appeals for help, Johnson made a rush for Robson's house agent.

"Excuse me," he said, breathlessly, "but can I have Robson's house? He has fallen in the river and is drowning."

"Sorry," said the plaster-faced house merchant, "but you're too late. I've already let it to the man who pushed him in."—Tit-Bits.

POLICEMEN'S BALL TO BE GRAND EVENT

Start to Fix Up Agricultural Buildings For Season's Brilliant Function

Elaborate preparations are being made for the Victoria policemen's ball, which is to be held in the Agricultural Buildings on November 20. This week a number of men commenced to set the buildings in shape and for the next four weeks they will be busy. The decorations will be the most profuse and beautiful ever seen in this city.

The policemen plan to use the main hall for dancing. The cloak room and catering hall will be in the Women's Building and in order that people may pass from one to the other without feeling the cold the policemen are covering in the passageway and stringing numerous electric lights.

It is expected that there will be about 2,000 people at the ball. Prior to the war the policemen's affair was the social event of each season. In order that the great crowds could be accommodated the guardians of the law had to take the agricultural buildings and this year they believe they will have trouble in providing tickets for the huge numbers who are applying for them.

Dancing is to commence at 9 o'clock and will proceed until early the following morning. Prof. Lou Turner's orchestra of 25 piece has been engaged and this is sufficient to ensure excellent dance music.

Tickets are now on sale at the police station or from Constables Harper and Burnett.

COLUMBIA WOMEN MET YESTERDAY

Mrs. Belson, the president, was in the chair at the regular monthly meeting of the Diocesan Board of Columbia Women's Auxiliary held at St. Jude's, Obed Avenue, yesterday afternoon. The visitors were welcomed by Miss Cawley resident of the St. Jude's branch. Opening prayers were read by Rev. W. L. Knight and at the afternoon session by Mrs. Schofield. A letter from the Lord Bishop of the Diocese asking for the support of the board towards the Oriental board assessment of $508 from the whole diocese was read and the sum of $140 was voted from funds in hand for that purpose.

Various reports included that of Miss Turner on the girls' work and others on work at the Indian missions at Alert Bay and Dawson. In the afternoon Mrs. Schofield presented a life membership on the Diocesan Board to Mrs. Carmichael, who has been for many years a devoted worker of the St. Michael's, Royal Oak, branch.

A resolution was brought in by Miss Turner and carried unanimously to the effect that the quarterly evening meetings be discontinued and that the November meeting take the form of a semi-annual at which branch reports will be a special feature.

The proposal to hold the monthly board meeting at one central place was voted down by a majority of the branches and the itinerating plan will therefore be continued.

Two very interesting reports were read by the secretary for junior branches. Mrs. John Harvey, both the St. Michael's, Royal Oak, and the interest in their work.

The next meeting of the board will be held on Friday, November 21, at St. Paul's, Esquimalt.

FORMER BRITISH MEMBER TO SPEAK

Both Parties Hold Campaign Meetings To-night; Pastors Are Busy

The Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, will take the platform again to-night in his election campaign. Assisted by J. C. McIntosh, M. P.; W. G. Gaunce and Alderman Sargent, he will speak at the Unionist headquarters, in the old Dixi Ross Store, 1317 Government Street, at 8 o'clock.

Tom Richardson, former labor member of Parliament in the British House of Commons, now living in Vancouver, will be the feature of the meeting of Thomas A. Barnard, the labor candidate at the Crystal Theatre meeting to-night. The Rev. Wm. Stevenson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, who has been attacked by Frank Andrews, High School teacher and former member of his congregation, as a Bolshevik troublemaker, will defend his cause. Mr. Barnard will speaking during the evening.

A New Edison musical concert of operatic and other stirring music will commence at 7.30 o'clock.

The Rev. W. R. Thompson, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, Victoria West, who has come out in sympathy with Mr. Barnard and the Federated Labor Party, will not appear on the public platform during the campaign as will the Rev. William Stevenson, the Rev. Robert Connell and the Rev. W. D. Spence, he announced to-day. He is carrying on quiet work for the cause which he considers more effective than appearing publicly with the other Barnard speakers.

CAN BUY BONDS BY PAYING TEN PER CENT

Victory Loan Backed by Returned Soldiers; Chinese to Invest

Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, C. M. G., D. S. O., M. C., director of the Victory Loan campaign on Vancouver Island, was working to-day to complete the plans whereby anybody will be enabled to buy Victory Bonds in the drive which opens a week from Monday, by paying down only ten per cent. of the amount of the bond.

Arrangements have been made with the banks whereby they will lend up to ninety per cent. of the amount of the bond to purchasers. The money will be loaned by the banks at 5½ per cent., the same rate of interest that the bonds draw. This means that the purchaser will receive 5½ per cent. interest on the amount that he pays down and the loan of money from the bank to cover the rest of the bond will cost him nothing.

Advertising stunts for this drive are to surpass anything attempted during the last loap. Plans are being completed for a feature on the vacant lot at Fort and Government Street, which is roughly along the lines of the dug-out that attracted so much interest during the last campaign.

This dug-out is to be in charge of returned soldiers.

Returned soldier organizations have informed the General that they will support the loan to the limit of their ability, and that subscriptions from their members will be taken at their own headquarters.

The Chinese of Victoria are being lined up behind the loan by H. Hastings, Lee Mong Kow and Chan Shu Yen. Preliminary reports are that the Chinese residents consider the loan the best investment possible, as it has for backing the whole of Canada.

The Up-Island campaign has been organized by Fred. M. McGregor with Major Wendell Shaw as his chief assistant.

SAY ROORBACK IS NOT OFFICIAL OUTPUT OF PARTY

Labor Campaign Managers Denounce Document Which Reflects on Dr. Tolmie

Vigorous denials that a sensational election roorback, being distributed throughout the city, is an official output from the Federated Labor Party on behalf of their candidate, Thomas A. Barnard, were issued to-day from the Barnard campaign headquarters.

This roorback attacks the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, but, it is said, does it in such a clumsy way that it reflects on members of the labor party. It is said to be libelous.

To-day the Barnard managers offered a reward of $50 for anyone who catches persons distributing the document.

The document was first made public last night by F. St. Clair Dickinson, who had a copy given to him. The document was marked confidential. Mr. Dickinson took it direct to the labor leaders and asked them if they sanctioned it. The names of E. W. Ellis and Mrs. Nellie Litchfield were signed to the document. Mr. Ellis is campaign manager for Mr. Barnard, while Mrs. Litchfield is one of the campaign workers of the party.

Anxious to Prosecute.

Both Mr. Ellis and Mrs. Litchfield emphatically denied issuing the document and asserted that it was not officially issued by the labor party. The two, after a consultation with Mr. Dickinson took the document on the platform at the Crystal Theatre meeting last night and gave a categorical denial to it. They both publicly denounced it in very strong language and then arranged to offer a reward for the information leading to the discovery of the persons who are circulating it.

The document is mimeographed and is quite extensive in its insinuations.

It was admitted to-day by labor men that although the document is not an official output of the party, it may have been put out by private members of the organization who are disgruntled. Mr. Ellis said to-day that he would prosecute any members of the party who were putting out such roorbacks, because such extreme documents reacted on the party.

The document was taken to police headquarters to-day and detectives started out on a search of the city to discover the men responsible and the plant which is turning the things out.

One Man Apprehended.

Large numbers of these roorbacks were distributed during the night, the labor managers said to-day. They said that they were investigating a certain office on Government Street where a large number of foreigners were observed to be mysteriously busy about something yesterday afternoon and evening.

One man was apprehended distributing the roorback early to-day. He was making his rounds in a large touring car. Mrs. Litchfield, of 733 Pembroke Street, went to her front door at 7.20 this morning just as this man was tucking one of them under the sill. As she opened the door the man picked up the document and started down the steps. Mrs. Litchfield had a large pail of water at the time and before the man could get down the steps she doused this over his head. He jumped in the motor car, which immediately dashed off at high speed. She was not able to get the number of the car. Before the man jumped down the steps he picked up the document and put it in his pocket.

At the headquarters of the Unionists, nothing is known of the roorback.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of high water as above given.

GENERAL REFUTES BARNARD CHARGES

Says He Had Nothing to Do With Refusal of Speaking Permission

Major-General R. G. Edwards Leckie, commanding Military District No. 11, to-day replied to charges made against him on Thursday night by Thomas A. Barnard, Labor candidate, at his Gosworth Road Methodist Hall meeting.

Mr. Barnard charged General Leckie with being partial to the Unionist Government and prevented Capt. Whittaker, of Vancouver, who is still in uniform, from coming to Victoria to speak on the Labor platform. He also declared that General Leckie had given him permission to speak in uniform on Unionist platforms during the last election.

"I have never taken any part in politics in British Codumbia, particularly since I became G. O. C. of the military district," states General Leckie. "Mr. Barnard says that I refused Capt. Whittaker permission to speak on the Labor platform. Capt. Whittaker never asked me permission to speak on his platform. If permission was refused it probably was done by the C. O. of Capt. Whittaker's own corps.

"Mr. Barnard said that I gave him permission to speak in uniform during the last election campaign for the Unionists and that with that permission he spoke thirty-four times on Unionist platforms. I was never aware that Mr. Barnard spoke on the Unionist platform and if he did it was irrespective of whatever side he spoke on or cause he advocated."

TO TAKE UP BRIDGE QUESTION ONCE MORE

After Consultation With C.P.R. Officials Mayor Will Call Meeting

The Johnson Street Bridge question is about to be resurrected by the City Council. Having interviewed Grant Hall, vice-president of the C. P. R. on the question, Mayor Porter will call a meeting of aldermen sometime next week to deliberate further on the subject and, if possible, suggest a remedy for the deadlock which exists at present.

The difficulty now is the question of rights on the proposed bridge The C. P. R. desire a clause in the agreement regarding the bridge regulations prohibiting any company, save the B. C. Electric and itself hauling freight cars across the viaduct. To this the City cannot agree. As neither side of the controversey is willing to retract from its stand the outlook, for the present at least, is not encouraging to the civic authorities.

During his trip to the East, Mayor Porter brought the matter before Grant Hall, who said he would consult with President Beatty. Mr. Hall appeared anxious that some settlement be achieved, but he was not willing to abandon his stand regarding rights on the bridge. Mr. Hall later consulted with Mr. Beatty and the result of their conference was a telegram to the Mayor. This message asked the civic authorities to suggest any amendment to the clause in the agreement which would give the C. P. R. and the B. C. Electric exclusive railway rights over the bridge. While it seems to the Mayor that the principle at stake is clear cut and must be decided one way or the other, he is hopeful that the willingness of the C. P. R. to consider the matter further will result in a final settlement.

"What do you think about my engagement to Harold?" asked Gwendolyn.

"I think," replied her father, "that I am getting to be the senatorial branch of this family. My advice and consent are considered only when it's too late for them to make any difference."

BONDS ARE SMALL PART OF NATIONAL WEALTH

Security Behind Canada's Public Issues Totals Twenty Billions.

Every country in the world, neutral or belligerent in the war, has great debt problems to face. None can afford to face them so cheerfully as Canada because no country holds such a strong position. Our wealth proportionately is even greater than that of the United States, for it totals twenty billions.

Every cent of this twenty billions is security for Dominion of Canada bonds; a Victory bond is as safe as a bank note and much more profitable.

If you could buy a first mortgage on a house at 8.5 of the house's value, you would certainly consider you had ample security. The national debt of the country at June 30, was only 8.5 of its national wealth, that is wealth in buildings, farms, railways, factories, mines, etc.

This public debt is a first charge against our wealth, for both interest and principal can be raised under plenary taxation powers.

Before a cent of private and public money can be diverted to these uses, the interest must be paid and Victory bonds met at maturity.

It is because there is such a wide spread between our total national wealth and the debt of Canada, because we are doing a very extensive trade and making money, that Canadian Victory Bonds sell at better than par. No other country is in the sound financial position of Canada; no other country has such security behind its loans.

"END YOUR RHEUMATISM

Like I Did Mine"—Says Pastor Reed—Wife Also Rid of Neuritis.

Says "Don't Believe That Old Humbug About 'Uric Acid' Being the Cause of Rheumatism—It's Not So!"

Suffered Tortures for Years—Now Telling Good News to Others.

Emphatically asserting that thousands of unfortunate sufferers have been led into taking wrong treatments under the old and false belief that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism, Pastor H. W. Reed says:

"As do some of our highest medical authorities, I now know that 'Uric Acid' never did and never will cause rheumatism. But it took me many years to find out this truth. I learned how to get rid of my rheumatism and recover my health and strength through reading 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism,' a work written by an authority who has scientifically studied the cause and treatment of rheumatism for over twenty years. It was indeed a veritable revelation!

"I had suffered agony for years from rheumatism and associated disorders, and Mrs. Reed was tortured with the demon neuritis almost beyond endurance. We had read and talked so much about 'Uric Acid' that our minds seemed poisoned. But the 'Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' made it all clear to us, and now we are both free from suffering and misery we endured so many years. I believe I was the hardest man in the world to convert! For me to discard the old 'Uric Acid' theory, and what I know now to be absolutely false, for the new, scientific understanding of the cause and cure of rheumatism, was like asking me to change my religious beliefs! But I did change, and it was a fortunate day for me and mine when I did so."

NOTE:—The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism referred to above by Pastor Reed lays bare facts about rheumatism and its associated disorders overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past. It is a work that should be in the hands of every man or woman who has the slightest symptoms of rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago or gout. Anyone who sends name and address to H. P. Clearwater, 229, G Street, Hallowell, Maine, will receive it by mail, postage paid, and absolutely free. Send now, lest you forget the address! If not a sufferer, cut out this explanation and hand it to some afflicted friends.

"J" UNIT CHAPTER, I.O.D.E., VERY ACTIVE

The regular meeting of "J" Unit Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held on Tuesday, October 14. Owing to the absence of Mrs. Bolt, no treasurer's report was given.

Among the correspondence were letters from Mrs. McMicking and Mrs. Miller, thanking the chapter for their expressions of sympathy. There was also a letter from Resthaven, asking that the members arrange a visit out there. It was unanimously decided to go and arrangements were made for tally-hos to convey the party.

Mrs. Chrow gave the Echoes report and in response to her appeal, five dollars was voted toward the memorial to Mrs. Fleming and the same sum to the Girls' Club. The attention of the members was called to the correct way of wearing the I. O. D. E. badge and also to the fact that all Daughters of the Empire must stand at attention while the National Anthem is being sung. Volunteers were asked for to assist in the Navy League tag day on Trafalgar Day, and a number of members responded.

The educational report was given by Miss Duncan, the suggestion being made that each chapter present the picture of the Prince of Wales to a city school. A motion was made and carried that "J" Unit Chapter present a picture to Oaklands School.

Mrs. James reported that two soldiers' funerals had been attended, and that the chapter's flag was at present on the casket of a third deceased soldier. The seven graves allotted to the chapter were all being attended to, being supplied with fresh flowers. The sum of twenty-three dollars was voted to Mrs. Landy to pay for her son's grave.

The report of the visiting committee was given by Mrs. Harlock, who said that five visits had been paid to the Jubilee Hospital, when sugar, cigarettes, chocolates and reading matter had been taken to the soldiers there.

Mrs. Hutchison announced that Mr. Turner's eight-piece orchestra had been engaged for the cabaret on November 5, and that the tickets were on order. Arrangements were made that Mrs. North should take charge of the reservation of tables, and anyone wishing to reserve their table could do so by phoning 4311R.

A motion was passed that the Comrades of the Great War be heartily thanked for the use of tablecloths at the dance given by the chapter on October 10. The returns for the dance were not complete, but a sum well over $100 had been cleared.

Allowed to Go—Charged with vagrancy, E. R. Fraser was allowed to go by Magistrate Jay in the police court this morning.

The Famine is almost at an end

Eno's soon to be had in pre-war supply

THE unavoidable shortage of the raw products from which Eno's is made, plus the tremendous demands pouring into our factory from all parts of the globe, caused a shortage in our regular supplies for Canada—and for some months we were not able to ship to this country.

We regret the great inconvenience caused to the many adherents of Eno's, but announce that soon shipments of Eno's will be regular and plenty.

It was not only the actual famine in Eno's that caused inconvenience, but also the fact that many people were forced to try unsatisfactory substitutes.

There is not any substitute for Eno's. There are "salines" and "health salts" and "fruit salines" and other masqueraders, but there is only one genuine Fruit Salt. It was formulated fifty years ago by Mr. J. C. Eno, and has been the world's great aperient ever since.

MR. BARNARD SPEAKS IN VICTORIA WEST

T. A. Barnard, Labor candidate at the coming election, addressed an audience in Semple's Hall, Victoria West, last night and repeated his challenge to Dr. Tolmie and his supporters to come out on a public platform and debate th various election issues. Mr. Barnard said that he had nothing against Dr. Tolmie personally and admitted that the character of his opponent was above reproach. The Doctor, however, was being used as a smoke screen by a discredited Government which was sliding to financial chaos. Referring to the question of pensions Mr. Barnard asserted that the difference between the pension given a colonel and a private constituted class distinction.

R. G. Duggan also spoke at the meeting. He alleged inequality in the Pensions Act, and mentioned that no gratuity had been given to the widow of a soldier.

LIEUT.-COL. WINSBY AGAIN HEADS FIFTH

Old Regiment Is to Give Smoker to General Sir Arthur Currie

Lieut.-Col. Winsby, back from overseas, has again taken over the command of the Fifth Regiment of this city. He was in command of this unit before he went to France with the 47th Battalion in 1915. The announcement was made to-day following a committee meeting of the Fifth last night.

It was decided to give a smoker at the Alexandra Club on Monday, October 27, to General Sir Arthur Currie, former commander of the Fifth. Gen. Currie started his military career as a gunner in the ranks of the Fifth.

This smoker is being given at the request of the General who wants to again meet the old members of the unit.

"I want one of those good, real, old-time smokers," he said.

Invitations for the smoker will be available from the committee or the new Drill Hall. A programme is being arranged. To prepare for this a general meeting of the regiment has been called for next Wednesday, October 22, at the new Drill Hall.

FRANCE RESURGENT

--Better Off Than Ever in Minerals

By Maurice Casenave in The New York Times.

FACTS ABOUT FRANCE.

Killed in war, 1,500,000 men; crippled so as to be useless for work, 350,000.

Water power about to be developed, estimated at 8,000,000 horse power.

Expects to export 21,000,000 tons of iron ore annually.

Expects to export 500,000 tons of pig iron over her own needs.

Country had 11,000,000 small landholders.

Output of textile spindles to be 105,000 tons annually.

Colonial empire greater than area of United States, including Alaska, the Philippines, Porto Rico and other possessions.

Had restored already 588 bridges and tunnels destroyed during the war, 700 kilometres of canals and canalized rivers and 1,100 kilometers of roads.

Before the war a legend had spread all over the world about the French people. Even their best friends believed them to be self-conceited, vain, light, even corrupt, and so fond of pleasure that it was impossible for them to bear hardship. At the same time they got credit for intelligence and artistic appreciation. Five years ago this legend was destroyed by the victory of the Marne, and France owes much to the great Marshal Joffre for having killed the legend and beaten the German Army.

Now that the war is over, now that the victory is won, another legend is spreading. It is not the legend of French frivolity, of French corruption, it is the legend which represents France as so debilitated by her suffering, so weakened by her losses, so overcome by the burden of her debts, that she never will be able to recover, that she has not even the energy to go to work again, that she is annihilated forever, and that all the money so generously lent to her by America is lost. This is the new legend which I will try to destroy because it is most decidedly a piece of the German propaganda which has to be fought in the open and which has to be proved false.

Even during the war the French Government, sharing the hope of the people in ultimate victory, had intrusted a committee composed of leading men in finance, commerce and industry with the study of the means to be employed for the development of French commerce and industry after the war. The French Parliament passed a law regarding the "reparation of the damages of the war." Recently a committee of reconstruction of the devastated regions was established to secure the co-operation of the Government and of private initiative in this immense enterprise. Most committees which are at work at present have published interesting reports on what France is going to do and has already done in the way of reconstruction.

Her Loss in Man Power.

The losses in human lives suffered by France are well known. About 1,500,000 men had been killed and about 350,000 had been crippled and put permanently out of work. These losses are made so much more serious because of the fact that they are depriving the country of men mostly between the ages of twenty and forty, the age when men are most useful in every kind of work, and when they are most important for the perpetuation of the race. During the war the shortage of hands caused by the mobilization had to be made up by the introduction of foreign (European) and Asiatic labor, but obviously this measure could be taken only as a transitory expedient acceptable during war times.

Now that peace has been restored we must go back to methods which cannot imperil the integrity of our race nor lower the standard of life for French working men. That means that we have to provide for a more thorough efficiency by the better distribution of human activity, a generalized use of modern machinery, specialization of labor and by the standardization of production. The French Department of Commerce has constituted a permanent Committee for Standardization and another Committee for the Unification of Specifications. These boards will investigate commercial developments, the celerity and cheapness of production, and the necessity of maintaining the reputation of French goods.

Cheap motive power is what is most necessary. Before the war France was suffering a deficit of nearly 25,000,000 tons of coal, and this deficit is now greater in consequence of the destruction of mines by the Germans. It is just that Germany should make up part of this deficit, but France has already begun to develop the use of poorer fuel such as lignites, which are abundant in the southeastern part of the country. France is also on the point of developing the water power of the country, which is estimated as of 8,000,000 horse power. Before the war only 750,000 horse power had been used and $180,000,000 had been expended in providing the equipment. About 625,000 horse power has been added for the service of manufacturing, and it is anticipated that in 1921 1,600,000 horse power will be used. The capital invested will then be about $300,000,000. The French Regional Banks have provided the capital.

Will Export Iron.

The prospects of metallurgical industry in France are encouraging. In 1913 the output of French iron mines, including those of Algeria and Tunis, amounted to 23,000,000 tons of iron ore of which about 10,000,000 tons were exported. If we now add to that amount 21,000,000, the output of the Lorraine mines, France would be able to export over 21,000,000 tons of iron ore per annum. Before the war, France was consuming the whole amount of her pig iron output, a little over 5,000,000 tons. The production will soon reach 9,600,000 tons, leaving an excess of 1,500,000 tons for exportation. The production of steel before the war was about 5,000,000 tons. It will now attain to about 7,500,000 tons with 1,000,000 tons to be exported. By the recovery of Alsace, France possesses very extensive potash fields, and these combined with the important phosphate deposits in Algeria and Tunis, will permit the resumption of French agricultural industry. All foreign nations must desire the restoration of agriculture in France. She has 11,000,000 landed proprietors, mostly small farmers and peasants. The welfare of these people is the best protection against the spread of Bolshevism.

French textile industries were progressing greatly in the ten years previous to the outbreak of hostilities. In 1913 2,600,000 spindles were producing 89,000 tons of woolen yarns, of which 75,000 tons were used in France. During the war 100,000 new spindles were put into operation, but, of course, many woolen factories in the invaded territory were lost. 10,000 spindles are in use in Alsace, and as soon as the mills in northern France can be put in order they will have an output of 105,000 tons. The prospects of the cotton industry in France would be encouraging if we did not have to buy cotton from foreign countries. The present conditions of exchange are discouraging. It would be wise of the cotton dealers in the United States to extend credits to our buyers.

Many people in this country ignore the fact that France possesses a colonial empire which is larger than the whole area of the United States, including Alaska, the Philippines, Porto Rico, and other possessions, rich in agricultural and mineral wealth, and a population of more than 50,000,000 men, nearly all hard workers, and who have shown their loyalty to the mother country by fighting for her in the war. My optimism for the future of France is not based merely on sentiment; it is based on figures.

Railway Situation.

One of the great French military chiefs spoke of the conflict as a "war of transportation." When the armistice was declared 2,246 kilometres of railways had to be re-established, and of these 2,016 have been put in order. Only forty-six stations and depots are closed; 1,160 bridges, tunnels, etc., had to be rebuilt and 588 of them are in normal condition at present. More that 1,000 kilometres of canals and canalized rivers yere severely damaged. Of these 700 have been restored. In the month of July this year 1,100 kilometers of roads were repaired, 65,000 tons or different materials being used in the work of reparation.

The total surface of France invaded was about 7,000,000 acres, of which about 3,000,000 acres had been devoted to agriculture. About 700,000 acres have been plowed once more after they had been cleared of barbed wire and shells and trenches filled up. France lost 200,000 horses and cattle, two-thirds of which have been replaced; 362,000 agricultural implements have been destroyed and 206,000 substituted; 104,000 vehicles and rolling machines have disappeared and they have been replaced by 16,000 tractors and motors. Of the 550,000 houses and buildings destroyed, 229 factories have been rebuilt, 80,000 of them repaired, 16,225 huts completed, and 60,000 huts (portable houses) are being established, giving shelter to 900,000 men, women, and children, who came back in 3,872 towns or villages in which municipal life has been re-established. Of the 4,583 primary schools flourishing in antebellum days, 3,000 have already been opened.

From these figures it can be realized that France has gone back to work with a spirit of virile courage. You hear often of a clamorous France, but that is not the real France that recuperated so quickly after the war of 1870. It paid an enormous debt so rapidly as to gain the admiration of the world. The real France is silent and working and looks for the esteem and respect of her friends.

"Don't you feel tempted to go into politics?"

"Yes," replied Goldrox; "but what chance have I? Having made a reputation as a financier, people would be sure to regard anything I undertook as merely a new form of investment."

BABY QUELCH.

A Wonderful Change Due to Virol

Toronto, November 6th, 1916.
The Virol Co.,
Montreal.

Dear Sir,—I am sending you a picture of my little boy, who from birth till eight months old never gained one lb. in weight.

I had tried almost every food on the market without success, and also had no hope from any doctor who attended him.

A friend told me to try Virol, and from the very first feeding I noticed a great change in my baby.

He started to improve in health and strength, and to-day I am a thankful mother, thanks to Virol for saving his life. Now I shall always recommend Virol to mothers who have sick and delicate babies.

I remain, respectfully,
Mrs. QUELCH.

Those who have found relief are the people who want all sufferers to know what they gained from their experience.

Mrs. B. Walters, of Savona, B.C., writes, praising Gin Pills for the immediate relief given by these splendid Pills. Mrs. Walters says:—

"I advise people who have not used Gin Pills to try them. I have been troubled for years with weak kidneys, and one box of Gin Pills cured me. I recommend them as an absolute and reliable cure."

Derangement of kidneys or bladder is so very serious that, at the first sign of pain in side or back, treatment with Gin Pills should begin. The duty of the kidneys is to cleanse the blood. If weak or inactive, uric acid and other poisons and waste are carried to the joints and muscles, causing inflammation, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, constant headaches, dizziness, floating specks before the eyes, gravel or stone in the bladder, general debility and lassitude. If you have any of these symptoms, get Gin Pills at once. Free sample on request. At druggists or dealers, 50c a box. Money refunded if not relieved.

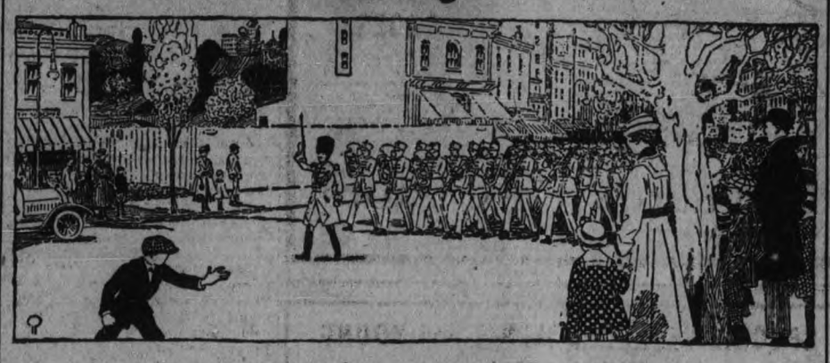
"Here They Come!"



It is the cry of the children when a band is heard far down the street. Nearer and nearer it draws until each note becomes clearer and clearer.

To those in the city this is a familiar picture. But to those residing in suburban towns stirring strains of band music are more rare.

MAYOR TOOK CHANCES BUT ARRIVED SAFELY

City's Chief Executive Arrived Home To-day After Interesting Trip East

Mayor Porter embarked at Prince Rupert upon the partly-disabled Camosun and, taking the chance that her steering gear might cease to work altogether, made the voyage to Vancouver. Nothing of any event occurred on the trip south, and the ship had no trouble, but it was noticeable that only four travellers waiting in the north boarded her.

His Worship arrived in Victoria this morning after a most enjoyable trip to Winnipeg, where he attended a luncheon given by the Prince of Wales. He and Mayor Gale, of Vancouver, were the only western representatives at the ceremony, and were very warmly greeted by the Prince.

The Mayor travelled home by way of Prince Rupert over the G. T. P. line, passing through a great many towns and settlements, where snow lay on the ground. After the cold atmosphere of the prairie the warmer climate of Victoria was not unwelcome.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder Is Troubling You

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and cloggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

FEELS CONFIDENT ON GRATUITY QUESTION

President McKenzie Reports to Comrades of Great War

A large attendance at the semi-monthly meeting of the Comrades of the Great War last night listened with keen interest to the report of President J. McKenzie, who has just returned from deliberations with the Returned Soldiers' Committee in Ottawa.

The outstanding feature of President McKenzie's report was his feeling of assurance that the returned men who had seen service in France would get an additional gratuity of $2,000. The resolution emanating from Calgary, to the effect that all who donned khaki, he said, was not likely to go through.

Mr. McKenzie was greatly pleased with the reception accorded the Victoria delegation in the capital, but he was strongly opposed to the methods of the committee in cross-examining some of the witnesses and harshly criticized the personnel of the committee, which, he said, was made up mostly of Government officials and members of the G.W.V.A.

The action of the G. W. V. A., he claimed, had only added complications to an already very much tangled gratuity problem and was responsible for blocking the proceedings.

To Attend Unveiling

The Comrades of the Great War will attend in a body the unveiling of the memorial tablet erected in the church at Esquimalt to the memory of Nursing Sister Wake, who died of wounds received in an enemy raid on Etaples. Comrade Abrahams will have charge of the parade, and comrades are asked to attend in uniform, assembling at the Sailors' Institute at 6.45 o'clock to-morrow evening. In this connection, the following letter from the parish clerk of St. Paul's Royal Naval Station and Garrison Church, where the ceremony will be held, was read at the meeting:

"On Sunday evening next, October 19, at the seven o'clock service at St. Paul's Royal Naval Station and Garrison Church, a brass tablet will be unveiled to the memory of the late Nursing Sister Gladys Maud Mary Wake, of Esquimalt, who died from the effect of wounds received on the occasion of the enemy air raid on Etapies on May 21, 1918.

"The special preacher at the service will be Colonel the Rev. G. H. Andrews, of Oak Bay, who was present at Etaples at the time of the raid.

"As the late Sister Wake gave her life in service for our wounded comrades in France, the Rector of St. Paul's thought that the ex-service associations of Victoria would welcome the opportunity of paying a mark of honor to her memory by parading to the service in a body, and I am hereby extending to you a cordial invitation to try and arrange for a united parade of the four associations. Should you favor taking the matter up I would suggest that the parade might start from the Sailors' Institute, corner of Esquimalt and Admiral's Roads, at a quarter to seven sharp. In view of the invitation being accepted, seats will be reserved in the church for the boys. The G.O.C. of the military district has authorized me to inform you that uniforms may be worn on this occasion. I would suggest that one member of each organization might arrange any necessary details, and I would be glad to be informed as soon as convenient if the parade will take place."

TOLMIE OUTSIDER, SAYS MAJOR BURDE

Government Exploiting His Genial Personality to Make Him Shock Absorber

That Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, is not on the Victoria voters' list and consequently is just as much of an outsider as T. A. Barnard, the labor candidate in the coming by-election, was the charge made by Major R. J. Burde at a meeting of Barnard supporters in the Crystal Theatre last night. Dr. Tolmie, said the Major, was a governmental shock absorber, and was being exploited by the Union Government on the strength of his pleasant personality. Fifty per cent. of Dr. Tolmie's adherents were supporting the man, the personality, not the Government, which they distrusted.

"I have heard the charge that Barnard is an outsider," the Major commenced, "but on searching the Victoria voters' list I nowhere find the name of Dr. Tolmie. On the contrary, he is registered as a voter in the Nanaimo electoral district."

A Friend of Tolmie's.

"As a matter of fact," Major Burde admitted, "I'm a friend of Dr. Tolmie's, but I regard him as a governmental shock absorber. Barnard, on the other hand, is a shock conductor who will conduct a shock clean into the middle of the Union Government.

"As a matter of fact," pursued the Major, "fifty per cent. of Tolmie's supporters base their support on the personality of the man, but otherwise they would vote against the Union Government. Everywhere I hear that attitude expressed. Union Government is simply exploiting Dr. Tolmie's personality. As for me, I'm not going to be fed on the Doctor's genial smiles!"

The Power of an Independent.

Major Burde appeared amused at the assertion that Mr. Barnard would be heard from but little at Ottawa and would be hushed up by the ponderous machinery of the powers that be. The Major recalled that at the last session of the Provincial Legislature he, an independent from the tall timbers of Alberni, had been able to make what nearly all the large British Columbia papers had declared the star speech of the session.

Is He Soldiers' Friend?

"What has Tolmie done to show that he is the friend of the returned man?" demanded Pte. McLernan. "I challenge any one to show me anything in his career to justify the time-worn assertion that he has the interest of the brave soldiers at heart."

The chief objection to Mr. Barnard voiced by his opponents, observed Pte. McLernan, was that he would not make a dignified candidate—would not look well in a dress suit. "Let me tell you, we didn't worry about dress suits in France!"

Mr. Barnard spoke briefly at the conclusion of the meeting and challenged Dr. Tolmie to an open debate on election issues on a public platform, the audience to act as judge of the verbal tilt.

NO DEMAND FOR BETTING IN REGINA

Dr. C. J. Rutherford Opens Inquiry; Minister Opposes Betting

Regina, Oct. 18.—The barrier went up yesterday on the race betting inquiry conducted by Dr. J. G. Rutherford, and, as far as Regina is concerned, the race is run. Backers of the non-gambling race led the field all the way, but those entered to show the necessity of carrying on the game also ran.

Mr. D. T. Elderkin, manager of the Provincial Exhibition here for several years, stated in evidence that he did not believe there was any public demand in Regina for race betting either by the pari-mutuels scheme or the bookmaking plan. He stated that racing was just as good since the abolition of gambling as when race patrons were given a legal chance to back their judgment.

Just before the pari-mutuel machines were introduced in Regina, he said, the fair board had received an offer of $5,000 for the bookmaking privileges.

Mr. Elderkin submitted a detailed report showing the profits from the pari-mutuels during the years 1913-14-15. The year 1913 was the banner year, showing a profit for that year of $543. The following year showed a loss of $168, and then the mechanical bettor came back in 1915 with a surplus of $380. The pari-mutuels were abolished in this city before the Dominion legisation put them out of commission.

Prominent horsemen gave evidence that tended to show the necessity of continuing racing if thoroughbred horses were to retain their speed, endurance and other qualities that have placed them in a class by themselves on the race track and on the hunting field.

Those who spoke for the horse remained silent on the betting proposition. On the other hand, Rev. Mr. Reekie, representing the Social Service Council of Saskatchewan, went after the betting element hammer and tongs, submitting eight well-defined reasons why gambling should be discontinued permanently on Canadian race tracks. Mr. Reekie's remarks were not entered as evidence, but were taken down as "opinions," submitted by an organization opposed to betting.

COAST LEAGUERS WIN MINOR SERIES

Vernon Defeated St. Paul in the Last Game by Two to One

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—The Vernon Club of the Pacific Coast League won the Western Minor League Baseball championship by defeating the St. Paul Club of the American Association in the last of a nine-game series at Washington Park yesterday. The score was 2 to 1.

Vernon's victory came in the ninth inning, after the score had been tied for three frames. Alcock singled, went to second on Beck's sacrifice, and scored when "Wheezer" Dell, Tiger pitcher, hit one to the score board.

Vernon drew first blood in the fourth inning when Chadbourne singled and took second on Meusel's sacrifice; Edington's hit brought Chadbourne home.

St. Paul tied the score in the sixth when Boone, who had tripled, scored after the catch of Niehaus' sacrifice fly.

The largest crowd of the series witnessed to-day's game. It was estimated there were more than 7,500 paid admissions. Dell's timely hit in the last inning caused the bleachers and grand stands to pour out fans, hundreds of whom crowded around him. Several placed him on their shoulders and carried him around the field, while others formed an impromptu parade behind the hero.

SAYS DAI THOMAS IS CONSIDERING TRANSFER

Confident that his application for reinstatement to the amateur ranks will be approved by the provincial executive of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, Dai Thomas, former Welsh rugby star, who has been on the Coast for several seasons, is anxious to lineup with the K. C.'s of Vancouver, says a Vancouver message, and it is understood that the Vancouver club will seek permission to register him after his case has been disposed of by the amateur authorities.

Thomas would be a valuable acquisition to the Knights' team. He has had a world of experience in the rugby game, being a star in Wales prior to coming to this country. It is reported that some of the officials of the other clubs in the Vancouver Rugby Union are opposed to his registration even should he possess an amateur card, but such action would hardly be in the interests of the game.

YOUNGSTERS KEEN IN SCHOOL LEAGUES

Every School in the City Has Entered in Competitive Games

"More enthusiasm is being shown school sports this year than for years past" is the report of the secretary of the Victoria Schools Athletic Association. The sports have always been popular among the students but the season just started shows an increased number of entries and players at each school battling for the distinction of a place on the school team.

Every school in the city is represented in one or other of the leagues which have been organized and some of the larger schools have two or more entries. The girls have proved so keen on basketball that it has been necessary to divid the senior league into two sections. Every school with a senior grade is entered and a North and South section has been organized with a separate schedule. At the end of the season, the winners of the respective sections will play off for the championship.

The girls esports started this week and the games for boys started last week and the enthusiasm for the opening series is looked upon as an indication of the success assured for this season's contests. Girls hockey had been arranged for, but there has been a difficulty in obtaining hocky sticks which if not overcome will be an obstacle in holding the league games. It has been found impossible up to the present to secure sticks from the sporting goods stores in spite of their efforts to get in a supply. Some of the girls had their own sticks and are using them but the supply is not large enough. Practice games, however, have been held and it is hoped to overcome the difficulty in time to carry on with the league.

An innovation introduced by the officials of the association this year with success is announcing a venue for the games on the schedule instead of leaving it to the schools matched to decide. It has been arranged for the games to be played at a place convenient for both teams to eliminate a long journey from one distant part of the city to another when such teams are matched. As an instance when South Park and Oaklands Schools are matched the game is set for George Jay school grounds.

In the senior football games that have been played, Sir James Douglas School beat Burnside, four to nothing and North Ward beat George Jay, one to nothing. There are eight entries in the section.

In the junior football series, Victoria West and Sir James Douglas tied in a no score game. In the boys junior basketball, South Park beat George Jay thirteen to six. North Ward beat Quadra forty-four to eight; Boy's Central beat Oakland twenty to one.

Junior games are limited to players of twelve years and under.

STAGE FIRST MEET AFTER FOUR YEARS

Toronto, Oct. 18.—University of Toronto staged its annual field day yesterday after four years layoff owing to the war. K. Carruthers, who captained the C. E. F. track team at the track games staged in Pershing Stadium in Paris, is the champion. In addition to capturing the honors he broke the record for the 120-yard hurdles twice, doing 16 2-5 in his best and capturing the final in one-fifth slower time.

WAR VETS LAUNCH SPORT ORGANIZATION

Hope to Secure Old Drill Hall Until New Home Is Obtained

There was a good attendance at the Great War Veterans' club rooms last night, the occasion being the formation of a sports organization. Every sport is to be represented. A very strong committee was formed, writes James Ross, which consists of S. Smith as chairman, who is also on the executive as the representative of sports. The treasurer, A. Gunn, is the secretary to the whole G.W.V.A.-Victoria; G. A. Heinekey was elected secretary, with G. Bryson, B. Ripley and J. Ross, which will also be strengthened with the inclusion of each captain of the various games and sports.

Rugby Men Strong.

The rugby team was in great force, and they have chosen as their captain Bob Williams, whose name is legion in South Wales amongst the cracks of rugby. G. A. Heinekey was appointed vice-captain, and his skill is too well-known to offer any comment. The rugby men wish to state that there will be a practice on Wednesday evening, October 22, when all players and prospective players are invited to turn out, or put in an appearance.

Preparations are being pushed ahead to have practice and training of all branches of sport in the old Drill Hall. The association team needs no mention, as they are as fine an aggregation of players as there is in the city.

Billy Allen, their clever back, was appointed permanent captain and F. Ackroyd, right half, was chosen vice-captain.

Basketball, boxing, wrestling, hockey, swimming, cricket, in fact every sport is to be added to the list, and if the new home of the Great War Veterans' Association can only be made certain a large portion will be set off to accommodate sport, and a well equipped gymnasium is aimed at.

With regards to players wishing to join the intermediate association club, they are urged to send in their names and playing position to the secretary, 512 Fort Street, ont later than Monday night, October 20, and if sufficient players are forthcoming they must be prepared to play their first match on Saturday, October 25.

MEETING CLOSES TO-DAY

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 18.—The fall meeting of the Kentucky Jockey Club, at Latonia, Ky., will close to-day with the running of the Latonia Cup, $7,500 added, for three-years-olds and upward, over a two and one-quarter mile course. Five horses will start in this event, with W. S. Kilmer's Exterminator, the favorite. The race will be run over a muddy track.

SOLVE PROBLEM OF GROUNDS FOR SOCCER

An Extra Field at Beacon Hill and Use of Willows

Soccer players' difficulties regarding the lack of grounds which was holding play up at the beginning of the season are in a fair way to settlement. The deputation of sportsmen appointed to see into the matter have toured the city with members of the Parks Committee and ten grounds are now available.

With five games each week in the senior league and four in the intermediate league nine playing fields are needed and at a pinch when the Parks Committee have carried out the improvements promised, there will be a playing field for each match, and one extra.

A site at Beacon Hill, near Heywood Avenue, will be altered to meet the requirements of the soccer men, and with the two other courses at Beacon Hill it will be possible to play three games in the park. The Agricultural Society have also consented to allow the Willows to be used and two sets of goal posts will be set up in the oval. Other games will be played at Work Point, Royal Athletic Park, Central Park, and the Jubilee Hospital grounds.

STANDARD GOLF BALL

Edinburgh, Oct. 18.—Mr. H. W. Foster, M.P., presiding over a crowded meeting of the Rules of Golf Royal and Ancient Club at St. Andrews, when the Rules of Golf Committee submitted their report.

Mr. John L. Low, as chairman of the committee, said they were not of those who deemed it necessary to have a great reconstruction programme. They had no intention of making the hole bigger, or of removing the form and skill which the stymie provided.

Although they had no definite proposal to make with regard to the limitation or standardization of the ball, they had passed amongst themselves the following resolution which was at the present moment only an expression of their own opinion:

The Rules of Golf Committee is of opinion that in order to preserve the balance between the power of the ball and the length of the holes, and in order to retain special features of the game, the power of the ball should be limited.

Such investigation as the members of the committee had been able to make led them to suggest in the present circumstances this object would be obtained by fixing a minimum limit of size.

The committee propose to consult the United States Golf Association and other bodies interested before submitting a definite proposal to the clubs.

Our Master Instrument—The Organola

THE test of the control Pipes of the Organola is a Band Record or a Quartette.

The ordinary talking machine will reproduce a record of band instruments or quartette as one co-ordinated sound and in doing so loses the beauty and character of the individual instruments or voices. The tone control pipes of the Organola are so tuned that each individual sound—instrumental or voice—is distinctly reproduced because the pipes embrace every note in the scale and vibrate in sympathy as their notes are given forth by the record which happens to be playing.

Mode Organola

"Phonolas" are made in eight different styles and sizes.

"Phonola" REGISTERED

Our magnificent "Organola" model is the only phonograph equipped with a full set of tone control pipes. The aid of these pipes in the true and harmonious reproduction of tones has made the Organola the master instrument of the phonograph world and a triumph to the true lovers of music.

If you have not heard the "Organola" an artistic treat is awaiting you.

LOOKING THINGS OVER

Secured the Grounds.

Soccer men have obtained some satisfaction as the result of their efforts to secure more grounds. Although some of the playing fields are not everything that could be desired they have now sufficient grounds for all the teams in the senior and intermediate league to get into action each week, and nine games every Saturday will be the schedule for the rest of the season. Every Saturday will see nearly two hundred players engaged in league contests besides the friendly soccer games that are played every week. The intermediates' debut to-day is being watched with interest, and if the teams are as evenly matched as the senior league clubs there should be some keen battles for position on the ladder.

Will Prepare for Banner Season.

Rugby men are awaiting with interest the meeting of the Rugby Union Monday evening at 5 o'clock at the K. of C. Hut. Which clubs will take part in the senior series will be decided and a schedule for the season drawn up. With the grounds now in pretty good shape for the oval ball game next Saturday will probably see the first battles in this season's series. Oak Bay promises to be the scene of two royal battles every week, and the old stars will clash with a lot of new players to Victoria, many of whom have learned the game in some of the fastest company in the Old Country.

Billiard League a Success.

The recent innovation in sport in the shape of a Billiard League, which has been started at the Two Jacks, found immediate success. Fortunately the players in the opening games proved to be well matched, and the large crowd who turned out to see the games were provided with lots of excitement. None of the winning teams had an easy victory. The next game to be played in the League will take place on Monday evening at 7.30, between Mr. Sale's team and Mr. Ashworth's team, in B Section. The following players are requested to be on hand: Sale (capt.), Harper, Holmar, Patterson, Lees, Taylor; Ashworth (capt.), Askey, Province, Lovitt, Reeves, Baker.

More Equipment Troubles.

Lack of sporting equipment again crops up. The supply of lacrosse sticks for the season just closed was inadequate to meet the demand, and now comes a complaint from another quarter. With girls of every school in the city anxious to play in the grass hockey league that was organized this year, a complaint comes that so far the start in the league games has been delayed by the lack of hockey sticks. One firm declares they have forwarded many S. O. S. signals for hockey sticks without effect. In the meantime the girls are managing as best they can by borrowing and lending sticks and looking forward to the time when the lack of a little piece of timber will not prevent them from the sport they are so keen on.

The Two Games.

"There is not the slightest doubt that if Victoria will put up a sufficient guarantee that a visiting all-star rugby team from California will make a trip to British Columbia to play British Columbia, Mainland and Victoria teams after Christmas," says a well known rugby man. Last time the men from the United States visited Victoria, financial and every other way the visit was a success. There was more than enough money from the gate to pay the expenses and a little left over for the coffers of the local union.

Whether the American or the game as played in Canada will be in force in California is one of the obstacles. Stanford and California universities appear not yet to have come to an agreement as one university is pulling for the American game and one for rugby. Should the American game be adopted it is considered hardly possible for a team playing the American game to meet a team playing under the rules of the rugby union.

The American game generally looked upon as the dangerous, fearless sport of reckless, danger-defying university students, finds little favor with this particular sportsman. "I have been playing rugby since I was ten years of age," he says, "and after sizing up the two games I think that the regulation rugby game requires more courage than the American game, and it has been demonstrated when the players visited British Columbia. It costs a thousand dollars in armor plate for a team at the American game, and they are padded and protected to such an extent that when they doff their protective paraphernalia and take the field for straight rugby they have no confidence at all. In the American game, if a man gets hurt he lies down on the field and the first-aid men immediately rush out with the medicine chest. In the rugby game a man takes his chance, and if there's a doctor in the ground he gets assistance. If there isn't he gets it afterwards. The American game would not," he declares, "be speedy or interesting enough for a Canadian audience.

GOOD NEWS FOR COLWOOD GOLFERS

Awkward Piece of Road Has Now Been Put in First Class Shape

Golfers who favor the Colwood course will hear with great delight that the road from Parson's Bridge to the archway on Burnside Road has been thrown open at last. For the past three monuths golfers making the journey to Colwood course by automobile have been forced to use a narrow strip on the side of the road, which has spelled death to the springs of the car and considerable discomfort to the occupants. So bad was the particular section that many golfers abandoned the trip to the Deep ruts which have resulted in the smashing of more than one automobile wheel, and a narrow passage which allowed only one automobile at a time were among the inconveniences. After three months of such travel automobile owners are now able to drive over a road, part of which has been put in first class shape.

CICCOLINI HEARD AT ROYAL VICTORIA

Operatic Tenor Heads Orpheum Vaudeville Offering This Week

With selections in Italian, French and English, ranging from fragments of the classics to a song of the moment which has caught the popular fancy, "Dear Old Pal of Mine", Ciccolini brought his art of the grand opera stage before Victorians at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening at the opening performance of this week's Orpheum bill. Within the vaudeville limitations as to time and field which governed him he still found opportunity to display a tenor voice of wide range, warmly appealing quality, flexibility and high culture, with its numerous graduations always under excellent control. Ciccolini is a young man, and with that almost priceless advantage is coupled a splendid stage presence and histrionic conceptions to gild his songs. That his appeal was not solely to that portion of his audience which came equipped to discern the technical niceties of his efforts was indicated by the very generous applause which recalled him to give as an encore "Mother Machree."

Satire was Harry Green's offering but the scene of his sketch was quite elevated—the Pearly Gates, in short. After a colloquy with St. Peter, Green, as "George Washington Cohen," was condemned to take the elevator for the full downward trip, only to win through a moment later and receive approval for the higher altitude, and have endorsed with him a former acquaintance. "Mabel," who single-handed had failed to attract St. Peter's favor.

Lillian Shaw sang an animated Italian dialect song before elucidating the marriage problem as far as the point that for a young woman it is mainly a matter of "taking a chance."

Elo and Ollie Waters sang and danced, separately and in unison, and one of the two young women—though which the programme did not state—was responsible for many humorously eccentric gestures and poses.

"Nonsensicalities" were the ingredients of Ben and Hazel Mann's act.

The Eugene Brothers had nothing to say, but one of them did a series of acrobatic feats on horizontal bars which looked much easier than they undoubtedly were by reason of the graceful sureness of the athlete.

The Pickfords opened the bill with a comedy manipulating act and an instalment of the All-Canadian Weekly moving pictures closed it.

INTER-COLLEGIATE SPORT.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Billy Beggs's startling performance in winning four events, in which he created new records in the high jump and high hurdles, was chiefly responsible for the victory of the Wesley College athletes in the revival of the inter-collegiate field day here yesterday after a long layoff on account of the war. Most of the events were keenly contested. J. L. McLeod, also of Wesley, was a close second to Beggs for individual honors, by winning the mile, half-mile and quarter-mile. Beggs's time for the high hurdles was 18 4-5 seconds, which is a new record. His record jump was five feet seven anad a half inches.

Nancy Lee is the elder daughter of the old-established Lee family, one of the proudest—as well as one of the poorest—branches of the Southern aristocracy. She is very much in love with Anthony Weir and wants to mary him, but her parents object because they do not feel his social standing is "good enough" to warrant an alliance with the Lees. Nancy chafes at the restrictions of these empty traditions, and finally, although this move is also against her father's wishes, she decides to marry George Trevor, a New Yorker who moves in the fastest set in the metropolis, so that she may be able to help her family financially.

When she comes North, Nancy soon learns that she never has any money of her own; her husband is always in debt and living beyond his means. When her mother becomes very ill, Nancy finally borrows money from young Douglas Weir, Anthony's nephew. Later it develops that Douglas took this money from a bank and that he is facing prosecution unless he can replace it.

About this time Trevor dies and Nancy is left without any means. Anthony Weir also returns at this time and accuses her of trying to wreck his nephew's life, as he thinks she has ruined his. To prove her sincerity, Nancy sells all her clothes, jewelry and other possessions to keep Douglas out of trouble. Finally she pays off the entire sum, and shows by her changed mode of life that she is straightening out her affairs, moral as well as financial. In the end everything comes out as it should, and "they live happily ever after."

This is the story of "The Way of a Woman," adapted from Eugene Walter's stage play, "Nancy Lee," the latest Select picture in which Norma Talmadge, presented, as always, by Joseph M. Schenck, showing for the last time at the Dominion Theatre to-night.

VARIETY

"If you were a girl of marrying age and inclination, would you marry Charlie Chaplain, the noted screen comedian? Maybe you have seen Charlie in some of his stunts and have said to yourself, 'If I had a lover or husband like that I'd——' Well, the girl who really did marry Charlie Chaplain said that very thing when she used to see his pictures. What kind of a girl do you think she is? Wouldn't you like to see her? She is Mildred Harris on the screen and will star in "When a Girl Loves," the six-reel Jewel production, which is Lois Webber's first long Western drama and which will be shown in the Variety for the last time to-day.

PRINCESS

To-night will witness the last performance of that phenomenal success "The New Boy," which has been nightly delighting the patrons of this theatre. Without exception it is one of the best performances that has ever been offered by the Princess Dramatic Society since its inception. The screamingly funny situations with which the play is resplendent causes roars of laughter to emanate from the audiences, who find in this play a most enjoyable medium for mirth and merriment. Cleverly written, delightfully acted, and splendidly produced, it is a play that none should miss witnessing, and as the news of the extreme excellence of the production has by now been freely circulated by the delighted patrons who have already attended crowded houses are expected for the last performance of this splendid production.

ROMANO

Supporting Ruth Roland, the popular screen star, in the latest Pathe serial, "The Tiger's Trail," the third episode of which will be shown at the Romano to-day, are the following well-known screen artists, George Larkin—the handsome and athletic hero, the most fearless stunt man in screendom. Nothing ever seems to scare Larkin, and he has some wonderful stunts to pull in this serial, which he accomplishes with agility and fearlessness. Mark Strong—a splendid "heavy," plays the two parts of "Grim" Gordon and his brother, Randolph. Easter Walters—an Astra luminary, who has played many principle roles in Astra features and serials, notably in "Hands Up!" "The Narrow Path" and "Common Clay." In this serial she has an important part as the servant maid spy in the Gordon household. In addition to those mentioned above are George Field, Henry G. Moody, Frederick Kohler and other serial favorites.

COLUMBIA

A woman, tall and young and strong, with masses of sun-colored hair, a face that filled one with instant pleasure, a smile that lit one's heart with joy, such as the woman who, born in the West and reared in a town that sprang into being through the opening up of a Mexican oil field, pitted her wits against a polished, unscrupulous oil promoter, a man who already had more money than he knew what to do with, and won against all his wiles and villainy. Such a story is shown in many photoplays, or ones similar to it, have been the basis for numerous cinema productions. They have been legion in the past: they will be legion in the future; but once in a while there is a story among all these stories that is worth while, that appeals to the best in the hearts of men and women, inspires them to do big things. "The Red Glove," the serial in which Marie Walcamp is featured on the Columbia screen to-day in addition to the photodrama, "Mickey."

PANTAGES

"Temptation," a handsomely staged musical extravaganza that will present some of the cleverest satire Pantages patrons have seen in many months, is the headline attraction of the new bill opening with the matinee Monday. Temptation, his Satanic Majesty's chief assistant, becomes bored with her job of vamping and threatens to quit unless Mephisto can find a subject with powers of resistance sufficient to interest her. The plot has to do with the search for a suitable victim among modern men. Its scenes shift rapidly from Hades to New York, thence to a fashionable summer resort, and the comedy keeps pace, with time off for clever songs and novel dances. The principals include Bobby Vail, Marie Mann, Neil McLeod and Victor Bayard, with an attractive chorus.

The comedy hit of the bill is Dunbar and Turner.

Cecile d'Andrea and Henry N. Walters have reserted the Metropolitan ballet for vaudeville and have brought with them some delightful dances which they characterize as "Danse Fantasies." Other interesting artists on the bill are: George Quigley and Eddie Fitzgerald.

A marvellous combination of sensational and thrilling tricks on the tight wire will be presented by the Four Leons.

Frank Ward and his dancing fingers will bring a novelty to the bill that is said to be of exceptional merit. The Pantagescope will show another episode of "The Carter Case."

Daughter—"A certain young man sent me these flowers this morning."
Papa—"Don't say 'a certain young man,' my dear. There is none of 'em certain till you've got 'em."

HOW TO TREAT THAT GROWLY REAR AXLE

Noises and Vibrations Arising Aft of Motor Cause Much Irritation to Motorist—Locating and Eliminating Them

By H. Clifford Brokaw

(Technical Director, Y.M.C.A. Automobile Schools.)

Have you a dog concealed somewhere about the rear axle of your car—that is, something which growls? Some cars go along without a bit of unwonted noise, while others have a distinct hum, or a growl, or even, at high speed, a decided scream. Which is yours?

You don't think you have anything of the kind? Ask your neighbor, for sometimes persons on the sidewalks will hear it, even if the driver does not suspect it.

Recently a driver asked me to locate a grind in his clutch. It was noticed that at certain speeds there was a sound as if there were a dry or wornout bearing, and it caused a vibration throughout the car. An inspection of the clutch, however, failed to disclose trouble there, so I had one rear wheel jacked up and got under the car to hunt for the source of the noise. Immediately it was made plain that it did not come from the clutch, but from the rear axle assembly.

Only Slight Change.

Believing from the sound that the driving gears inside the differential were meshed too deep, I suggested that they be adjusted; adjustment in this case was made easily from the outside. A slight change eased the noise, and after a few trials an adjustment was secured which entirely eliminated the grind. This was a case where the trouble appeared to be in one place, but really was far removed, the vibration being transmitted by the torque tube.

When a growl is discovered in the rear axle, it does not necessarily indicate that the gears are not meshing properly. It might mean a lack of lubrication, which must be determined by inspection. The manufacturers exercise great pains to get the gears so that they run true and mesh properly, so that they operate silently, and it may be assumed that when a car is delivered the adjustment has been made to the most silent position. It will stay right unless the adjustment works loose, or the bearings or gears become worn.

Clattering Noise.

On each side of the differential (master) gear there is a thrust bearing which takes the side thrust caused by the operation of the gears. The bearings sometimes wear, and allow the gears to go deeper in mesh and make a humming sound, which is noticeable only when going around a corner, being generally silent at other times. This is because in turning the wheel slides the axle in for the amount of the play, meshing the gears deeper.

Wear in the thrust bearings on each side of the master gear causes another trouble, which makes a clatter, rather than a hum or growl, when the wear becomes excessive. Then it allows the master gear to move away from the pinion far enough to skip teeth. There will be unevenness of action in this case. If the gears were permanently out of mesh the car would stop; but the motion of the car would slide the axle in and out, so that the gears would mesh for a time and then skip, with resultant clash and noise. The same result would come from uneven wear of the teeth.

Chipped Teeth.

It should be remembered that where there are gears, usually there is wear. Occasionally a set will be made just the right toughness and hardness and will last for the life of the car. Others are too hard; if they get a little out of adjustment they will chip off, the chips working among the teeth, breaking off a tooth or chewing up a number, with consequent noisy action. Where one tooth is broken there is a decided knock. If the gears are too soft they wear rapidly and gradually come to a knife edge. There is then danger of breaking off under a little extra strain, climbing a steep hill or when the clutch is let in with a jerk.

This latter condition may be determined by jacking up rear wheel and putting the gears in mesh and then rocking the wheel back and forth to see if there is excessive play. In doing this it is necessary to see what play there is from other causes, such as universal joint play, or from loose key in rear axle; the remainder of the play is in the differential. It should not be more than two inches of motion of the outside of the tire.

Back of the driving pinion there is another thrust bearing subject to wear. When it does wear it allows the gears to get slightly out of mesh, and this makes noise, which can be removed by adjustment.

Eliminating the Click.

Some time ago I discovered another cause of rear axle noise, which was difficult to locate, where the key holding wheel to axle had become loose and had rocked the keyway out of shape. Another case in the floating type rear axle, connected to the hub by flutings, which matched projections on the flange, was a click, which defied detection by the eye or ear, though loud enough to be annoying. Fingers searching for a loose part detected a very slight motion, and then it was found that flutings and projections had worn enough to permit a slight play. This was so obscured that the service station experts had been mystified. Persistent search and elimination of one possible cause after another, and a curiosity which led one of our men to use his fingers to supplement his eyes found it.

Since clicks and humming and growls indicate undue conditions, it is up to the driver to either locate them himself or consult some one who can. If the driver studies his car he ought to be able to discover and remedy all but the most obscure cases.

H. A. Davie, McLaughlin representative, with headquarters on Yates Street, has just returned from an extended tour of the East and the Old Country.

Mr. Davie is favorably impressed with the prospects from a business standpoint and he prophesies an even greater sales record in McLaughlins. This car has had a wonderful sale in Victoria and Vancouver Island during the past summer and there is no falling off in the demand.

NOW IS THE TIME TO OVERHAUL AUTO

Sam McOrmond, of James Bay Garage, Has Splendidly Equipped Plant

With the winter season at hand when the motor car should render unimpared service and pleasure, it behooves the thoughtful car owner to get his car in readiness now. A thorough overhauling and repairing of the car now will eliminiate trouble later on when the car is in greater demand, and it will in most instances result in a substantial saving in upkeep and operating expenses during the winter.

The above is the advice given by Sam McOrmond, of the James Bay Garage, St. John Street, near the corner of Quebec Street, whose repair and service shop is splendidly equipped for giving good service.

Choose With Care.

Your car may be depreciating more rapidly because all of its vital parts are not working at top-notch efficiency. Frequently the layman is unable to diagnose or recognize minor troubles which if not properly attended to will result in big repair bills. The autumn season offers a good time of the year for the careful motor car owner to have his machine thoroughly inspected, and repaired, providing it is found that repairs are necessary.

It is good business on the part of the motorist to keep in mind the fact that it is wholly unsatisfactory and certainly expensive to trust any "Tom, Dick or Harry" with the repairing of a car. The best comparison is that of the "quack" doctor and the recognized specialist. You wouldn't entrust your health to the former variety of physician. Why entrust your car to just anybody?

SEASON'S RACING IS GOODYEAR TRIUMPH

Winners in Main 1919 Events Have Been Carried on Famous Cords

Joe Boyer, driving a Frontenac, won the Labor Day race at Uniontown. Roscoe Searles, in a Philbrin, was second, and Louis Chevrolet, driving a Frontenac, took third money. All three of the winners were on Goodyear cords. The time was 2 hours 24 minutes 19.68 seconds, a pace of 93½ miles an hour. There was very little tire trouble among the winners, Searles making a non-stop run.

Looking back over the season's racing events it is interesting to note that every winner in the main events has been on Goodyear cord tires, according to Mitchell & Hembroff, View and Blanshard Streets, local Goodyear distributors. Cliff Durant won the first big race at Santa Monica, driving his Chevrolet Special, on March 15, beating Eddie Hearne, LeCocq and Pullen. Roscoe Searles won first money at Los Angeles on March 23, driving a Roamer. Tommie Milton won the Uniontown event on May 19, in a Duesenberg. The race of the year, the 500-mile event at Indianapolis, on the day after Memorial Day, was won by Howard Wilcox, in a Peugeot, beating all the stars of the track, including Ralph De Palma, the favorite.

Although the race was run over a brick track, the tire performance was unusual. Jules Guyot and Danny Hickey both went the entire distance on Goodyear cords without a tire change. Wilcox, the winner, had two Goodyears to stand the pace for the whole race, as did Eddie Hearne, who ran second.

At Sheepshead Bay on June 14 Ralph De Palma came into his own when he won the fifty-mile race that day in his Packard, going at the rate of 113.7 miles an hour without tire change. Gaston Chevrolet, in a Frontenac, going at an average speed of 110.53 miles an hour, won the 100-mile event at the Sheepshead Bay track on July 4, and Tommie Milton again won at Uniontown on July 19 in a Duesenberg.

All these races were won with Goodyear cord tires, and the performance of the "shoes" has been one of the outstanding points of the entire racing season.

An inventor has brought out a tent with a frame so shaped that it can be used as a garage with very little waste of room

OVERLAND FOURS PROVING POPULAR

Thos. Plimley's Daily Demonstrations Arouse Deal of Interest

"Positively a wonder," is the general expression of those who have been treated to a demonstration in the new Overland Four, sold by Thomas Plimley.

For the past week "Pat," as Salesman Paterson is popularly known, has been busy driving all and sundry over the worst possible roads he could find in the city. Over curbs, through ditches, vacant lots, in fact, anywhere that ordinary drivers would avoid in the regular course of driving, Mr. Paterson has piloted his interested passengers and many are the questions asked and answered as to how an automobile can perform so wonderfully and yet come through the ordeal unscathed.

There has never been a new model that has created so much interest in the city and on frequent occasions traffic has been blocked by the people who have gathered around the neat little demonstrater to examine its various features.

The new Overland Four is as economical on gas consumption as it is efficient in operation and its various good points has already resulted in a large number of orders being placed. There are so many new and valuable features connected with the car that it would take too much time to ennumerate them in detail but Mr. Plimley and his staff of salesmen are always prepared to demonstrate the car's capabilities and its many fine points. A large shipment of this latest model is on the way from the factories and Mr. Plimley will make every endeavor to keep the supply abreast of the demand.

The selling advantages of the Overland Four are summed up under the following heads: Spring suspension; economy; quality; equipment; unit power plant; auxiliaries; body; rear axle; wheels, each of which have top notch features that are the result of years of experimenting on the part of the corps of expert engineers employed at the factories.

It is the wonderful spring suspension that makes the Overland Four such an easy car to ride in. These springs are the very latest scientific achievement in automobile construction and one would hardly believe what a wonderful difference they make in the riding qualities of an automobile. No matter what kind of a course the wheels follow, the occupant of the cars feels just as comfortable and undisturbed as if he were sitting in an easy chair in his private sitting room. It is a perfect luxury to ride over a bad road in an Overland Four.

VIBRATION ARISES FROM MANY CAUSES

Vibration may result from several causes, and naturally the greater the speed of the engine, the more it will be noticed. At the same time do not overlook the fact that all engines have what is known as a critical point, wherein the engine is out of balance. This varies, even with the same make and size of engine. With some engines it develops around 25 m. p. h., whereas with others it will run up to 30 or 35 m. p. h.

To find the cause of vibration it will be necessary to go over your engine with care, to know the main bearings and connecting rod bearings are true and tight and that no one piston assembly outweighs the others, otherwise, it is easy to understand this will cause the engine to be out of balance, with vibrations as a result.

It is possible that at 15 m. p. h. the engine fires practically perfectly, whereas it would be possible that the ignition can be so out of order that one cylinder might be misfiring at speeds beyond 15 m. p. h., and this, again, would cause the engine to give forth vibration.

Make sure every engine bolt is tight, that the flywheel is tight and also that the nuts holding the cylinders to the crankcase are set down thoroughly. There have been many cases wherein one of these things has caused vibration, and the writer has just gone through the experience of finding a loose engine bolt that was causing vibration and numerous other noises at the same time.

Every motorist should spend a few hours each week looking after his car. While the solid construction and foolproof design of the modern automobile will permit a large amount of neglect, it follows surely that in the end this abuse is felt in repairs and needless expense. If every motorist would consider his car as a piece of machinery, costing considerable money, and devote the time he figures guarding such an investment should take, there would be more satisfied automobile owners and better results from car ownership. It's just good business to do it and the operator of an automobile service station would like to see every owner do this.

"When Can You Deliver?"

THAT'S the customer's first question, usually. How do you answer him?

Your goods may be superior, your clerks may be courteous, your store attractive, but, after all, unless your deliveries are prompt and dependable, your customers will be disappointed and trade elsewhere next time. Do you realize how many people judge a store by its deliveries?

Is your delivery system on a par with the rest of your business? Does it draw new trade or lose customers for you? Are your horses as suitable for you as they were at one time? If not, why do you persist in being a little behind the times, when a Ford One Ton Truck would be more in line with your other business standards?

Perhaps your deliveries cost you too much. If you are using motor trucks, they may be too heavy for your line of business and therefore too expensive. The Ford Truck uses less fuel when handling a full load than some trucks use running empty.

The Ford One Ton Truck is a money saver, so why not modernize this department of your business at once?

VICTORIA TO GET FIRST PAIGE CARS

W. D. Cartier Secures Splendid Seven-Passenger Models

The first two seven-passenger Paiges to be delivered in the Province of British Columbia are coming to Victoria to the order of W. D. Cartier, local distributor for Paige and Saxon passenger cars.

Mr. Cartier announces that the shipment of Paige cars is now en route and he is anxiously looking forward to their arrival as a considerable number of interested inquirers have evinced a desire to own one of the splendid Paige models of this year, and Mr. Cartier is desirous of meeting their wishes at the earliest possible moment.

"Everyone knows the difficulties dealers have had this year in getting shipments through quickly enough to meet the demand but we have been doing the best we could and we appreciate the patience of our customers in holding off until they can get delivery of our cars instead of going elsewhere," said Mr. Cartier.

It will be some days before the shipment of Saxons reaches Victoria.

REPAIR PLANT BUSY

H. J. Holman Adds to Equipment For Doctoring Tires.

To a plant that is already what might be termed one hundred per cent. efficiency, H. J. Holman, of View Street, has just added a new press to his Dri-Kure equipment and he is therefore placed in a position where a greater volume of business can be handled.

Mr. Holman is one of the expert tire doctors of the city and he engages a number of experienced men and a large equipment of up-to-date machinery, which enables him to quickly carry out all kinds of tire repairs. There is nothing in the way of tire repairs that the plant cannot carry out and the activity to be observed at Mr. Holman's extensive place of business any day in the week bears testimony to the extent of the work entrusted to his care.

When it is absolutely necessary to run on a flat tire keep the tire in soft dirt if possible. If the trouble occus on city streets run on the trolley track rather than on cobble stones.

FORD POWER EQUIPMENT

Norman Hirst Says That Andrews' Apparatus Has Proved Very Popular.

"Now is the time to get the winter's supply of wood in and the Andrew's power transmitter for Ford cars is the machine that will result in the saving of many dollars in the fuel account of those who happen to own a Ford car," says Norman Hirst, local distributor for this handy little equipment.

The power transmitter for which Mr. Hirst obtained the agency in the spring has proved very popular and many of them are now in use. They make work so easy that once a Ford owner has used one it becomes indispensable. The attachment is so small and cleverly attached that it can be left on the car without in any way disfiguring the appearance.

VALUABLE HINTS ON WILLARD BATTERIES

Mr. Rolfe, of Jameson, Rolfe & Willis, Throws Light on Subject

Some valuable hints for the care of the battery are given by Victor Rolfe, of the firm of Jameson Rolfe & Willis, local Willard Battery representatives:

"Don't be too generous with the distilled water when you're putting it in batteries," says Mr. Rolfe. "If you are, you're likely to do just as much harm as if you neglected to put any water at all in.

Of course water is necessary, but the idea is to put in just enough to replace the amount that has evaporated. If you put in more you're getting into trouble in two ways; you're weakening the battery, and worse than that you're taking the first step toward ruining your battery box.

"If the water remained in the battery as water, there would be no chance of damage—but it doesn't. It mixes right in with the acid.

"Consequently if your battery is too full the acid begins to slop out at the top with the first hard jolt and keeps spilling little by little until the damage is done. This acid is strong enough to eat through wood or iron, and will take the wooden bottom right out of the battery box.

"You'll sidestep a lot of trouble if you remember, when you add distilled water, to stop as soon as the solution rises to half an inch over the tops of the battery plats."

Use of Clutch.

Mr. Rolfe also gives some advice respecting the use of the clutch. "Why push out the clutch?" is a question a good many people ask.

"What's the use of pushing out the clutch when you start your motor, as long as the shift lever is in neutral and there is practically no load on the engine?" The question sounds like a logical one but as a matter of fact it is based on a wrong supposition. There is really a considerable load on the engine, just on account of the shaft and gears that must be turned.

Just try this test if you want to see how much this load amounts to. Turn your engine over by hand some morning with the clutch in. Then have someone hold the clutch pedal down, or fasten it down with blocks and try it again. If you turn the engine over rapidly you'll see that there is quite a difference and the lead is much greater when the engine spins at the rate the starting motor turn it.

It pays to keep in mind the fact that thickened oil has a very definite braking action and this action is very greatly lessened when you push down your clutch pedal.

MAKES A NEW BODY FOR BIG FARM TRUCK

Federal Device Combines Variety of General Utility Requirements

The Federal Motor Truck Company of Detroit, Mich., announces a special new body for farm trucks which is instantly adaptable to any kind of farm load, according to M. L. Pulcher, vice-president and general manager of the company.

The Revercomb Motor Company are local Federal distributors.

The body, which can be furnished in one and a half and two-ton capacities, combines in one frame all the requirements of the farmer for a general utility truck body. In one form it is a stock rack with water tight under body. The Federal company has long recognized the need of the best facilities for farmers to use in transporting their livestock quickly and without loss in weight or time. This body it is felt fully fulfills that need.

No Loss by Leakage.

As a high grain-tight body, the truck is arranged to carry its full capacity of grain in a body which makes impossible loss by leakage through the truck body.

The flareboard express body is intended for the general purposes that come up around the farm. It can be used for hauling implements and almost anything that is not provided for by the other types of body.

Two additional forms to which the body adapts itself is the basket rack arrangement which provides a 12-inch flareboard over each side of the body with 12-inch vertical extensions to these. Baskets of produce are thus easily handled and the body can also be used to carry passengers. In addition to this the hay rack arrangement by which the truck can be converted into a hay wagon in which 1½ tons or more of loose hay can be handled is also provided.

Trucks to be efficient farm helpers must be possible of greatest utility and this body will help farmers to keep their trucks working continually.

It is very important that regular inspections should be made of the leather coverings or "boots," which protect the universals and other parts. Flying stones or sticks are apt to destroy these boots permitting the lubricant to leak out and give entrance to dust and dirt. Look them over once a month anyway.

CHEVROLET HANGS UP NUMBER OF RECORDS

Passenger Cars and Trucks Show Up Well Under Various Tests

Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks have been hanging up some good records lately, announces the Begg Motor Company, local Chevrolet distributors.

Six days from Flagstaff, Ariz., to Dallas, Tex., is the record made by H. A. Moore, of Flagstaff, in a "Four-Ninety" Chevrolet touring car.

Moore purchased his car and started for Dallas the same day. He carried 1,000 pounds of baggage and four passengers. He averaged a fraction over twenty-five miles to the gallon for the entire distance of 1,210 miles, and consumed but one quart of oil.

The total expense was $16.70. The railroad fare one way would have been $46 and $10 Pullman. On the trip there were more than 400 miles of mud encountered, and in other parts the going was exceedingly rough.

In a recent mileage test a model "Four-Ninety" Chevrolet covered 32.2 miles on a measured gallon of gasolene.

This test was held at Walla Walla, Wash., by a representative of the Walla Walla Union, who drove the car until the measured gallon of gasolene was exhausted. At no time was the motor stopped until the entire amount of fuel had been consumed.

An example of the utility of the motor truck is the service performed by a Chevrolet one-ton truck operated by the Fleischmann Yeast Company during the recent railway tieup in California.

When the strike tied up the railroads and the Fleischmann company could not deliver yeast to the bakers of California, a quick decision was made. The Chevrolet truck was purchased and with this truck loaded with yeast the driver was sent to cover the highways and keep the bakers supplied until the strike ended.

SEVEN THOUSAND NASH QUADS WILL BE USED ON ROADS

Powerful Four-Wheeled Drive Machines Allotted to Every State in Union

In what is regarded as perhaps the most comprehensive nation-wide move for good roads ever undertaken, approximately 7,000 Nash Quads are being placed by the United States Government in active road-building service throughout every state in the Union, according to word received by the Shell Garage, local Nash distributors. The Quads are being distributed by the Department of Agriculture to the respective state highway commissioners and through them to Road Commissioners of practically every county in the United Sates.

This announcement follows closely the adoption by the United States Marines of the Nash Quad as standard equipment for expeditionary service.

The Government's good roads programme calls for the distribution of twenty-thousand motor trucks of various makes and of the total number more than one-third are Nash Quads.

The Nash Quad has a reputation with twenty-three nations for its unusual hauling ability under abnormal conditions. It is known practically the world over for its performance where road conditions and traction conditions are bad. In road construction work the Nash Quad long since demonstrated its superiority. This is due, in large measure, to its four wheel traction and automatic locking differentials.

In Army Use.

The trucks alloted by the Government for road work were built for the United States Army during the war; some of them have seen service in various cantonments here while others were new and never had seen active duty.

Under the Act of Congress which authorized the distribution, the trucks are turned over by the Quartermaster's Department to the Department of Agriculture. They will be equipped by the various States with hydraulic hoist bodies for road-making work.

Distribution of the trucks and other road-building material is based upon the respective road-building appropriation of each State and in turn the appropriation of each county.

Each State is to receive its allotment of trucks including Nash Quads, in accordance with the following table compiled by the Government:

Special Legislation.

In a number of States it will be necessary to enact special legislation covering maintenance of the trucks and other road-building machinery being distributed by the Government. It is expected, however, that by early spring practically every county in the United States will be fully equipped and that one of the greatest road-building campaigns in the history of the country will go into full swing.

LATEST MODEL CARS AT M'MORRAN GARAGE

R. E. McMorran Receives Shipment of 1920 Briscoes and Hupmobiles

A joyful smile decorates the affable countenance of "Rube" McMorran to-day and the explanation of it lies in his elation over the receipt of a shipment of 1920 model Briscoe and Hupmobile passenger cars, for which Mr. McMorran is the local distributor.

"These cars are the very latest in comfort and luxurious driving," says Mr. McMorran, who extends a hearty invitation to all who may be interested in studying the newest features of these cars, to visit his garage. Since obtaining the agency for these two favorates, Mr. McMorran has experienced a very satisfactory demand for the cars and he claims that the new models are so attractive in many points from the buyer's standpoint that all sales records will be broken. Great interest has been displayed in the new arrivals and already orders have been placed for a goodly number of cars.

In addition to the passenger cars above mentioned, Mr. McMorran is agent for the famous Garford truck which has established such an enviable record for endurance and efficiency.

"Despite the shortage of cars this season, we have been able to get delivery of a fair supply and from now on we do not anticipate any trouble in meeting the demand," says Mr. McMorran. "As for the 1920 model Briscoes and Hupmobiles, I am proud to say that they justify the efforts of the factories in turning out the very highest class product and the public is asked to judge them solely on their merits. I will be pleased to demonstrate at any time the advantages which these cars possess."

Crude rubber amounting to 17,965 tons was imported into the United States in July this year, which is an increase of 1,646 tons over June of this year. Although June imports dropped to 16,319 tons from 14,124 tons last year, the 1918 figures were unusually high, the average import for June being nearer this year's figures.

KNOW YOUR BATTERY IF YOU WOULD SAVE

How to Get Greatest Efficiency and Longest Life From This Vital Part of Motor Car—Some Details of Its Construction and Care

There is a fundamental difference between those parts of a car which should never need attention from the owner and those parts which do. Builders of automobiles, trucks and tractors, as well as builders of important parts and accessories, should recognize this difference and emphasize it more in their selling and advertising.

Under any normal condition it is an outrage upon Mr. Car Owner's delicate susceptibilities if a front axle, I-beam or rear axle drive shaft break, as he has a reason to blame both the axle builder and also the car builder.

On the other hand, the grease cup on the front axle steering knuckle is the owner's responsibility. He has no right to kick because he has to turn down the cup occasionally after filling it with fresh grease. But if the car builder doesn't tell him he should do it, then the car builder is partially responsible. Now, the storage battery is one of those adjuncts to economical and reliable operation that must be cared for. And through the battery builder's advertising, the public is beginning to understand this.

Putting "Pep" Into Battery.

Your battery differs from almost every other part of your car in being chemical, not mechanical, in its function. You do not really pour electricity into it like a fluid and then draw it out for use as if by turning on a spigot. You pass a current through it from the generator which is geared to your engine and this current changes the chemical condition of the battery, causing sulphuric acid to be drawn out of the plates and redeposited in the battery solution. Then when you close the starting or lighting circuit a current flows out of the battery, as chemical action causes the sulphuric acid to combine again with the lead of the plates.

The amount of acid in the battery is, therefore, constant, and one should never add to it with the mistaken idea that it will put "pep" into the battery. When the battery goes dead it is because the acid has gone back into the plates, "sulphating" them, and what the battery needs is a prolonged charge to draw it back into the solution again. This total discharge is probably your own fault because you have used more current for lights and starting than the generator could put back.

Hydrometre Test.

You should have learned that you must test your battery with a hydrometre, a device that registers the specific gravity of each cell and tells you whether the battery is charged properly or not—since the specific gravity of the battery solution (of its weight as compared with water) varies according to the amount of sulphuric acid in it. This test should be made every two weeks.

The car builder specifies the rate of charge for the generator according to the average rate at which he expects his car to be driven. If you continuously drive much faster, if you take long tours, if you have few starts and stops and little use of lamps, you will put too much current into your battery and burn up your plates. If you are a doctor driving in winter with many stops, short runs and lots of night work, you'll take too much out and the battery will "go dead."

Adding Water.

But with regular testing you can regulate driving and avoid trouble. If your battery is being underfed, take it to a service station and have it charged. It doesn't cost much and is an insignificant price for essential service compared to oil, gas and most other charges. If your battery is overfed, it will feel hot to the touch. Then you should open the starter a little oftener or, better still, turn on all your lights.

The other element in the acid solution of the battery is water. In connection with this there are two things for the car owner to remember:

1. Water evaporates and must be replaced at intervals of two weeks or so.

2. Only pure distilled water should be used.

Regular Inspection.

More trouble results from neglect of this than from any other cause. When the level of the water falls below the top of the plate, only the submerged portion of the plate is active. That means more current going into less plate surface and less current going out. Result: overheating and uneven deterioration of plates.

As 90 per cent. of all battery troubles result from neglect of these two easy, simple things thus far mentioned—testing and filling—you can imagine what an increase there would be in battery life if simply that much and no more was observed by the car owner. Moreover, there is hardly a garage which does not profess to flush and test batteries regularly for its customers—but hundreds of those cars are daily driven unto battery service stations and found to be only half filled or undercharged. Every garage proprietor should insist that one of his men do this little job for each car regularly. The average car owner would far rather pay a small extra charge than to bother about it himself.

Avoid Violence.

And it should be pure distilled water, not "city" water from the nearest faucet. Otherwise you may be literally poisoning the batteries with ingredients which it cannot digest. Other ways in which batteries are carelessly handled in a garage are these:

On frosty mornings when the steam pressure is low and engines sluggish you will hear the cars in an average garage roaring like blast furnaces. Clouds of smoke arise; throttles are wide open. Here is an owner stepping on the starter button and spinning the motor over and over. There is a garage employee doing the same thing, while he shoves the throttle and spark levers up and down to "hurry it up." All this violence is unnecessary. It not only exhausts the battery, but when the car starts it puts terrific strain on starter gears, clutch, rear axle and tires.

Useful Pointers.

Again, many cheap hydrometres are sold which are totally unreliable and don't really tell the truth about a battery, and many garages not only use them, but sell them to customers. Don't do this; be sure you get the best one to be had, and pay more for it. The dealer, garage man, or owner who really wants complete knowledge of handling batteries to make them last may be interested in the following summary of little pointers that will be helpful:

Testing—To determine whether battery is charged properly. Either use a really reliable hydrometre or go to a battery service station. Test at least twice a month. Always test before adding water to the battery. Never afterward. Specific gravity should be 1.285 or higher.

Charging—When a battery needs recharging, send it to a regular charging station where it will be given a long charge—not a hurry-up one for a cheap price.

Water—Use pure distilled water twice a month. It costs little and no other water is trustworthy.

Starting—Retard spark and throttle, throw out clutch, use choker (if the car has one), prime cylinders in cold weather. Don't hold starter button down continuously. Give it a single pressure and if she doesn't start do it again.

Keeping all wiring connections tight and spark plugs greatly accelerates starting.

Hot Weather—In touring, or if you run much without lights and with few starts, examine battery for overheating. If it is hot to touch insert dairy thermometer. If 110 degrees Farenheit or over turn on all lights till it cools down. Lack of water is also a frequent cause of overheating.

Cold Weather—Fully charged batteries don't freeze. Therefore be sure to test regularly in winter. Starting instructions—as already given—are important. Dark days and long nights with constant use of lights and overwork for starter cause under charging if not watched.

Cleanliness—Keep battery clean and dry. Every time it is filled wipe off top with a cloth.

Never bring an open flame near top of battery.

Never "short" a battery with a screwdriver or pair of pliers. It is very bad for the battery, draws out excessive current, and does not give you any reliable information. Use your hydrometer.

Tight Connections—Don't allow terminals and connections to become loose. See that battery is firmly clamped into place. Constant vibration will ultimately shake it to pieces, cause broken jars when you hit a bump and loosen connections.

Service Station—Dealers and garages should advise customers to call regularly at the most reliable battery service station in town for helpful advice, testing and repairs. Never send a man to anybody who is not a trained battery man.

To follow the preceding instructions is not difficult; it involves far less time, labor and expense than lubrication, for example, or proper care of tires.

If the car owner could only realize the years of incessant labor and thought that have gone into the making of the units of the electrical system on his car he would better understand why it deserves a little good care from him.

Dealers and garage men can help the car owner by making this plain to customers.

When a battery has given eighteen months or two years of good service the owner should feel as he does when he has 8,000 or 10,000 miles from a tire—every additional mile is an extra dividend on his investment.

RATTLES AND SQUEAKS NEED NOT EXIST

Nothing is more annoying to the owner of an automobile than rattles and squeaks. They detract from the comfort and relaxation which one expects to have when driving and cause one to be ever conscious of an effort on the part of the car to perform.

Many of them creep in at points which are really of minor importance and are so common that motorists have about come to the conclusion that they are weaknesses to which every car must fall heir during its period of usefulness.

However, Cole engineers are of a different opinion. They contend that a car properly designed never should develop a squeak or rattle, and to this end they are continually adding small refinements, which have a tendency to make the Aero-Eight a car which can take the roads as they come and glide from a snail's pace to lighting swiftness with absolute silence.

A recent step in this connection has been the addition to an absorbing noises at this point are entirely noise proof control set. Discountered in most cars. The control lever has tendency to vibrate, and in doing so sets up a slight metallic clang that becomes most irritating in a long day's drive over country roads.

In the Aero-Eight the control lever is held snugly in place by a small, high tension coiled spring, which is fitted to the base of the housing and the corresponding side of the gear control ball. This spring prevents the gear shift lever from vibrating when the car is running, regardless of the nature of the road, and the customary clicking or rattling of the lever is absolutely prevented.

Another function of this attachment is to insure accurate gear-shifting in the utilization of the bendix drive, with which the Aero-Eight is equipped.

PART OF HIGHWAY IS OPENED FOR TRAFFIC

The opening of the new roadbed between Parsons Bridge and the Railway Crossing yesterday is causing general satisfaction and delight among the motorists of Vancouver Island, who have suffered the agonies of driving over the uneven and atrocious detour which they have been compelled to use during the summer months on account of the improvements which are being made on the Island Highway between Craigflower and Parsons Bridge.

The roadbed over the section mentioned was finished by the contractors some time ago, but in order to allow it to harden, it was necessary to keep traffic off it until yesterday, when it was found that the new surface had set sufficiently to allow of its being used. It will be a long time before the balance of the Highway improvement is completed, but the opening of the section at the Parson's Bridge end cuts out the worst part of the detour.

DUNLOP CORD TIRES PROVED ECONOMICAL

Strenuous Tests Have Shown Their Worth, Says Dunlop Tire Manager

"Dunlop cord tires are taking a wonderful hold here and throughout Vancouver Island and I attribute this solely to the extra mileage patrons get out of them and the entire satisfaction given. They may cost a little more but buyers are finding that it is good economy in the long run," said H. H. Lewis, manager of the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Company's Vancouver Island branch.

One does not need to go outside Victoria to learn of the wonderful records established by Dunlop cords and the following instances will prove interesting to those who study economy in tires.

The Empress Taxi Company succeeded in getting over 18,500 miles out of one set of cords, which is equivalent to more than three and a half round trips from Victoria to Montreal. With considerably more than the usual strain placed on tires, the Cordova Bay stage rounded out over 13,000 miles with cords used in a seven-passenger McLaughlin car.

The records made by some of these tires have been a surprise even to the Dunlop company's experts who after considerable pains and experimenting evolved the now famous Dunlop cord.

The advantages of the cord tire are many, says Mr. Lewis. The cord construction makes for resiliency, meaning greater resistance to road shocks and stone bruises, and ensuring utmost comfort in riding. It also adds strength because of its tremendous toughness.

It also eliminates internal friction and every cord or strand of cord material is wrapped in a protecting coat of high grade elastic rubber. The use of these tires has also shown a direct saving in gasolene and also gives a buoyancy to the car which lengthens its life and lends considerably to easier steering.

EXPORTS— Canada Must Build Up Trade Overseas

Aims of the NAVY LEAGUE OF CANADA

To emphasize Canada's opportunities and responsibilities on the sea.

To raise funds for the relief of our merchant seamen, injured in the war, and for dependents of those who were killed.

To maintain sailors' homes in our ports.

To train boys and young men for our merchant ships by the organization of Boys' Naval Brigades.

Patron
H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES
Dominion President
COMMODORE ÆMILIUS JARVIS

CANADA is vitally interested in trade extension overseas, for this so closely affects our national wealth. We are daily losing export business in favor of foreign competitors, because we lack shipping facilities.

Our Dominion is undertaking a great shipbuilding program, recognizing that we must build a fleet to build our trade.

The Navy League of Canada is straining every effort to prepare Canadian boys to man Canada's ships which will carry Canada's goods to the waiting markets of the world.

This is the work of the Boys' Naval Brigades, and it is a matter of primary interest to every Canadian that this movement should not be handicapped by lack of funds.

Nelson Day Campaign for $500,000

OCTOBER 21st, 22nd, 23rd

"Canadians Must Sail the Seas"

Boys' Naval Brigades are already established and operating in Charlottetown, Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Saskatoon, Calgary, Victoria and Nanaimo, and many other branches must be organized from East to West in order that the younger generation of Canadians may have the opportunity for free training in seamanship and so will be ready to meet Canada's great need.

You will help. You cannot afford to withhold interest in the outcome of this campaign; it is too vital to future issues. For the sake of our boys and of our export trade you will give, and give liberally to the cause. By helping the work you will be helping yourself.

TETRAZZINI SINGS AFTER SIX YEARS

Prima Donna Received With Acclaim Again in London

London, Oct. 18.—After an absence of six years from this country Mme. Tetrazzini made her reappearance ni London on Saturday afternoon.

The singer received a wonderful welcome from the huge audience, and was obviously greatly touched by this proof that the public here had not forgotten her during her long absence.

Her first solo was the familiar "A, fors e lui" from "Traviata," her singing of which resulted in two encores. Mme. Tetrazzini's voice in the Verdi air showed all that brilliancy and ease of technique which used to delight London in pre-war days, and the florid phrases were most delightfully sung by her.

At the conclusion of the solo a wonderful floral gift, decorated with the Italian colors, from some admirers, was presented to the primadonna, who then came forward and gave a little Italian song which so pleased the audience that another song had to follow.

Later in the afternoon Mme. Tetrazzini again roused wonderful enthusiasm by her superb singing of the Mad Scene from "Hamlet," after which more encores were demanded, and more floral tributes presented to her.

Other artists contributed some acceptable items to the afternoon's programme. Mlle. Renee Chemet played some violin solos most artistically, her performance of a piece by Pugnani being particularly good. Signor Cimara gave a Chopin Polonaise in finishing manner, and Mr. Frank Mullings was heard in the Death Scene from "Otello" and Meyerbeer's "O Paradiso."

Yet another girl violinist, and it is prophesied her name will be bracketed with the names of such other great women violinists as Norman Neruda, Camillo Urso, and Maud Powell. Her name is Josy Kryl, daughter of Bohumir Kryl, conductor of the famous Kryl orchestra. She is a pupil of Ysaye, pupil of the great Henri Vieutemps, of the Belgian school, (pointed out in a previous article). Miss Kryl, it is said, is most attractive, thoroughly sincere, a musician to the finger-tips, and plays like a man, which, I presume, being interpreted means she is a violiniste of masculine qualities.

Local Musicians to Tour the Okanagan

Four Victoria boys, Vernon, Harry and William Smith, and William Thorne, all of whom have enjoyed a measure of success in local musical affairs, will leave on Wednesday for the Okanagan to engage upon a semi-professional concert tour. The Smith brothers have played on numerous occasions, Vernon being perhaps the best known as a talented young violinist. In this capacity he has appeared at Government House, at various concerts at Pantages Theatre, at the High School and at George Jay School. Harry Smith is an accomplished pianist and a sympathetic accompanist, while Cyril the third of the trio, is a very promising 'cellist. Wm. Thorne is a versatile performer, being a banjoist of no mean order as well as a skilled conjurer. The quartette will leave on Wednesday next for the upper country. On Monday evening they will give a farewell concert, to be followed by a dance, at St. John's Hall, Herald Street.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF MUSIC IN WAR

Camp Music Division of U. S. War Department Issues Booklet

An interesting book, which gives the official record of what music did to help win the war, is the report recently issued by the Camp Music Division of the U. S. War Department. The book gives a comprehensive story of the universal use of music in the camps and tells of its effects upon the army which went to France, as follows:

"Our allies' first impression of our marching troops was that of serious faces and determined tread, but later, even the most casual reports rarely ever failed to mention the 'singing doughboy.' What the doughboy sang troubled him little. The joy of singing possessed him. He knew instinctively that his singing voice had been released along with his other powers to be used against the need of the hour, and he left it for the people at home to discover that the quality was in the spirit of his singing, and not in the song.

"It was an heroic test of the community-music ideal that music must first be used to serve human needs if a people is ever to express itself through music. And so music went to war in the spirit of service to the doughboy—simple, democratic, adaptable to all his moods. How well he understood these qualities was proved by the armistice. November 11, 1918, was the burial day of all so-called 'Kaiser Karols,' 'Pep' songs were instantly replaced by old favorites, especially songs of sentiment: more ambitious music was demanded: quartets and glee clubs aspired to excellence of performance. Consciously or unconsciously the doughboy commenced a return service to the art that had served him so practically in the most terrific test of his ideals."

The work of the Commission of Training Camp Activities, which did so much to bring music into the camps, is referred to as follows:

"Almost everyone was sceptical of the Commission activities at first and the hesitation of commanding officers to make a place for them is only evidence of how much we all had to learn. The significant aspect of the history of singing is just that—the advance from scepticism and reluctance to conviction and enthusiasm. We of the National Committee were enthusiastic and confident of our own specialty—the power of music to inspire and exalt as well as to discipline in rhythm, and make the fusion of widely varying individuals easier and more secure."

MINIATURES IN THE MUSICAL ART

New York Chamber Music Society Covers Unique Field

The coming musical season will witness the fifth series of concerts to be given by the New York Chamber Music Society. Practically alone in this rather neglected but highly interesting field, the organization is winning a constantly growing coterie of enthusiastic listeners.

This chamber music society stands to-day as the culmination of an ideal conceived by Miss Carolyn Beebe, who as the pianist of the ensemble, directs its activities. Realizing the untapped beauties in the field of chamber music, she has built up an organization of soloists qualified to give them to the public. In the harmonious unity of this group of players, there is readily discernible the individuality of each artist's expression. And that is, after all, the secret of the beauty of chamber music—the revelation of the special design each instrument is weaving, compatible with the larger, holder design of the whole.

The ensemble, including as it does violins, viola, cello, double bass, clarinet, flute, oboe, bassoon and French horn, is well equipped to give programmes of great variety and interest, because of the numerous and diverse combinations of instruments possible. There is no organization exactly like it, for all combinations of instruments are open to it, and it is equipped to cover all.

The small number of players and the variety of instruments in this group make possible the performance of what one might call miniatures in musical art, having all the beauties of orchestral music together with the additional fineness and accuracy of development unobtainable from larger groups. In bringing before the public masses of new musical literature, the New York Chamber Music Society fulfills an educational function outside its purely musical purpose.

Of music, this is what the President of the U. S. A., Woodrow Wilson, says: "The man who disparages music as a luxury and nonessential is doing the nation an injury. Music now, more than ever before, is a present national need. There is no better way to express patriotism than through music."

PLEASING PROGRAMME FOR COMING RECITAL

Miss Audrey Mildmay to Be Assisted by Soldier-Artists

That musicians can also become soldiers is evident from the news that all the artists appearing with Miss Mildmay at her recital on Wednesday next, at the Alexandra Club, have been in the service of the Empire.

Mr. Burnett, who some time before the war made his appearance as a baritone vocalist, at the commencement of hostilities joined the famous 72nd Highlanders, and Mr. Foxall, "who is acting as accompanist," made his debut when only eleven years, in his home town of Birmingham, Eng., as an accompanist, and during the war became a pilot in the Royal Flying Corps, while Mr. Jolly, the 'cellist, went overseas with the 231st Seaforths.

Miss Mildmay states that it is not only on the grounds of patriotism that she chose these soldier artists as her confreres, but their artistic value attracted her—and no doubt her choice was a wise one.

MUSICAL NOTES

By George J. Dyke.

New South Wales is adding to its social and educational services in the establishment of a State orchestra at Sidney, the first of its kind ever organized in Australia. It is planned that the orchestra shall give one hundred concerts during its first season: on Thursday evening a classical, and on Saturday evenings a popular programme. The orchestra will consist of seventy-five players, fifty-four of whom are guaranteed a minimum of $1,000 a year, and all players may practice their profession outside the demands of the orchestra—thus is the salary of the musicians materially increased.

George Bernard Shaw, a great lover of music and music critic, is supporting the newly-organized British Music Society, and is appealing to all classes of music-lovers in England to interest themselves in and to support the objects of the society.

Strange to say that the "Missouri Waltz" is a great favorite throughout Great Britain. It is a pleasure to "note" that the ballads and songs written by present-day English composers are having tremendous success.

The writer is of the opinion that the phonograph is a blessing and one of the greatest educators in the world to-day.

Listen pianists! Benno Moisei-Witsch is coming to this country on a tour. His performances have been a record, and are quite astonishing. Last winter he was soloist at twenty-five orchestral concerts in London, and at eighteen in eleven other large cities in England and Scotland.. Besides these he gave fifty recitals in London, Birmingham, Nottingham, Plymouth, Liverpool, Glasgow and other cities. Gigantic work, indeed, and a wonderful player, too, from all accounts.

Heifetz, the violinist, has given the proceeds of one of his concerts to a section of the Home Service Red Cross Seashore Cottage at Long Branch.

A bell when fairly struck gives out three distinct notes; the fundamental, or tonic; the octave above, or nominal; and the octave below, or "hum note."

Verdi was writing with great spontaneity when over eighty years of age, an age when it is generally believed that all is finished in this life, even with music composers.

Music is an art, but it has also a business side.

What a princely gift of Mr. Eastman! He has left to the city of Rochester nearly half a million dollars for the purpose of combining a large musical institution with auditoriums for concert purposes, "movies" and other means of public recreation and enjoyment. Not only will the public thus receive entertainment of an educational character, but will have in their midst much music, joy and happiness.

The Arts Club of Washington has undertaken the duty of erecting a bell tower and carillon as a peace memorial and as a tribute to Belgium. There will be a bell for each state and two for the District of Columbia. Certainly a beautiful and artistic form of memorial. There is a tower with carillon in Ghent, Belgium.

Now comes the news that the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, is about to raise the price of its seats. Orchestra chairs will now cost $7.70 each. It is said that it costs $10,000 a night to raise the curtain at the Metropolitan Opera House, and that the annual turnover in cash is estimated to be $1,700,000, which amount covers the cost of about 200 opera and concert performances, and a few former deficits and emergency funds. The Metropolitan pays no dividends, the directors being satisfied to make grand opera self-supporting, and any profits shown are devoted to the improvements in the performances of the following year. Opera in New York is surely established on a sound financial foundation.

NEW SINGER HEHE

Mrs. A. Wills, Formerly of Toronto Conservatoire, to Sing at First Church Sunday.

A singer new to Victoria, but who has made a reputation for herself in musical circles in Toronto, Mrs. A. Wills, is to be soloist at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening. Mrs. Wills is the possessor of a very sweet, true soprano voice, and in Toronto where she lived before her recent marriage, she was for five years soprano soloist in the Brewer Street Presbyterian Church.

Nor was her musical experience confined to church work, for she appeared on numerous occasions on the concert platform and at the Toronto Conservatoire. On Sunday evening, Mrs. Wills will sing the solo "The Voice Crying in the Wilderness," (Pringle Scott).

ORCHESTRAL MUSIC AT CHURCH SERVICES

English Writer Suggests New Field For Demoblized Army Musicians

Reviewing the great strides that band and orchestral music has taken during the war, how the number of players has increased, and how these war activities should be turned into the right channels now, Ulric Daubeny presents in the London Musical Times a strong argument for the Church's use of bands and orchestras for the praise part of the services.

"In these enlightened times," he say, "it seems unlikely that any widespread objection could be offered to such use of bands and orchestras. Any doubts on the ground of religious authority would soon be dispelled by reference to the Bible or any history of the early Church.

Mosaic Codes.

"For instance, the Mosaic Codes are rich in references to music in connection with religious observance, and it remains an article of Christian faith that the Jewish religious ceremonies were influenced by divine direction, and not merely instituted at the personal caprice of the priests. To offer but a single example, 2 Chron. V. 12 decribes "The Levites which were the singers . . . being arrayed in white linen, having cymbals, and psalteries and harps, stood at the east end of the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests sounded with trumpets.'

"To turn to comparatively modern times, even in that excessively straitlaced period which followed upon the Reformation, we read of "cornetts and sackbuts' being used in Worcester Cathedral on the occasion of Queen Elizabeth's visit in 1575, while in the time of James I, the same instruments were included among the choir of Westminster Abbey.

Psalmist's Exhortation.

"Purcell included trumpet parts in his famous Te Deum, and Boyce, in 1755, added to this work parts for oboes, bassoons and drums. Handel's Chandos Anthems, in addition to the organ, demanded for their performance strings, oboes, flutes, bassoons, and often trumpets.

"Surely all this is but carrying out the exhortation of the Psalmist: "Sing unto the Lord with the Harp, with the harp, and the voice of a psalm. With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the Lord, the King."

The inclusion of orchestral instruments in church choirs, Mr. Daubeny concludes, would thus accord with the fullest and most worthy precedent. He points out that any such revival could not be regarded wholly in the light of an experiment, for in the instances where it was tried before the war nothing but success resulted.

Percy Grainger, just out of khaki, has booked up the biggest tour he has ever undertaken, to include Canada, and will be on the coast next April.

ST. JAMES CHURCH GETS NEW LIGHTING

Congregation Pleased With Transformation; New Heating Plant Planned

Newly lighted throughout, St. James Episcopal Church, Corner of Quebec and St. John Streets, presented a wonderfully changed appearance when the first of the Thanksgiving services, which will extend over to-morrow, was held in the church Thursday evening. It was a pleasant surprise for every member of the good-sized congregation who attended the service.

The church management is deeply indebted to T. R. Myers and other officials of the B. C. Electri Railway Company for the valuable assistance and advice they gave in securing and intalling the new lighting system. The poor lighting of the church has been a source of inconvenience for a long time and the congregation is delighted with the new order of things.

The heating of the church is the next matter that will be promptly attended to, and Harry Cooley has made the management a very generous offer in this connection which will result in a satisfactory and comfortable heating of the church. It is hoped that the new heating plant will be installed before the end of this month.

On Monday night a congregational meeting will be held at the Connaught Seamen's Institute, commencing at 8 o'clock, when an informal programme of entertainment, including light refreshments, will be given and plans for the winter work discussed.

At Thursday's Thanksgiving service Rev. R. T. Archibold, the rector, was assisted by Rev. C. Swanson, of Sooke and Metchosin, who preached, and Rev. T. M. Hughes, of St. Matthias Church, who read the lessons. Special music was provided.

Chaplain Returns From Overseas.—Rev. Father Andrew MacDonell, M.C., one of the many Victoria clergymen who joined the Canadian Chaplain Service during the late war, has returned to the city after nearly four years' absence. Prior to the war he was in charge of St. Joseph's House at Ladysmith, a school for homeless boys and girls. When the 67th Battalion was formed he joined them as chaplain, and left for the Old Land in March, 1916, with the unit. Reaching France he transferred to the 12th Canadian Infantry Brigade, remaining with them all the time he was there. He arrived in the fighting area in August, 1916, and only left there in May this year, as although his Division did not go into Germany with the Army of Occupation, the chaplain's duties for many months continued just the same after the war as before. He himself made a short visit three or four days into Germany at the end of last year, so that he has at least a general impression of the conditions.

ANGLICAN "CHILDREN'S DAY" TO-MORROW

Special Services Planned at All Churches Throughout Cana

To-morrow being the third Sunday in October is appointed "Children's Day" in the Anglican Church in the Diocese of Columbia and throughout the Dominion of Canada, and the occasion will be appropriately observed in all services of the Church and Sunday School meetings to-morrow. It is a day when all parents as well as members of the Sunday Schools and others interested in the training of the young are urged to attend the Sunday services.

United Children's Service

A number of the city schools are co-operating in the promotion of a united children's service to be held in Christ Church Cathedral to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, the service being a public one and open to all children and members of the Church of England Sunday Schools in the district. An address will be given on "Boys and Girls of the Church and the Forward Movement" by Mr. A. R. Merrix, Diocesan organizing secretary for the Forward Movement. The work of the general board of religious education of the Church of England in Canada is the object to which all offerings at this service will be given.

Special Music

The order of service followed will include several well-known and some special hymns, and a hymn practice is being conducted to-night in the cathedral schoolroom at 7.15 for all boys and girls planning to attend the united service to-morrow afternoon.

TALENTED SOLOIST COMES TO CITY

A distinct acquisition to the musical fraternity of this city is announced in the arrival here of Madame F. E. Meakin-Mahoney, soprano soloist and vocal teacher, who arrived here from Hastings, England, within the past month.

Madame Meakin-Mahoney who is spoken of in the English press as "South of England's Favorite" has studied with Dr. Herman Brearley, and R. E. Groves, L.R.A.M., A.R.C.O., and is also the possessor of the gold medal received in competition in London. Madame Meakin-Mahoney's first public appearance in Victoria will be at the monthly recital to be given on Sunday evening October 26, at the First Congregational Church.

WELL-KNOWN PASTOR HERE ON SUNDAY

Dr. Esler to Preach at St. Paul's Anniversary Services

The anniversary preacher at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, on Sunday, will be the Rev. Alexander Esler, M. A., recently called from Calgary, Alta., to Vancouver.

A native of County Antrim, Ireland, Mr. Esler received his training at Princeton, N. J. During a pastorate of five years in Westminster Presbyterian Church, West Chester, Pa., a beautiful new church was erected and the membership increased nearly one hundred per cent. His notable work at West Chester brought Mr. Esler to the attention of the influential churches throughout the country, several of which made efforts to secure his services. Finally the largest Presbyterian church in Toronto prevailed upon him to take charge of the great work in that centre to succeed that distinguished preacher, the Rev. Dr. Wm. Patterson, who had been called to Bethany Church in PhHadelphia, sometimes known as the Wanamaker Church.

In Toronto Mr. Esler labored six and one-half years with phenomenal success, receiving during that time into the membership of the church 1,388 new members. With a seating capacity of 2,500 the church was packed every Sunday night, many being unable to obtain admission. Every year of his pastorate in Toronto witnessed hundreds of conversions, and during that time fifteen young men from his church went into the Gospel ministry.

Evangelistic Work.

Meantime, the leading laymen of large means in the Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, feeling that the church's interest in that great city needed a preacher of scholarly attainments and fervid evangelistic power to be a pastor at large to carry on evangelistic work in the Presbytery, after very careful consideration fixed upon Mr. Esler as the one best suited to do this important work. Mr. Esler was so impressed with the magnitude and needs of the work in Philadelphia, that he finally consented to take it up.

At the farewell luncheon tendered him by the Ministerial Association of Toronto, Dr. Milligan, who presided, said: "The name of Mr. Esler will be remembered as gratefully in Toronto as is that of his predecessor also of Philadelphia. "The City of Brotherly Love' knows where to go when it wants men who can reach the people."

After several years of most successful work in Philadlphia, Mr. Esler accepted a call to Grace Church, Calgary, which during a pastorate of eight and a half years, and that during the war years, increased its membership from 126 to nearly 1,000. The seating capacity of the church, although enlarged, was found inadequate, and a new church was built. Mr. Esler is now pastor of Robertson Church, Vancouver.

The special services on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. are commemorative of the founding of St. Paul's Church twenty-eight years ago, by the Rev. Donald MacRae, D. D., who with his esteemed wife and fellow-laborer, is honored and beloved for his work's sake. The present pastor, Rev. H. N. Maclean, M. A., Ph.D., will soon complete his sixth year in the pastorate. At 2.30 p. m. Mr. Esler will address the Sunday School.

The annual social re-union will be held on Monday night at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, when the ladies will serve refreshments. Capt. E. H. Martin, C. M. G., R. N., will preside. Miss Vincent, J. G. Brown, G. H. Guy, Capt. Robert Morrison and others will sing. Mr. Esler will give an address on "The Christian Home."

"PADRES' FELLOWSHIP"

English Chaplains Unite to Weld Bond Formed During War; Seek Church Reforms

"The Padres' Fellowship" is the title of a new society which has been formed in England of chaplains and other religious workers who served overseas during the war.

An open meeting of all those interested was held on October 6 in the Hoare Memorial Hall, Church House, Westminster, when a constitution for the Fellowship along inter-denominational lines was submitted.

The Fellowship, while maintaining the bond of fellowship won in a common cause with H. M. forces, intends to press for reforms in the life and methods of the respective churches, and to foster a temper of mind favorable to the healing of the divisions of Christendom.

Membership will be open also to those clergy and ministers who served as combatants.

The new society will be the outcome of a Church of England Fellowship for ex-Chaplains, which was started in 1918, and reconstitution on a broader basis has been undertaken at the desire of Bishop Gwynne, the late Deputy-Chaplain-General in France.

The secretaries are the Rev. T. Wilkinson Riddle, George Street Baptist Church, Plymouth, and the Rev. T. H. Masters, C. B. E., East Meon Vicarage, Petersfield, Hants.

GYPSY SMITH'S LIFE, "ROMANCE OF GRACE"

Gypsy Smith, who is to commence a mission in Victoria on October 30, is a study in himself. He is a man of many parts and wide experience. "From Gypsy Tent to Pulpit," is the subject of the address or lecture wherein he tells of his career. If his case is an example of what lies innately in human lives, it is evident that educational and evangelizing agencies overlook a good many opportunities of developing leaders. Gypsy Smith was educated in the school of experience. So far as the visible factors in his education are concerned, he had some favorable and some unfavorable ones. It all depends on how men look at these things. Poverty is a "curse," unless it stirs a man ta action. That stir is his making. It might seem unfortunate to be born in a gypsy tent, but that, too, depends on the way it is looked at. Some of the world's greatest leaders have started right at the bottom of things. It is not where a man starts, but where he gets to that counts. We must learn to prize human life more and the accidents of circumstances less.

Romance of Grace.

The factors that the great evangelist emphasizes the most are the invisible ones. His life, to use his own phrase, is a "romance of grace." The religious impulse stirred him deeply in his early years. The voice of the spirit was the voice which emancipated him. The personality which above all other, has dominated and taught and inspired him is that of the Christ. He is always frank about ascribing praise to the chief cause of his promotion and success. Whether in the pulpit surrounded by a galaxy of close sympathizers or addressing a group of keen, preoccupied business men, he is open and courageous in his great avowal. And people respect him all the more for it. One great secret of his power is that he is always at school. The secret of failure with some men is that they "graduated" when they left college. Gypsy Smith is always learning, always fresh, always youthful. His short-comings are due more to his profession than to his personality. Like men of his class he capitalizes his experiences. It is just at this point where a man is most apt to appear egotistical.

Dignified Manner.

His language and manner are dignified without being professional. He is seldom theological or academic in his addresses. The best flashes are apparently spontaneous and are clothed in choice Anglo-Saxon. His thinking is deeper than might be suspected because it is so clearly expressed. He is more interested in his cause than in himself. That sways him at all times.

His view of religion is sane and definite. He does not generally emphasize the difficulties of Christian living, but rather the triumphs. He idealizes constantly. The "smile" on a soldier in the trenches counts for more than the sober piety of an orthodox church member. He is popular with the ministers and the churches, though he says some "hard things" about them. He goes about this in the right way, evidently, and they take it with good grace—and will no doubt improve under his admonitions.

THOUGHT IT WAS SUICIDE

A prominent merchant was discovered a few days ago brandishing a razor at midnight. His wife called for assistance, but found her Hubby was only paring his corns. Far better not to risk blood poisoning—use Putnam's Corn Extractor, 25c. at all dealers.

Baptist Re-union.—On Monday, October 20, the B. Y. P. U. of the Emmanuel Baptist Church will hold a re-union social. Various committees are at work and a good time is promised to all who attend. Fun begins at eight o'clock in the Sunday School room.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA

Is Caused by Thin, Watery Blood and Cured by Enriching the Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or in the face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The cause being the same, the cure to be effective must be the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but you can only cure the trouble by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose we know of no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood and thus act as the most efficient of nerve tonics. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and see how speedily you will be restored to good health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

JAZZING BY THE AVON

A friend had sent me a copy of The Stratford-on-Avon Herald, a paper that I have known as long as I have known anything.

I am not quite sure why my friend sent me this copy; perhaps that I might read, in some ten or twelve closely printed columns, the speeches of those theatrical enthusiasts who never cease to upbraid the poor old British public.

And I should have read the speeches had not my eye fallen upon the most delightful advertisement it has ever been my lot to find. The Swan of Avon himself might have drafted it and run it into type:

Stratford-on-Avon Boat Club,
The Harvest Moon Jazz
Will take place on the Club Lawn
Dancing 8 till 12.

I felt that I must be present, for it knew that the Poet himself would never resist the chance of jazzing on the banks of the Avon, beneath the harvest moon.

"Welcome!" I said, with all the respect that I have gleaned, in 40 years, from the Book of Snubs.

"Hullo!" he replied, suspiciously. "Who are you? A belated member of the Drama League?"

"I have not that honor, sir."

"Good. We don't want any high-brows at this stunt. This is fun, this is. See that girl with the dark hair down her back? I'm after her!"

How the Plays Were Written.

And after her he was, and catch her he did, and away they went over the smooth turf, and under the lanterns and through the willows, and out into the cool translucency of the harvest moon. When next I came across him, he was having a long drink with ice in it.

"And so," I observed, leadingly, "the festival is over once again."

"Yes, thank goodness! I daren't come out, you know, when that's on. I should be lost. They're all too clever for me. Blessed if I know what they find to talk about!"

"How best to educate the public up to the level of your plays, sir."

"Damme, that's just what I don't want. I know my public, and I wrote the blooming plays according. I shoved in something for everybody—love for the lovers, murders for the pit, low comedy for the gallery, kings and queens for the boxes! There you are! Any of you chaps can go and do the same!"

"But the poetry, sir? For which section of the public was that intended?"

"The poetry? Oh, that was to please myself—and any other crazy fellow that happened to stray into the theatre. As a rule, thank God, the actors didn't speak it."

"Why do you thank God for that?"

"My dear fellow, because they couldn't! Gave me a pain inside to hear 'em try! I didn't care. I got all the fun I wanted writing it. And the other stuff brought in the cash. . . . Hullo! There's that little dark devil again! I'm off!"

He was the life and soul of the Harvest Moon Jazz. And there were no speeches. Nothing happened but happiness.

The smaller a man's mind, the longer it takes him to make it up.

To the Shareholders:

We have audited the books of The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, at Montreal, Fort William, Winnipeg and Medicine Hat for the year ending 31st August, 1919, and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required; and we certify that in our opinion the above Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Company.

CREAK, CUSHING & HODGSON,
Chartered Accountants.

In his remarks to the Shareholders, Mr. W. A. Black, Vice-President and Managing Director, called attention to the fact that the profits for the year under review were less than those of the previous year by $322,898.26.

The Capital of the Shareholders invested in the business at the commencement of the year was $9,926,999.06, so that the profits of $1,632,516.58 represent 16.4% on the Capital, not including the Bonds. If the Bonds were included as Capital, the percentage earned would be 13.3%. It will be noted from the Balance Sheet that the Shareholders' Invested Capital at the close of the year amounted to $10,744,516.64.

Mr. Black also stated:

"As a result of the Armistice, there was a material reduction in the volume of business in all Departments. There was also a slight reduction in the percentage of profits on the turnover, which were a little under 2% as against being a little over that figure last year. This must be admitted as being a very small margin and would not make a reasonable return but for the large volume of business.

"The outlook now is for an early return to the sharp competition for export business which existed prior to the war. Duties on flour imports, which were removed in some countries during the war, are being put on again, with the idea of encouraging and stimulating manufacture at home to provide work for their people, and securing the wheat offals, which are necessary for dairy and general livestock feeding. It is most essential, however, that our own farmers and dairymen be supplied with the necessary feed for their livestock, and the Government may yet find it necessary to take steps to assist the mills in retaining a large export trade in flour if the dairying and stock interest is to continue at least on its present basis."

TAKING NO PART.

To the Editor:—In your issue of this date my name is mentioned as having entered the fight to secure the election of Mr. Barnard and the defeat of Dr. Tolmie. I would like to correct this impression as I am not taking any public part in the present political contest, nor do I belong to any political party.

My attitude in this matter is determined solely by my conviction that as a minister, I can exercise a greater influence in securing social justice and promoting the Kingdom of God, by not identifying myself with political groups as such.

CHINESE VOTES.

To the Editor.—Several letters have been published in the local newspapers with regard to the right of Chinese to vote in British Columbia.

The Orientals in Victoria have been allowed to establish themselves in various lines of business in competition with our own people. In nearly every street in Victoria, Chinese own and occupy stores and houses. Many situations that might be filled by returned soldiers and others, are occupied by Orientals. Now it is claimed that Orientals should have the right to vote.

Surely the Chinese must understand that they cannot have any such privilege, more especially since all foreigners, including Canadians are excluded from the same privileges in China.

Canadians and all other foreigners are not allowed to own any land in China; though we, in British Columbia, have been short sighted enough to allow what the United States refuses.

In the United States, Chinese can lease, but cannot own, houses and lands, neither can they vote in the republic to the south of us.

W. F. BEST.

A TUNNEL CONNECTION.

To the Editor.—Sir, I saw by your paper of the 16th. inst. that Victoria is most likely to have another steamship company operating out of this port, and using Ogden Point dock for taking cargo on; while that sounds good to most business men and others who are looking a little further ahead than a Japanese company, we hope within a year to see our own-built and controlled steamboats leaving and arriving at least weekly, for and from foreign ports with our raw and finished products.

The above remarks are a leader to the object in my taking up my pen once more to try and point ont to the Government and those interested in the upbuilding of Victoria and Vancouver Island in general—that is, the connection between Ogden Point and the Old Indian Reserve by tunnel. It is one of the most simple projects of its kind in the Dominion to-day and as observed by the eye would not be over 3,000 feet of rock to cut through, leaving the reserve a little to the east of the present Harbor & Marine Co.'s plant and coming out under St. Lawrence Street to the south of Superior Street and connect with the track now installed at the Ogden Point shed.

This work would employ a lot of returned men. Tunneling to-day is not the expensive work it was a few years ago. It is simple and inexpensive when it is practically all rock work is this project would be. This work, in my mind, is more to the people than the political football "drydock" and if the Victoria shipper is to compete with other parts of the world every cent saved in handling his shipments before they are stored away in Victoria built and owned boats, as well as boats of all nations, the better for us all. We can leave the drydock bone to the party hacks as a bone of contention as to who advocated it.

THE BRITISH COAL SITUATION.

To the Editor:—A week or so ago a correspondent in The Times threw out a challenge to all and sundry to prove that the reduction of miners' hours of work had resulted in a loss of "one pound of coal." In Wednesday's Times there is a letter by Mr. Donnachie, who quotes, and swears by, the Sankey report, said report "allowing 10 per cent. reduction, loss on a reduction of hours from 8 to 7." If we take Mr. Donnachie's revised output, which is 237 tons, as against 226 tons quoted by the English authority, we gather that the miner is producing 23 tons per annum less on the seven-hour day than on the eight-hour. We will leave the six-hour output for the moment. The reduction of hours is therefore plainly responsible for a reduced output of 23,000,000 tons per year, as Mr. Smillie, the would-be dictator, claims one million miners for his union. By the way, it is singular that one million British miners, all union men (and boys), should be required to supply the needs of a population of 45,000,000, whereas the same number of miners in the United States supply a population of 110,000,000; in addition to supplying a large export trade, coal from the United States being carried right past Newcastle.

Then he quotes Leo Chiozza Money as to profits on the mines. Leo always makes us laugh. We get too much Leo in The Federationist, although we are not told what price "per line" is paid for Leo's effusions. Moreover, it is Sir Leo, which title Mr. Donnachie conveniently forgets.

He quotes the profits from 695 collieries as being £160,000,000 during the four boom years, or £40,000,000 a year spread amongst 695 collieries. It is wonderful! Wonderful to think that 695 collieries can operate and give direct employment to one million men and indirect employment to another million men on such a profit. Mr. Donnachie, as business agent of the Carpenters' Union, can figure out the profit per colliery per year.

Let us suppose the mines were nationalized. The £40,000,000 profit would revert to the people. Lucky beggars! They would get less than £1 a year. Less per year than Mr. Donnachie has taken from every carpenter as initiation fee for being allowed to work at the shipyard, work which in some cases has lasted but a few weeks. Of course there wouldn't be a pound to share out the next year, because there wouldn't be any "capital" to pay wages. Plainly some wind-bags have been on the job and Mr. Donnachie has fallen a victim. Perhaps he will tell us if business agents will have to work when industries are nationalized.

HER EFFORTS WASTED.

A lady had a cook who gave her every satisfaction, and she was under the impression that the cook was equally satisfied with her place. But one morning, to the lady's intense surprise, the cook gave her the usual month's notice.

"Whatever do you want to leave for, Jane?" asked her mistress. "I am very pleased with you, and I thought you were quite comfortable."

The cook hesitated and fidgeted about.

"Well, mum," she blurted out, "the fact is, the master doesn't seem to 'preciate my cookery, and I can't stop in a place where my efforts to please are wasted; so I'd rather go, mum."

"But what makes you think that your master doesn't appreciate your cookery? Has he ever complained to you?" asked the lady.

"No mum; but my last master was always bein' laid up through overeating—he said he couldn't help doing so, because my cookery was so delicious; but master here hasn't been laid up once all the three months I've been with you, and that's just what bothers me so, mum!"—Tit-Bits.

A man was entertaining several friends to dinner, and was remarking on the excellence of the port he had recently purchased.

"I assure you, it's very good indeed," said one of his guests. "Forty-seven, I should say?"

"Wrong," said the host. "A shilling more and you'll hit it."

COMMUNITY SHIPS WILL VERY LIKELY BE BUILT IN CITY

Soldier Employees, Shipyard Officials and Board of Trade in Hearty Sympathy

CONVINCED CARGOES AWAIT WOODEN SHIPS

It was a whole-souled get-together meeting that was held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms, when representatives of returned soldier organizations and the Board of Trade, at its quarterly meeting, had a heart to heart talk about matters pertaining to the welfare of the city of Victoria and the country in general.

The continuance of shipbuilding and the proper housing of the G.W.V.A. in order that its powerful influence might be increased and used for the betterment of conditions, were the chief topics of discussion.

That the workers would supply $350,000 if the business men would contribute half a million to insure the continuance of wooden shipbuilding, was the statement of President Axon of the G.W.V.A. Mr. Axon informed the board that 3,000 men were out of work. Seventy-two per cent. of the men engaged at the Ogden Point yard were returned men, and at the end of November this plant would be closed down.

As for the securing of cargoes for British Columbia built and owned vessels, Mr. Axon asked "in what country's vessels were the millions of tons of coal and other British Columbia products being carried away from the Province, certainly not Canadian." He referred to the tremendously increased trade between this country and the Orient, and was satisfied that there were plenty of cargoes waiting for ships built here.

Comrades Slavin and Smith spoke on behalf of the Comrades of the Great War, the latter remarking that ninety per cent. of the Foundation employees would be willing to put up $100 or $200 for a shipbuilding proposition provided they were secured work for the winter months. Both representatives spoke very strongly in favor of a community shipbuilding plan.

Some discussion took place as to the value of the Shipbuilding Bill put through by the late Government as an aid in the present case, but though it was learned that this Bill could be renewed by Order-in-Council, the general opinion was that the financing of the venture could be carried on very well without the aid of legislation.

C. J. V. Spratt, of the Victoria Machinery Depot, called attention to the fact—if steel shipbuilding formed a part of the plans under consideration—that it would take ninety days at least to form the company, get out plans and specifications and get the material to go ahead, in which case this class of shipbuilding could not be looked upon as capable of bringing relief, so far as labor was concerned, this winter. It was explained, however, that only wooden ships were at present under consideration.

Edward E. Jenkins, assistant northwest manager of the Foundation Company, said that another sixty days would have to be added on to Mr. Spratt's estimate of the time required to commence steel shipbuilding owing to the steel strike. It would be at least nine or eleven months before anything could be done that would make an impression in favor of the working man.

Mr. Mead, of the Cholberg yard, called attention to the tonnage loss during the war, the loss in the sailing class being well over 1,000,000 tons, which was the class so essential to British Columbia in the lumber carrying trade. This class of wooden ships, therefore, was greatly in demand, and should be built here. It was the only economical lumber-carrier.

The matter was discussed at very great length, and President Cameron of the Board of Trade thanked the members of the deputations from the returned soldier organizations and the shipyards for the co-operative spirit they had shown, and promised that the board would do everything in its power to assist, and the committee on shipbuilding would immediately consider the whole matter in the light of the additional information that had been presented.

ASIA ARRIVING AT DAYLIGHT MONDAY

Big Liner Completing Trip From Orient; Arabia Will Dock To-morrow

Daylight Monday morning will find the C. P. O. S. liner Empress of Asia, Capt. Hailey, swinging at anchor off William Head awaiting the attention of the quarantine officials. This information was received by L. D. Chetham, district passenger agent of the C. P. R., in a radiogram from the master of the leviathan this morning. Capt. Hailey reported "all well." The Asia is coming in from Hongkong and Yokohama, and will tie up at the Outer Dock at 8 o'clock.

Seventy saloon passengers will disembark at this port. Some of them will remain here for some days on a visit, while others will connect with the steamer for Seattle for various points in the United States. The Asia also has a large number of Chinese, many of whom will disembark at Victoria.

Arabia in To-morrow.

To-morrow morning the O. S. K. liner Arabia Maru, laden with passengers and freight, will arrive at the Outer Docks from the Orient. The ship will discharge 600 tons at this port and will get away for Puget Sound ports late in the afternoon.

No word has been received of the O. S. K. liner Mexico Maru, which sailed from Yokohama the day previous to the Arabia Maru. The Mexico, however, takes three days longer to log the passage than the Arabia, and is not looked for at the Outer Docks before Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning. Radiograms are expected from the Mexico tonight.

Serbians Held.

The O. S. K. liner Canada Maru sailed for the Orient yesterday afternoon. The five Serbians who were to have been deported were held here following habeas corpus proceedings. The Serbians arrived two weeks ago and were held by the immigration authorities because they had not come by direct passage from the land of their birth. The Serbians were living in Constantinople when the war broke out and just before Turkey plunged into the struggle the Greek Consul in the Ottoman capital, who was looking after the Serbians' affairs, advised them to leave. They started through Russian territory and finally reached Vladivistok, where they sailed for Japan and later crossed the Pacific. The party consists of a family of five. Two of the boys speak excellent English.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. Pinex is a most caluable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Boston, Oct. 18.—The wooden steamer Ammonoosic, which has been in distress at sea for the past week, has been abandoned in a sinking condition, radiograms announced to-day. The crew was saved and a coastguard cutter and the steamer Issequena are bringing them to this port.

WHALERS ARE STILL MAKING BIG CATCHES

Season Is Being Prolonged by Good Weather and Plenty of Mammals

Whaling operations off the British Columbia coast will continue for a short time as the weather conditions are excellent and many mammals are being harpooned. Last week the three whalers operating out of the Kyuquot station took nine large whales. The skippers report conditions unparalleled for this season of the year and they have been instructed to continue operations until a break in the weather occurred.

Early in the month it was expected that the season would have closed about this time and the whalers would have returned to their winter quarters at Boint Ellice. The Seattle whalers which operated off the Alaska coast have been back on the Sound two weeks. The local vessels, however, have found the weather and quantity of mammals far ahead of the early part of the season.

When the whalers went to sea early in June they found the weather extremely bad and the whales scarce. These conditions existed till the end of July, when the weather improved and the mammals started to come inshore. Big catches have been made at the Queen Charlotte stations at Rose Harbor and Naden Harbor, but it is expected that the Kyuquot station will again lead in the catch.

The end of the month may see the first of the little steamers returning to port to pay off their crews and tie up for the winter.

New York, Oct. 18.—Bringing 255 passengers and the crew of the French steamer Venezia, which burned at sea last Monday off the Newfoundland coast, the steamer Chicago, arriving this morning with the story of the rescue of the entire ship's company from an "unlucky thirteen" lifeboat after the Venezia had been abandoned.

It took the Chicago's crew one hour and ten minutes after it reached the wreck to effect the rescue of the passengers and crew from the boats in which they had taken refuge after flames had enveloped their ship. By noon all survivors had been made comfortable and given dinner on the Chicago, and that vessel had resumed her voyage to New York. The Chicago first heard the Venezia's wireless calls for help when eighty miles away.

The contract was in excess of $500,000, it was announced. No reason was given for the suspension.

ANOTHER BIG PARTY OF COOLIES TO SAIL

Sixteen Hundred Reach Halifax and Will Leave Here on Empress of Asia

Halifax, Oct. 18.—The steamer Bohemian arrived yesterday from Havre with a Chinese labor battalion, bound from France to China. A few hours later two trains with 1,600 Chinese coolies on board pulled out of Pier 2 for Vancouver.

These coolies will be carried across the Pacific on the C. P. O. S. steamship Empress of Asia, which is due to arrive here on Monday from the Orient.

As fast as accommodation can be found the coolies are being rushed back to China. About 85,000 were sent to France to assist in road work and trench-digging behind the lines, and so far only a few thousand of them have been sent home. The Empress of Russia carried 2,300 on her last outward trip and the Empress of Japan had another thousand. The Blue Funnel liner Tyndareus, which left here last Monday, embarked 3,500 coolies at William Head, which practically cleaned up the vast contingent there. Less than 200 Orientals now remain at the quarantine station. They will probably be taken out by the Empress of Asia.

In order that the Asia may be able to accommodate the large number of Orientals who will cross the Pacific on her, alterations will have to be made to her interior. This work will be carried out while she is tied up in Vancouver by the B. C. Marine, Ltd.

Many thousand more coolies are expected to pass through here on their way back to China.

TO SELL BIG FLEET OF IDLE YANKEE HULLS

Seattle, Oct. 18.—Under orders is from the home office of the Emergency Fleet Coporation in Philadelphia, the Pacific Coast district headquarters of the corporation's supply is now ready to sell the hulls, sailing vessels and barges laid up on the Coast, it was announced yesterday. The ships are offered for sale to individuals and corporations. The orders from Philadelphia make it possible to dispose of any vessel in the idle fleet immediately.

A number of the wooden ships are assembled in Lake Union. Others are tied up in North Portland Harbor, Portland, and others are moored in Alameda, Cal. As additional vessels are completed, they will be sent to these moorings to be laid up pending their sale.

Vessels officially known as hulls only, including all those completed except for installation of motive power, are being figured on by private interests for completion as steamships and motorships.

Miss Flora Boyko Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Pimples

"My face was very itchy at first, and after that it was covered with pimples that disfigured it badly. The pimples were hard and red and they were small, and they were scattered all over my face and were so itchy I had to scratch and I could not sleep.

"These bothered me nearly a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when I had used five cakes of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Flora M. Boyko, Gardenton, Man., Dec. 26, 1918.

Having obtained a clear healthy skin by the use of Cuticura, keep it clear by using the Soap for all toilet purposes, assisted by touches of Ointment as needed. Do not fail to include the exquisitely scented Cuticura Talcum in your toilet preparations. Splendid after bathing.

TWO MILLION POUNDS OF FOOD DESTROYED IN VANCOUVER CITY

Declares Rev. W. D. Spence at Meeting in Support of Labor Candidate

Two million and a quarter pounds of foodstuffs were destroyed in a single Vancouver incinerator during the last thirty-two months, when the need for food all over the world was at its worst, according to Rev. W. D. Spence, pastor of the Congregational Church and Rev. A. E. Cooke's lieutenant in the fight against high living costs in Vancouver. Addressing a meeting of T. A. Barnard's supporters in the Crystal Theatre last night, Mr. Spence declared that the search made by himself and Mr. Cooke in Vancouver had secured evidence sufficient to "damn" the packers. Owing to the apathy and the opposition of the Government, however, he believed the commission now sitting in the Terminal City would accomplish nothing but the spending of tens of thousands of dollars.

A Knock For J. C. McIntosh.

Mr. Spence was introduced by E. S. Woodward, President of the Trades and Labor Council, and the delegate of Victoria labor at the recent Ottawa industrial conference. Mr. Woodward was surprised to learn that J. C. McIntosh, M. P., was supporting Dr. Tolmie after having sent a telegram to Victoria labor last spring, declaring that it was just and proper that the workers should be represented in Parliament. The chairman asked the audience to look at Mr. Spence and judge of his character for themselves, for he was sure to be maligned later, and accused of being a Bolshevik. It would also be wise, Mr. Woodward remarked, to listen carefully to the speeches which, he intimated, were sure to be garbled in the daily press.

Labor and Church Should Unite.

Mr. Spence explained his position as a minister of the Gospel on a political platform. "I believe," he asserted, "that the Church of Jesus Christ and the forces of labor should co-operate as they have never done heretofore to the welfare of the whole community. In the past," he contended, "clergymen may have been tongue-tied by interests represented in the pews. Labor men to-day need have no more distrust of the Church than the labor men of Galilee had of Jesus. I want to see reform carried out by the ballot. If I did not think Mr. Barnard stood for this I would not be here now. The whole trouble is that labor men are not sufficiently represented in Parliament to have their interests properly attended to. I believe that labor should have sufficient representatives in Parliament to hold the balance of power with any Government."

Turning to the question of living costs, Mr. Spence attacked the Borden Government for its action during the first years of the war in compiling exhaustive data on the reason for the high cost of living and then doing nothing to relieve the situation.

"During the investigations of the Board of Commerce in Vancouver, pursued the speaker, continuing on the same theme, "The Union Government had been requested by telegram to allow a chartered accountant to examine the books of a number of packing houses whose accounts were wholly unintelligible to the layman. The Government had wired back with promptness that it had no appropriation for this purpose—this after spending thousands of dollars on the other phases of the investigation. Without this examination by chartered accountants what will the Vancouver investigation amount to?" demanded Mr. Spence. "Only the spending of tens of thousands of dollars—that is how the Union Government is curbing the high cost of living!"

Speaking of the activities of himself and Mr. Cooke in Vancouver, Mr. Spence declared that they had secured sufficient evidence regarding the packers "to damn them." They had discovered through laborious examination of figures given them at the City Engineer's office, under order from the board, that huge amounts of food had been destroyed in city incinerators. They had found that between January 1, 1917, to August 1919, the total destruction of foodstuffs in city incinerator No. 2 had been 2,250,000 pounds. Besides the city incinerator, the speaker reminded his audience, there were others owned by private interests. Basing his remarks on these figures, Mr. Spence declared that a conservative estimate of the food destroyed in thirty leading Canadian cities in thirty-two months was 22,500,000 pounds.

"And the packers tell us this is a minimum of waste," observed the speaker.

Referring to Mr. Cooke's charges that a packers' "ring" existed, Mr. Spence declared that he had documentary evidence that a firm of Vancouver wholesalers who would not boycott grocers who reduced prices, were refused Ashcroft potatoes simply because "influential wholesalers" had stepped in and prevented the shipments.

"Middlemen"

"Yes, there are middlemen three to fifteen deep between the producer and the consumer," Mr. Spence continued, "and we have evidence that foodstuff that has never left cold storage was bought and sold fourteen times before it came out. As a minister of the same Gospel that Jesus Christ taught when God Almighty put plenty on this earth for man and beast, and when man destroys that plenty, I'm out to fight such conditions to the last breath! Such destruction should be a crime, and the maintenance of private incinerators where packing concerns can destroy as much as they like without anyone knowing about it, should be prohibited."

The Soul of a Vision

So then—
My part is ended. Other men,
And women, too, still play their part,
With courage resolute and dauntless heart.

My broken comrade—
Seared by scars that time can not efface,
Is not the jest of fortune; for his aid
A nation's mighty forces doth provide.

And those who live—
To carry on our story down the years,
Face not their "quiet days" in bitter pain;
(Forgotten, now they've stilled the nation's fears)
Dwarfed by the lust of pride and selfish gain.

My Canada—
Thou fair land for whom great love
Inspired my youth to ancient sacrifice;
Grant that our serried ranks in realms above
May witness bear thee, worthy of the Price.

To Pay Debts of Honour

To the Dead and to the richness of their dying, we must give pause, and in humility confess a debt beyond redemption.

Before the altar of their sacrifice, Canada is consecrated to make its dominion worthy. The Torch that illumines Victory so dearly bought, must burn eternally. Each year of peace must record an added lustre to our heritage.

But to those who have come back in suffering, Canada owes a debt which money can, in part, repay.

It is a Debt of Honour. Canada was pledged to the end, that the wounded and the sick be adequately cared for, until they were fairly fitted for the competitive existence of civil life.

For this purpose, our medical services, and our vocational training schools must be maintained until the need for them is no more.

Ogilvie Company's Profits Show Decrease

The report presented at the 13th annual meeting of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company held in Montreal October 9th, showed a considerable shrinkage in earnings as compared with the previous year. Profits for the year ended August 31, 1919, were $1,632,000, or $322,000 less than in 1918. The earnings for the year just ended represent but 16.4 per cent. on the capital of the company, or if bonds are included the percentage earned would be but 13.3 per cent.

Mr. Black, the vice-president and managing director, stated that there had also been a shrinkage in the percentage of profits on the tunover. This year they were slightly under 2 per cent as compared with slightly over 2 per cent. last year.

The large volume of business handled, however, had offset the small per centage of profits.

In speaking of the outlook, Mr. Black predicted a return to the keen competition for export business which characterized pre-war days and pointed out that the development of a big export business would be of untold benefit to the dairying and livestock interests of the country.

The old board was re-elected with Mr. R. R. Dobell, the company's western manager taking the place of the late Mr. George E. Drummond.

WALL ST. MARKET IRREGULAR TO-DAY

New Maximums Reached in Motors; Spotty Market in Balance

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, Oct. 18.—Another advance in the motor issues carried White Motors and Pierce Arrow up to new high figures at an advance of about eight dollars per share for the two-hour session. The balance of the market was rather uneven. American Woollen and Pressed Steel Car both scored substantial gains, while Southern Pacific and U. S. Steel were inclined to be reactionary. The market on the whole presented a strong appearance at the close and sentiment in brokers' offices favored the constructive side of the market. The weekly bank statement was considered favorable in all items.

NO "RAINY DAY" DREAD IF YOU HAVE VICTORY BONDS

When you have some Victory Bonds stowed away life seems different to what it did before you got them.

The dreading of a "rainy day" vanishes when you are secure in the knowledge that the "wherewithal" is immediately available should that day materialize. And besides, you have the comforting confidence that is yours because you have played a good citizen's part in the affairs of the nation.

You are kind to yourself when you buy Victory Bonds. Not only do you acquire that "satisfied" feeling but the rate of interest soon swells your savings, and you are justifiably positive that your money is safely invested. It could not be safer anywhere.

Buy Victory Loan, 1919, until it about "breaks" you. This time next year you will be that much ahead.

DOMINION UNITS OF EMPIRE NAVY

Jellicoe Reports in Favor of Each Country Maintaining Division

London, Oct. 18 (Reuter's)—The correspondent of The Times at Wellington, N.Z., says that Admiral Lord Jellicoe's report has been tabled in the House of Commons.

After quoting the Admiralty memorandum to the conference of 1909, favoring a single navy, the report says that this ideal is not obtainable and adds:

"Experience has shown abundantly that responsibilities in regard to naval defence are far more cheerfully recognized and shouldered if the result of the effort is apparent to those making it—in other words, if the ships are self-made by the people paying for them and are manned by their own kith and kin."

The general principle of the proposals is that New Zealand should co-operate in the naval defence of the Empire and assist Great Britain financially by paying for, manning and maintaining a certain proportion of the Far Eastern fleet and all vessels required for harbor defence of New Zealand, and also providing such portions of the personnel as practicable. The ships thus maintained would thus be in all essentials a portion of the navy under the suggested title of the New Zealand Division of the Royal Navy.

The waters from the Indian Ocean to Canada are one, it is pointed out, and all parts of the Empire situated therein are equally interested in the security of sea communications, therefore the defence of this ought to be entrusted to one fleet composed of units from these countries.

A high flag officer stationed at Singapore should direct the fleet. For its maintenance Great Britain should contribute 75 per cent., Australia 20 per cent., and New Zealand 5 per cent. New Zealand's ships should comprise three light cruisers, six submarines and a parent ship. The annual cost of maintenance and depreciation is estimated at £94,600.

"NOTHING GROWS THERE"

"Over by Sanctuary Wood there was a big fire burning. It was a bonfire of that brown, tussicky grass which has grown high over all these fields, where nothing grew, when I knew them, in the years of the war; and that brought back pictures of the time when that same place was ravaged by German shells. Otherwise the wide vista of old battlefields, bounded by the purple haze on far ridges like that of Messines and old Kemmel Hill, was tranquil and motionless, with nothing stirring but a few human ants prowling in old places of strife.

"This long wide belt of Flanders is a wound that remains unhealed, and the earth is branded by the mark of Cain.

"Nothing grows there.

"There are no leaf sprouts on the stumps of the trees that rise hideously out of the rigid waves of shell holes. The land is blasted where the trail of war passed over it and it is still one vast desert, haunted by innumerable ghosts."

So writes Philip Gibbs from Ypres.

Nothing grows there! How different from Canada! Canadians who have seen no other fields but our own smiling farms, cannot imagine the grisly desolation of those awful wastes.

Nothing grows there!

And yet, though at home our fields have yielded a righ blessed harvest—and thanksgiving is in our hearts—the hard demands of war still hang above us.

Though our boys whom war preserved for us that we might see them again and praise God that they are safe—though our boys long ago left Sanctuary Wood, and Kemmel and Passchendaele, and all those other grim, grey places about Ypres far behind, we of Canada are not finished with the war. War has left us many bills to meet.

And we can meet our bills. War's destroying marches ravaged no smiling Canadian fields so that "nothing grows there."

And to-day, while we speak our thanks, let us make resolve that our individual store of savings be poured into the coffers of our country, as a loan to victory, and as a measure of our gratitude that this land was not scarred by shell and charred by fire.

UNIVERSITY MEN'S BIG PART IN WAR

of a patriotic duty nobly accepted and nobly done," said Chancellor R. P. Bowles before a large audience at Victoria College chapel yesterday upon the occasion of a memorial service in honor of the sixty-five student soldiers of that college who were killed in action.

"No class of citizens gave so many members as the university men of Canada," he added.

Six hundred Victoria College students enlisted.

The man and the girl were discussing kissing, he declaring that a man could kiss a girl whether she willed it or not, and she maintained that it could not be done.

Finally they decided that the only way to prove their contentions was to try it. They did. The man won after a brief struggle and kissed the girl ardently for several minutes. Then he released her.

"Oh, well," said the girl, "you really didn't win fair. My foot slipped. Let's try it again."

DECLARES HE CAN POSTPONE OLD AGE

Dr. Verronoff, Paris, Has Plan For Grafting Glands

Paris, Oct. 18.—Dr. Serge Veronoff, who claims he can postpone old age by grafting interstitial glands, points out in an article in The Journal today that the internal secretion of glands, such as the thyroid and suprarenal continue alive for three hours after the death of the body, and he therefore advocates that bodies of young and healthy persons killed in accidents should be rushed to special hospitals where patients are suffering from curable maladies. He says the grafting glands could be grouped and put in cold storage, where they could be kept indefinitely.

"Unfortunately," writes Dr. Veronoff, "prejudices and law now prevent this. Our secular customs require that our perishable bodies be consigned to the earth, where they slowly and uselessly are consumed."

$1,000,000 STATION IN CITY OF EDMONTON

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—A station costing approximately $1,000,000 and a big programme of expansion will be undertaken by the Canadian National Railways in Edmonton, according to information received to-day. It is expected that the company will commence the station next year. It will likely be five stories and be located near the present one.

It is also reported that the company will build shops in Edmonton, similar to the Ogden shops at Calgary.

The programme has been approved and only requires sanction of the Railway Board. It is expected work will start in the spring.

A millionaire jam manufacturer, having retired from business and married an earl's daughter, was ashamed of the trade whereby he had piled up his fortune.

One day he wrote to a neighbor an impudent letter complaining of the way in which the other's servants were trespassing on his grounds.

The neighbor wrote back:

"Dear Sir,—I am very sorry to hear that my servants have been poaching on your preserves.

"P.S.—Excuse me mentioning your preserves."

"Oh, sir," was the reply, "I am glad to tell you we made a mistake. It wasn't a shilling—it was only a halfpenny!"

SAY AGITATORS' POLICIES MENACE AND NOT PRACTICAL

Hon. Dr. Tolmie and Others Deal With Political Situation

DENOUNCE RADICALS STIRRING UP STRIFE

A plea for good, sane, practical and conservative policies, instead of the visionary and revolutionary aims of the labor radicals was made by the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, to the electors of Wards IV. and V. in the Moss Street School last night. The lecture room was packed and many crowded around the doors and stood out in the corridors to hear what the Minister had to say.

Lieut.-Col. Lorne Ross, D.S.O., was chairman, and besides Dr. Tolmie, C. T. Cross and J. C. McIntosh, M. P., spoke.

"While the platform of the Federated Labor Party and Mr. Barnard's supporters may have a number of good points, what we want at this time are sound practical methods of dealing with the situation," said Dr. Tolmie. "This other scheme of Mr. Barnard's party will not be ready for a number of years unless Canadians change very much. This is the time for clear thinking and sane action.

Must Produce More.

"When you come down to it I will frankly say that remedial measures for the high cost of living are palliative. We cannot hope to bring down prices permanently until we increase production and bring it up near to what it was before the war. The high cost of living is not peculiar to Canada, but to all the countries of the Allies, in fact the whole world.

"Our production has been very short indeed. Owing to the tremendous upsetting everything is in an abnormal state. There have also been the tremendous demands to meet the requirements of the army. The two have placed our markets on the short side and this situation will not be relieved until we increase production."

The Minister said that England was trying to keep down the cost of living by buying wheat from Canada at $2.15 a bushel and selling it to her millers at $1.85 a bushel, the difference being made up by general taxation. He said the same thing was being done with cheese and butter.

He urged mixed farming with live stock to conserve the fertility of the soil in Canada, to increase production permanently and to bring down the cost of living. He declared that less than ten per cent. of the animals going through Canadian abattoirs were fit for export, as they were not up to the proper weight. This is all a great loss to the Canadian producer.

Every Dollar Invested Here.

Coming to statements made by Barnard speakers, Dr. Tolmie said: "When they made the statement that I didn't belong to Victoria I almost collapsed. I have been living around here for fifty years and have been shaking hands with myself for doing so. If I am not a Victorian I am not anything. One thing I am sure of and that is I do not belong to New Westminster. If you are not sure of my place of origin you may be sure my heart is here. Almost every dollar I have on earth is invested within three miles of where I am standing."

Dealing with Mr. Barnard's declaration that he would make Ottawa sit up and take notice if the people of Victoria would only send him there, Dr. Tolmie said: "You have to use respectable language in the House of Commons. If some of the stuff I have seen in print here was attempted in the House, something would happen. There is a sergeant-at-arms there and he wears a big bright sword to attend to men who do not behave. I have seen some other new members coming in who have felt just as strong as my opponent. But when they got into the House they found the hall too large and their voice not nearly as big as they thought it was. Their voice lost its sweetness and after blowing off for a while like a whale they were glad to submerge.

"If you did elect Mr. Barnard, no matter how much you might wish to get rid of the Union Government, you would not help in one way towards putting it out by putting in Mr. Barnard, as there is a Government majority there of between fifty and sixty."

Asiatic Penetration.

Dr. Tolmie told of the importance of a Cabinet Minister representing a community at Ottawa and of the greater opportunities for service a Minister had as compared with a private member.

"I feel that the Government was correct when it passed the amendments to the Election Act to prevent Asiatics from voting," the Minister continued. "That is a full stop in the history of this country as regards Asiatic penetration. For years I have tried to impress on Eastern Canadians the menace of the Asiatics but they failed to grasp the situation because they are not exposed to their competition as we are out here."

He went on to tell how Chinese, besides getting a foothold in the retail businesses on the Coast, have taken up alfalfa lands in the interior and have even penetrated the Okanagan fruit lands, displacing white settlers.

"It is just a matter of peaceful occupation by the Asiatics, and every man has a duty to think what this means to the next generation if we are exposed to the hordes from across the Pacific," he added.

Generous to Returned Soldier

"With regard to the returned soldier the Government has been very sympathetic. The gratuity in Canada is the largest of any country, the pensions are quite the largest and the land settlement policy is quite generous. But even then we have not reached the limit. I am glad the Government has appointed a commission which is going into the whole re-establishment question. Special attention is needed for the widow and those who are disabled. We cannot do too much for these people. My sympathy is with them and I will give them every support."

Use Victoria Docks

Dr. Tolmie said since coming home he had taken up the question of building more ships in Victoria. He has also discussed with President Hanna and General McLeod, of the Canadian National Railways, what is to be done with the new Outer Docks at Victoria.

"Both these railroad officials are very anxious that Victoria should come forward with some proposal for the development of these ocean docks," he went on. "If we can come forward with any reasonable proposition, the National Railways will give it every consideration and will go ahead with it."

Dr. Tolmie suggested the installation of facilities for handling oil at the docks as large quantities of this commodity in the near future will come across the Pacific. Coal facilities and a lumber assembling plant might also be installed.

"When we think of all the wonderful trade that is going to be established across the Pacific, Victoria should interest itself in getting its share," he continued. "The Americans are alive to the situation, and we should not be asleep at the switch with such important things are going on."

No Room for Agitator

"There is no room for the agitator, stirring up strife and urging the workingmen to abandon British methods and use force in gaining their ends," said Lieut.-Col. Lorne Ross, in his introductory remarks. "These men are seeking to transplant to Canada the Bolshevik methods of Russia under the guise of the O.B.U.

"These agitators do not realize the strength and sound sense of the people of Canada. I am sure that on October 27 the people of Victoria will demonstrate their stand for constitutional methods and their confidence in Dr. Tolmie and bury Barnard, Bolshevism and the One Big Union. This is no time to swap horses while crossing the stream. We want in power men of character and force. Victoria cannot afford to lose the service of men of the calibre of Dr. Tolmie. Barnard is an inexperienced man. In Dr. Tolmie you have one who has been tried and proven."

ALL THE CREDIT GOES TO MINISTER

J. C. McIntosh, M. P., Tells Electors of Victoria's Possibilities

The whole credit for bringing the new drydock to Esquimalt must go to the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, according to J. C. McIntosh, M.P. for Esquimalt, who fought at Ottawa with the Minister to have a site on the southern part of the Island chosen. Mr. McIntosh dealt with the situation at Dr. Tolmie's meeting at the Moss Street School last night.

"The money for that drydock would not have been voted or the plans drawn if it had not been for the insistent work that Dr. Tolmie has carried on at Ottawa for the past couple of years," said Mr. McIntosh. "If it had not been for the personal efforts of Dr. Tolmie that drydock would not have been located at Esquimalt."

Mr. McIntosh explained that the first site for the drydock at Lang's Cove was found to be faulty. With a dock of such a magnitude it was felt that the work should not be proceeded with until they were absolutely sure that the site was the best. Instructions were sent out to examine all sites at Esquimalt Harbor, especially Skinner's Cove and the site at the base of Signal Hill. After borings Skinner's Cove was found to be absolutely acceptable in every way. Mr. McIntosh said that before actual work begins at Esquimalt opportunity to tender, extending from four to six weeks, must be given contractors.

Bring Many Industries

"The drydock will bring all sorts of industries into Victoria," he continued. "It will centre the shipping of the North Pacific Coast in Victoria. You will find Yarrow's plant enlarged and many new factories established. Nothing has happened since Confederation to the city of Victoria as important as that drydock, and the main thanks for that are to be given to Dr. Tolmie."

Mr. McIntosh also declared that Dr. Tolmie also brought steel shipbuilding to Victoria. He explained that the conditions for shipbuilding here are ideal, as men can work 365 days a year, while in the east everything is frozen six months in the year. Canadian Vickers, Ltd., at their Montreal plant last winter consumed 60,000 tons of coal in heating their plant so that the men could work.

Need More Faith.

"I do not think the people of the City of Victoria have the proper faith in themselves and in the future," Mr. McIntosh continued. "If they did have that, we would not have things said on the public platform that we have heard said in this election. And we would not have an opposition candidate from New Westminster. I think in this election the people of Victoria will vote for the home product. Not only is Dr. Tolmie a Victoria citizen, but he has Canadian ideals. His ideals are not imported from Russia or Germany. If Victoria is to prosper, her citizens must have faith in their own. Now is the chance for Victoria to elect Dr. Tolmie as a minister of the Dominion rather than a private member."

Mr. McIntosh said that the greatest populations of the world bordered on the Pacific and the trade of the northern part of that ocean on this side centres in the Straits of Juan de Fuca and lowed down at San Francisco. Victoria is the natural distributing point for the whole of Puget Sound. He asserted that the Japanese are negotiating with the Canadian Government for the use of the outer docks at Victoria which will not necessitate their ships going to Vancouver or Seattle and save them five days on each trip.

He read over the pledges the Union Government had made when it went before the country in the last election, and declared that this Government had carried out its pledges to a greater extent than any other Government Canada has ever had.

"We are suffering at the present elections from the too free entry to Canada that has been given to undesirable citizens," he said.

The anti-nationalization sentiment is worked up by the C. P. R., he declared, because the C. P. R. is anxious to see the G. T. P. go into the hands of a receiver, so that it would fall as a ripe plum into its hands.

"The question now is whether the Government should dominate the country or the C. P. R.," he added.

THE WAY HOME.

He was going home and it was growing dark. His road from the station was a lonely one, and he was getting along as fast as he could when he suddenly suspected that a man behind was following him purposely. The faster he went the faster the man followed until they came to a churchyard.

"Now," he said to himself, "I'll find out if he's after me," and he entered the churchyard. The man followed him. Vague visions of revolvers and loaded clubs grew upon him. He dodged round a grave and his pursuer dodged after him. He made a detour of a family vault. Still the man was after him. At last he turned and faced the fellow.

"What do you want? What are you following me for?"

"Well, sir' it's like this. I'm going up to Mr. Fitzbrown's house with a parcel, and the porter at the station told me if I followed you I should find the place, as you live next door. Do you always go home like this?"—Tit-Bits.

When the busy little bee gets a load he goes straight home—which is more than any man can do.
